Reds, West Agree UN Session Is Success; Charge Made North Korea Has 580 Planes

Buildup Is Cited by Republic

Details Noted On Air Trainees

Seoul, Monday, June 27 (AP)—Communist North Korea has built up an air force of 580 planes—part jets—in violation of the armistice agreement, the Republic of Korea charged today.

The government said the North Korea Reds have three divisions of MIG15 jets, a fighter-bomber force, 15 air bases in operation and two more under construction.

THE ROK statement attributed the figures to two North Korean air force pilots who fled the Communists last week.

The Communist Korean air force now has 500 pilots and 25,000 men—with more being trained in Red China by Russian advisers and more planes coming in by rail, the government statement charged.

At the time of the armistice North Korea had no air force in operation and no airbases that could be used for warplanes. Any airforce or airbase buildup would be an armistice violation, since the armistice forbids any step up in forces over those in being on July 27, 1953—the armistice date.

The two pilots, Capt. Lee Un Yong and Lt. Lee Eun Sung, fled from North Korea June 21 and landed their Russian built Yak fighter at Seoul Airport after evading the allies' radar net by hedge-hopping at 50 feet. They were taken into custody by the ROK government. Today's statement was the first official account of the information they gave.

THE GOVERNMENT release, said the two gave these details:

1. The North Korean air force has three air divisions of MIG-15 jets, each with 92 planes; a fighter-bomber force and other planes to bring it to the 580 total, and is constantly expanding.

2. The North Korean army, once shattered by the allies, has been rebuilt into a 600,000-man force organized into 60 divisions in nine separate corps. At present, 21 divisions are at the front.

3. During the Korean War, both Russian and Chinese Communist pilots flew from North Korea. Russian pilots then flew as far as south of the Taedong river, which flows past Pyongyang.

4. North Korean pilots are being trained in China under Russian advisers in groups of from 40 to 80. Each man flies 150 hours in propeller engine planes and 300 hours in jets during the training course.

5. There are still more Chinese than North Korean Communist troops in North Korea, but the pilots did not know the exact number.

6. North Korean policy is to always say that the Allies are attacking or planning to attack the north but, actually the North Koreans "are planning an offensive—not a defensive." Incidents in the demilitarized zone are played up as Allied violations and North Korean planes have orders to fire on Allied planes.

7. Little actual reconstruction has been done in North Korea, except for transport and industrial vital to war. There are still no streetcars in Pyongyang, the capital, and citizens are told they don't need them "because all will have automobiles." Some

Peron Releases 19 Leaders of Revolt

Buenos Aires, June 27 (AP)—Argentina today released 19 leaders of the Radical Party who had been detained since the June 16 revolt against President Juan D. Peron's regime. Four other party members were still held.

Simultaneously, police at Eva Peron, in Buenos Aires Province in eastern Argentina, announced the arrest of two persons identified as Communists and two Radical Party members on charges of spreading rumors. The nature of the rumors was not disclosed.

THE RADICAL Party is the main opposition groups, holding 14 of the 166 seats in the Chamber of Deputies, lower house of Congress. All the other seats are held by Peronistas.

Among the 19 released is David Michel Torino, former director of the Salta newspaper El Intransigente. The Peron government closed that newspaper in 1950, and Torino was imprisoned for nearly two years on charges of contempt of court and fraud. Last year the Inter-American Press Association awarded him the "Martyr for Freedom of the Press" medal.

THE GOVERNMENT today lifted all remaining restrictions on flights of planes over Argentine territory imposed after the revolt. Commercial flights to and from Buenos Aires have been permitted since June 20, but flights by private planes and craft beloning to air clubs continued under the ban.

Yesterday, for the second Sunday since the bloody revolt against the government, police furnished protection for thousands of Catholics thronging churches in Buenos Aires. The worshippers knelt amid wreckage before improvised altars in churches damaged during the revolt and prayed for victims of the uprising.

The government has softened its public attitude toward the church considerably from the severe campaign it was waging in the months before the revolt. Both the pro-Peron press and the government have ceased their anti-church declaration. There has been no indication, however, that Peron might abandon his plan to have a constituent assembly elected before the end of this year to end Catholicism's favored status as the state church.

The foreign ministry reportedly has started talks with the Papal Nuncio here, Msgr. Mario Zanin, to arrange a working agreement between the government and the church, including Market Is Robbed in Upper N.Y.

Two Are Locked In Cold-Storage

Schenectady, N. Y., June 27 (AP) — Two gunmen held up a supermarket today and escaped with an undisclosed amount of cash after shoving the manager and the cashier into a cold-storage locker and tieing up two truck drivers.

The victims, who were not injured, described the men as a "Mutt and Jeff" pair—one tall and one short. Most of the loot was change, which the robbers dumped in large boxes that had held milk cans.

THE MANAGER, Peter Manno, said he opened a safe for the men after they had threatened to kill him and the cashier, Louise Frese.

First, the gunmen tied up the two truck drivers outside, at the rear of the market (Loblaws), police said. The truckers, Lawrence Russell, 38, and Francis Becker, both of Syracuse, were making deliveries before the store opened.

The tall bandit carried a "foreign-looking" pistol with a long barrel, the victims said, and the other a .45 caliber pistol.

THEY BROKE into the market by forcing their way through a wire screen and climbing over a wooden or half door, police said.

Shortly after that, Manno entered the building through the front door. The cashier followed and was stopped at gun-point.

When the gunmen tired to make the cashier open the safe at the front of the store, she said had no key. But she did,

Graduates Reminded Of Change

Rev. J. D. Dykstra Is Speaker at KHS

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra speaking at the baccalaureate service last evening at Kingston High School cautioned the graduates that, while they had been considered as children by their parents, and probably always would be so considered, their graduation from high school now marked a change in their world.

"High school graduation time means, if nothing else, that you are growing older. I emphasize it because I believe if some of us could have realized it at our own high school graduation we would have sooner been of more purpose."

"NOT EVERYTHING will be laid out for you as it has been. You will have to see responsibility and take it. Honor and truth will not quite so much be a matter of parents or teachers directive, you will have to see them in yourself and employ them, and for the first time you will have to think in terms of self initiative. The determination to win is going to be your own and that is why this is called commencement."

The world in which graduates go out is the same world, Dykstra said, "but you will be looking at it a little differently."

HE CAUTIONED the graduates that while the world is a world of opportunity it is a hard world and there may "be long shadows of darkness that lie across it."

"While there may be shadows, tension and problems, the world is not hopeless, it never has been. There are some who think it is, but they always make the same kind of error. They don't look at the lives of the people in the world as much as they look at the surroundings in which people live."

He said it was the people who make a world hopeful or hope-

Cashin to Attend Dinner for Harlan

County Judge John M. Cashin will attend a dinner this evening at the Harvard Club in New York city given in honor of Judge John M. Harlan, recently appointed to the United States Supreme Court. United States Attorney J. Edward Lumbard, Jr., who has recently been appointed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, will be toastmaster.

When Judge Cashin was head of the Criminal Division of the United States Circuit Court, Southern District of New York, Judge Harlan was named to that division as United States Attorney under Emory R. Buckner and assigned to the office of Judge Cashin.

Big Three May Propose Russia Consider Arms Reduction Plan

Dulles Gratified on Soviet Statement Of Regret on Shooting Down Plane

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, June 27 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France probably will propose at next month's Big Four Summit talks that Russia consider a formula for reversing the arms race in Europe.

The idea is one which Secretary of State Dulles considered with British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay during the past 10 days at New York and San Francisco.

Dulles returned yesterday from United Nations 10th anniversary ceremonies at San Francisco.

HE SAID he was gratified at Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's response to American demands for compensation in the case of a U. S. Navy patrol plane shot down by Soviet jet fighters between Alaska and Siberia last Wednesday.

Landing on an island, the plane burned. Seven of the 11 crewmen suffered burns or injuries.

The State Department made public yesterday a note Molotov handed Dulles just before both men left San Francisco Saturday. The Soviets said the airplane had violated Russia's "state frontier." The American government said Soviet MIGs blasted it in a surprise assault while it was over international waters. The State Department said yesterday there was "no possibility of error" as to the U. S. plane's location.

MOLOTOV also said there was an "exchange" of gunfire, but the United States said the U. S. plane did not fire.

However, Molotov expressed regret at the incident and offered to pay one-half the damage—an unprecedented offer in such cases.

"It is gratifying that he expressed regret," Dulles commented, "and at least expressed willingness to make some reparation, but it is not what we asked for."

Apparently he intends to discuss with President Eisenhower

5 New Polio Cases Reported

Albany, N. Y., June 27 (AP) Five new cases of polio were reported last week in the 57 counties outside of New York city, the State Health Department said today.

None of those stricken had received the Salk anti-polio vaccine, the department said.

The five compared with 12 reported in the preceding week and four in the corresponding week last year.

The new cases, for the week ending Saturday, were two in Chautauqua county, and one each in Albany, Putnam and Westchester counties.

So far this year, 85 cases have been reported in the 57 counties, compared with 64 in the corresponding period last year.

Council Has Rent Parley On Tonight

Committee Will Make Report

Rent control and proposed redistricting of the 12th ward are due to be considered at a special meeting of the Common Council at 7:30 p. m. today.

The aldermen might also be requested to consider a request for a zoning change in the 12th ward.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, in a letter to the council in May, proposed action on the rent control question before the June 30 deadline and his suggestion was left with the laws and rules committee for study and recommendation.

IT IS EXPECTED that the committee will have a report at tonight's meeting on rent control, and the 12th ward redistricting proposal will be at least introduced, if not acted upon at the session.

Kingston is among comunities in the state permitted to decide locally on rent control at this time. It will still be guided by state regulations, whichever course it takes.

THE MAYOR'S letter to the council May 3 noted that the question was one affecting "a great many people, both as landlords and tenants," and he asked the council to give it "serious consideration."

"If no action is taken at the June meeting," he said, "there will still be an opportunity, at a later date," to put the controls back into effect, if there are evidences of abuses of decontrol."

Sanford Leading For Chief

Eligibility lists for positions of fire chief and deputy fire chief were announced today by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford, of 40 Shufeldt street, scored an earned rating of 90.4, and Deputy Chief James M. Brett, 132 Wilbur avenue, a rate of 88.568 on the fire chief test.

Howard Myer, of 132 Emerson street, received 82.9, and Julius S. Buchholtz, 80 Hunter street, scored 81.8 on the deputy fire chief examination.

MEMBERS of the Board of Fire Commissioners were unable to state today whether action would be taken at tomorrow night's regular fire board meeting on the naming of a successor to Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who is due to retire at the end of this month, or whether they would act on the other appointments.

Listed on a previously announced eligibility list for the position of fire captain are Robert W. Hardwick, 90 Tubby street; Joseph J. Disch, 345 Broadway, and Robert F. Schatzel, 46 Grand street.

Hugh C. Greer, 22 Staples street, was the only one named on a list for the position of firemen as the result of an exam-

Diplomats Satisfied On Results

Progress Planned On Disarmament

San Francisco, June 27 (AP)—Russia and the western powers were agreed today that the UN's 10th anniversary session had been well worthwhile.

Both acknowledged that the week-long meetings had provided an excellent opportunity for diplomatic contacts and that the big power speeches had given each side a better understanding of what to expect at the summit talks in Geneva next month.

THE ANNIVERSARY session ended yesterday—just 10 years after the signing of the UN charter—with a declaration by its president, Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, reaffirming the determination of the 60 nations "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The declaration also pledged the UN to press forward with disarmament efforts which have just recently begun to make progress.

The session had a few rough moments, when the president wielded the gavel and cautioned restraint, but behind-the-scenes relations between Russia and the western powers were unusually cordial.

THIS WAS perhaps what Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had in mind when he said at his rare news conference Saturday that the meeting had "achieved positive results in view of the various talks and contacts that have been established."

In addition to a 4-hour meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, there were private talks betwen Molotov and each of the big western foreign ministers. His talk with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was especially friendly and cordial.

These talks resulted in complete agreement on the procedural arrangements for the meeting of the Big Four chiefs of government July 18. The UN disclosed yesterday that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had received a joint request from the four asking permission to use the Palasia Des Nations, the UN's European headquarters, for the meeting.

HAMMARSKJOLD, who will be in Geneva at the time, will take personal charge of the arrangements.

Another indication of the new east-west relationship was Molotov's expression of regret for the Soviet attack on an American naval patrol plane in the Bering Strait June 22. Such a gesture from Russia is rare indeed, and it was welcomed by other diplomats as a move to eliminate a cause for friction on the eve of the Geneva talks.

Leaving aside the sharp exchanges in the Dulles-Molotov policy declarations before the formal UN sessions, one high western diplomat said the San Francisco meetings had certainly been a useful exercise prior to the summit meeting.

ON THE BASIS of the speeches and private talks held here, this diplomat made the following observations about the Geneva talks:

1. The western powers not only are in full agreement on the policies, but have fully informed other friendly countries, including all the Latin American republics.

2. The Soviet government is sure to bring up the question of China, which includes both the

26 Die in State Mishaps

4 Guardsmen Among Persons Losing Lives

Albany, June 27 (AP)—Twenty-three persons were killed in weekend accidents in New York state, including four National Guardsmen from Connecticut.

But for a matter of 15 minutes, the total would be 26. Three teen-age boys met death in an automobile crash near Pulaski that was timed at 12:15 a. m. today. The Associated Press weekend tolls run from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight, Sunday.

Three Guardsmen were killed when their car crashed into a tree near the Camp Drum training center last night. They were:

Pvt. Walter H. Wozniak, 19, Pfc. H. J. Lane, 19, and Pfc. Robert A. Greenwood, 21, all of Waterbury, Conn.

Sgt. George Lawlor, 26, of Hartford, Conn., was injured fatally yesterday in a fall from a utility pole at Camp Drum.

Two teen-agers were injured fatally when their car struck a tree last night near Chatham, Columbia county. They were Herbert J. Smith Jr., 16, of Garden City, and Linda Mae Hill, 14, of Chatham.

Sugar Beet Crop Damage Heavy

Wyoming Rain, Hail Floods Towns, Roads

Torrington, Wyo., June 27 (AP)—Cloudbursts which dumped up to 20 inches of rain and hail on southeastern Wyoming caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damages to sugar beet crops in the North Platte river valley last night.

Towns and highways were flooded, communications were cut off, and many motorists were stranded as the storms moved through a 75-mile wide area.

However, no deaths or serious injuries were reported.

The National Guard was called out at Torrington as travel was cut off south and east of the city. The North Platte received thousands of second feet of water from creeks and irregation ditches.

Similar conditions were reported at Fort Laramie, Lingle and Guernsey, farther north in the valley.

The rain and hail cascaded down for eight hours before it stopped about an hour after midnight.

Shortly after, the Wyoming highway patrol reported the water had receded on U. S. 26 so cars could move from Fort Laramie into Torrington, which had facilities to accommodate them.

Sheriff Stan Hathaway opened the National Guard armory at Torrington to tourists and Red Cross officials provided food and coffee.

City officials shut off power for about 3½ hours last night after lightning damaged several transformers and other power facilities.

The Torrington Fire Department provided emergency power equipment to the Goshen County Memorial Hospital at Torrington after water poured into the institution's basement and knocked out its own stand-by generator.

Reports from authorities indicated most telephones at Guernsey, Lingle and Fort Laramie were knocked out. Golf-ball size hail was reported between Lingle and Fort Laramie.

Wicks Stresses Important Part Women Have at Polls

The potential strength of the women's organization in the coming political campaign was stressed by State Senator Arthur H. Wicks at an afternoon tea of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Saturday.

Noting the importance of the coming election, Sen. Wicks, Ulster County Republican chairman, reviewed the various offices to be filled, including county judge, district attorney, treasurer, coroner, mayor and alderman-at-large. He asked cooperation of the women's group in electing a Republican ticket.

Decisions to be made by county government in the near future include those in connection with erection of the proposed new office building near the County Infirmary on Flatbush avenue, solution of various parking problems, and county garage facilities, he said.

Nearly 75 women attended the tea, which was the club's final meeting of the season. Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks and Mrs. Frederick H. Stang poured. Mrs. Benjamin Chipman was chairman and introduced the speaker.

Several solo selections were given by Mrs. June Crosby, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. William E. Rylance. Mrs. Leslie Hotaling, club president, presided.

PRINCIPALS AT GOP WOMEN'S TEA — At a tea Saturday afternoon in the Governor Clinton Hotel, the last meeting for the summer, of the Ulster County Republican Women's Club, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, was guest speaker. Seated (l-r) are Mrs. Frederick H. Stang, wife of Kingston's mayor and Mrs. Wicks, wife of the senator. Air Force Preparedness Exhibits Are Seen by 2,300 Visitors at Dietz Field

Exhibits of America's air might featured Air Force Preparedness Day at Dietz Stadium on Sunday afternoon as more than 2,300 persons attended the program throughout the afternoon sponsored by the local Air Force Squadron.

Colonel Bernard C. Rose, commandant, 2610 Air Reserve Center, New York city, guest speaker, stressed the importance of the Air Reserve as a brake on aggression, and complimented those serving in its ranks.

Col. Rose also pointed out the advantage of courses offered by the Reserve to those who sign for service, courses that may be applied to enterprises in civilian life in many instances.

Jet motors, a B-29 bomber, identical to that which dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, an F-86 Jet Fighter, helicopter and air-ground radio were among the varied tactical equipment on display.

NARS Unit free radio messages to relatives in the armed forces anywhere in the world was another of the exhibits which attracted stadium visitors.

The First Air Force band, and Civil Air Patrol band of New Haven, Conn., provided the music.

The welcome was extended by Lt. Col. Willis D. Locke, AFRes-Commander of the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron.

Air Reserve medals were presented to the following members of the local Air Reserve Squadron: Lt. Col. Willis D. Locke, Lt. Col. Theodore R. Lee, Lt. Col. Otho W. Lutz, Major Edward V. DeGroff, Jr., Major John C. Salapatis, and Capt. Robert B. Cornwall.

Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly, representing Mayor Frederick H. Stang who was out of the city, welcomed the gathering, and read the mayor's proclamation of Air Force Preparedness Day.

The invocation was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

MOLOTOV also said there was an "exchange" of gunfire, but the United States said the U. S. plane did not fire.

However, Molotov expressed regret at the incident and offered to pay one-half the damage—an unprecedented offer in such cases.

"It is gratifying that he expressed regret," Dulles commented, "and at least expressed willingness to make some reparation, but it is not what we asked for."

Apparently he intends to discuss with President Eisenhower

Sanford Leading For Chief

Eligibility lists for positions of fire chief and deputy fire chief were announced today by the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford, of 40 Shufeldt street, scored an earned rating of 90.4, and Deputy Chief James M. Brett, 132 Wilbur avenue, a rate of 88.568 on the fire chief test.

Howard Myer, of 132 Emerson street, received 82.9, and Julius S. Buchholtz, 80 Hunter street, scored 81.8 on the deputy fire chief examination.

MEMBERS of the Board of Fire Commissioners were unable to state today whether action would be taken at tomorrow night's regular fire board meeting on the naming of a successor to Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who is due to retire at the end of this month, or whether they would act on the other appointments.

Listed on a previously announced eligibility list for the position of fire captain are Robert W. Hardwick, 90 Tubby street; Joseph J. Disch, 345 Broadway, and Robert F. Schatzel, 46 Grand street.

Hugh C. Greer, 22 Staples street, was the only one named on a list for the position of firemen as the result of an exam-

Council Has Rent Parley On Tonight

Committee Will Make Report

Rent control and proposed redistricting of the 12th ward are due to be considered at a special meeting of the Common Council at 7:30 p. m. today.

The aldermen might also be requested to consider a request for a zoning change in the 12th ward.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang, in a letter to the council in May, proposed action on the rent control question before the June 30 deadline and his suggestion was left with the laws and rules committee for study and recommendation.

IT IS EXPECTED that the committee will have a report at tonight's meeting on rent control, and the 12th ward redistricting proposal will be at least introduced, if not acted upon at the session.

Kingston is among comunities in the state permitted to decide locally on rent control at this time. It will still be guided by state regulations, whichever course it takes.

THE MAYOR'S letter to the council May 3 noted that the question was one affecting "a great many people, both as landlords and tenants," and he asked the council to give it "serious consideration."

"If no action is taken at the June meeting," he said, "there will still be an opportunity, at a later date," to put the controls back into effect, if there are evidences of abuses of decontrol."

Diplomats Satisfied On Results

Progress Planned On Disarmament

San Francisco, June 27 (AP)—Russia and the western powers were agreed today that the UN's 10th anniversary session had been well worthwhile.

Both acknowledged that the week-long meetings had provided an excellent opportunity for diplomatic contacts and that the big power speeches had given each side a better understanding of what to expect at the summit talks in Geneva next month.

THE ANNIVERSARY session ended yesterday—just 10 years after the signing of the UN charter—with a declaration by its president, Dr. Eelco N. Van Kleffens, reaffirming the determination of the 60 nations "to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war."

The declaration also pledged the UN to press forward with disarmament efforts which have just recently begun to make progress.

The session had a few rough moments, when the president wielded the gavel and cautioned restraint, but behind-the-scenes relations between Russia and the western powers were unusually cordial.

THIS WAS perhaps what Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had in mind when he said at his rare news conference Saturday that the meeting had "achieved positive results in view of the various talks and contacts that have been established."

In addition to a 4-hour meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, there were private talks betwen Molotov and each of the big western foreign ministers. His talk with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was especially friendly and cordial.

These talks resulted in complete agreement on the procedural arrangements for the meeting of the Big Four chiefs of government July 18. The UN disclosed yesterday that Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had received a joint request from the four asking permission to use the Palasia Des Nations, the UN's European headquarters, for the meeting.

HAMMARSKJOLD, who will be in Geneva at the time, will take personal charge of the arrangements.

Another indication of the new east-west relationship was Molotov's expression of regret for the Soviet attack on an American naval patrol plane in the Bering Strait June 22. Such a gesture from Russia is rare indeed, and it was welcomed by other diplomats as a move to eliminate a cause for friction on the eve of the Geneva talks.

Leaving aside the sharp exchanges in the Dulles-Molotov policy declarations before the formal UN sessions, one high western diplomat said the San Francisco meetings had certainly been a useful exercise prior to the summit meeting.

ON THE BASIS of the speeches and private talks held here, this diplomat made the following observations about the Geneva talks:

1. The western powers not only are in full agreement on the policies, but have fully informed other friendly countries, including all the Latin American republics.

2. The Soviet government is sure to bring up the question of China, which includes both the

4 Guardsmen Among Persons Losing Lives

Albany, June 27 (AP)—Twenty-three persons were killed in weekend accidents in New York state, including four National Guardsmen from Connecticut.

But for a matter of 15 minutes, the total would be 26. Three teen-age boys met death in an automobile crash near Pulaski that was timed at 12:15 a. m. today. The Associated Press weekend tolls run from 6 p. m. Friday to midnight, Sunday.

Three Guardsmen were killed when their car crashed into a tree near the Camp Drum training center last night. They were:

Pvt. Walter H. Wozniak, 19, Pfc. H. J. Lane, 19, and Pfc. Robert A. Greenwood, 21, all of Waterbury, Conn.

Sgt. George Lawlor, 26, of Hartford, Conn., was injured fatally yesterday in a fall from a utility pole at Camp Drum.

Two teen-agers were injured fatally when their car struck a tree last night near Chatham, Columbia county. They were Herbert J. Smith Jr., 16, of Garden City, and Linda Mae Hill, 14, of Chatham.

Sugar Beet Crop Damage Heavy

Wyoming Rain, Hail Floods Towns, Roads

Torrington, Wyo., June 27 (AP)—Cloudbursts which dumped up to 20 inches of rain and hail on southeastern Wyoming caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damages to sugar beet crops in the North Platte river valley last night.

Towns and highways were flooded, communications were cut off, and many motorists were stranded as the storms moved through a 75-mile wide area.

However, no deaths or serious injuries were reported.

The National Guard was called out at Torrington as travel was cut off south and east of the city. The North Platte received thousands of second feet of water from creeks and irregation ditches.

Similar conditions were reported at Fort Laramie, Lingle and Guernsey, farther north in the valley.

The rain and hail cascaded down for eight hours before it stopped about an hour after midnight.

Shortly after, the Wyoming highway patrol reported the water had receded on U. S. 26 so cars could move from Fort Laramie into Torrington, which had facilities to accommodate them.

Sheriff Stan Hathaway opened the National Guard armory at Torrington to tourists and Red Cross officials provided food and coffee.

City officials shut off power for about 3½ hours last night after lightning damaged several transformers and other power facilities.

The Torrington Fire Department provided emergency power equipment to the Goshen County Memorial Hospital at Torrington after water poured into the institution's basement and knocked out its own stand-by generator.

Reports from authorities indicated most telephones at Guernsey, Lingle and Fort Laramie were knocked out. Golf-ball size hail was reported between Lingle and Fort Laramie.

Wicks Stresses Important Part Women Have at Polls

The potential strength of the women's organization in the coming political campaign was stressed by State Senator Arthur H. Wicks at an afternoon tea of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Saturday.

Noting the importance of the coming election, Sen. Wicks, Ulster County Republican chairman, reviewed the various offices to be filled, including county judge, district attorney, treasurer, coroner, mayor and alderman-at-large. He asked cooperation of the women's group in electing a Republican ticket.

Decisions to be made by county government in the near future include those in connection with erection of the proposed new office building near the County Infirmary on Flatbush avenue, solution of various parking problems, and county garage facilities, he said.

Nearly 75 women attended the tea, which was the club's final meeting of the season. Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks and Mrs. Frederick H. Stang poured. Mrs. Benjamin Chipman was chairman and introduced the speaker.

Several solo selections were given by Mrs. June Crosby, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. William E. Rylance. Mrs. Leslie Hotaling, club president, presided.

PRINCIPALS AT GOP WOMEN'S TEA — At a tea Saturday afternoon in the Governor Clinton Hotel, the last meeting for the summer, of the Ulster County Republican Women's Club, State Senator Arthur H. Wicks, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Committee, was guest speaker. Seated (l-r) are Mrs. Frederick H. Stang, wife of Kingston's mayor and Mrs. Wicks, wife of the senator. Standing, Mrs. Leslie Hotaling, president of the club; Senator Wicks, and Mrs. Benjamin Chipman, program chairman. (John Crosby photo).

Air Force Preparedness Exhibits Are Seen by 2,300 Visitors at Dietz Field

Exhibits of America's air might featured Air Force Preparedness Day at Dietz Stadium on Sunday afternoon as more than 2,300 persons attended the program throughout the afternoon sponsored by the local Air Force Squadron.

Colonel Bernard C. Rose, commandant, 2610 Air Reserve Center, New York city, guest speaker, stressed the importance of the Air Reserve as a brake on aggression, and complimented those serving in its ranks.

Col. Rose also pointed out the advantage of courses offered by the Reserve to those who sign for service, courses that may be applied to enterprises in civilian life in many instances.

Jet motors, a B-29 bomber, identical to that which dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, an F-86 Jet Fighter, helicopter and air-ground radio were among the varied tactical equipment on display.

NARS Unit free radio messages to relatives in the armed forces anywhere in the world was another of the exhibits which attracted stadium visitors.

The First Air Force band, and Civil Air Patrol band of New Haven, Conn., provided the music.

The welcome was extended by Lt. Col. Willis D. Locke, AFRes-Commander of the 9267th Air Reserve Squadron.

Air Reserve medals were presented to the following members of the local Air Reserve Squadron: Lt. Col. Willis D. Locke, Lt. Col. Theodore R. Lee, Lt. Col. Otho W. Lutz, Major Edward V. DeGroff, Jr., Major John C. Salapatis, and Capt. Robert B. Cornwall.

Alderman-at-large Joseph Kelly, representing Mayor Frederick H. Stang who was out of the city, welcomed the gathering, and read the mayor's proclamation of Air Force Preparedness Day.

The invocation was delivered by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Martin J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church, and the Rev. Kenneth N. Alexander, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, gave the benediction.

Strand Woman Is Found Dead

Florence Brown, 48, of 17 West Strand, was found dead in bed at her home last night.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said today that death was due to a heart condition for which she had been under treatment for some time.

Police headquarters was notified at 11:23 p. m., Sunday that Robert Gray of West Strand had discovered that the woman was apparently dead in her home. Officers James Burns and Gilbert Gray were dispatched there and the coroner was notified.

Attempts are being made to locate relatives in Catskill, the coroner said. Funeral arrangements are to be announced.

Syracuse Woman Suicide by Poison

The wife of a Syracuse physician committed suicide by swallowing poison at a Pine Hill resort hotel during the weekend, according to state police and Coroner Michael A. Galietta.

Mrs. Charlotte Krombach, 52, wife of Dr. Julius Krombach of 130 South avenue, Syracuse, was found dead in her bed at the Pine Rest Hotel noontime Sunday, state police said.

A SUICIDE note was found, troopers said. Contents of the note were not disclosed.

Coroner Galietta issued a verdict of suicide by poison following an autopsy. Exact nature of the poison, which was taken internally, has not been established, the coroner said.

Hotel employes found the body when they went to call her after she failed to appear for breakfast, according to the coroner. She had been at the hotel for a week, and was staying there alone, it was reported. In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters. The body will be moved to Syracuse for funeral arrangements.

Marcus Resigns

New York, June 27 (AP)—Asst. Atty. Gen. David Marcus has announced his resignation effective July 15 after serving nine years in the Claims and Litigation Bureau of the State Department of Law.

Bones Believed From Cemetery

Bones dug up by a dog on a Pine street property over the weekend are believed to be from an old cemetery in the area that once extended beyond its present llimits, Coroner Francis J. McCardle said today.

Attorney John E. Gotelli, 157 Pine street, notified police headquarters at 6:42 p. m., Saturday, that his dog had dug up what appeared to be a "human skeleton."

Officers Julius Glassman and Special Gerard McCloskey were dispatched to the house and the coroner was notified.

The coroner said the bones and skull pieces found were definitely those of a human being. Other bones were found in the area Sunday, he said. Gotelli had traced the property back as far as 1890, he noted, and at that time the land was believed to be part of the cemetery. The Gotelli property is across the street from the cemetery.

Former Newsboy Heads Company

New York, June 27 (AP)—Henry Garfinkle, who started as a newsboy at the Staten Island ferry, has acquired working control and the presidency of American News Co., and its subsidiary, Union News Co.

Garfinkle obtained control by stock purchases made in association with more than 200 business colleagues during the last three months. They acquired about 250,000 of the 843,000 shares of American News Co. stock.

AMERICAN NEWS, world's largest magazine distributor, employs 16,000 persons. It is a 91-year old firm and has a record of uninterrupted dividend payments from the start. Last year its gross business amounted to $179,092,000.

Garfinkle, 49, of New York, is a member of the board of United Board & Carton Corp., and of the Greater Boston Finance Corp.

Garfinkle succeeds Percy D. O'Connell, who now becomes chairman of the board and consultant to the firm.

American News and its subsidiaries, including Union News Co., distribute periodicals and operate restaurants, newsstands and checkng facilities in railroad stations and elsewhere.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the changes, made yesterday, said Garfinkle will become a member of the board. Roy M. Cohn, former chief counsel for the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, was named general counsel to American News and its subsidiaries.

Garfinkle said the keynote of his policy will be expansion.

To Show Films This Week at Local Parks

Woman Dentist, 88, Dies

Spokane, Wash., June 27 (AP)—Dr. Fanny Z. Miner, 88, who claimed to be the oldest practicing woman dentist in the United States, died yesterday. She had been a dentist for 52 years. Dr. Miner, born in Missouri, once said that the "painless extraction" was the "worst thing that had happened" to her profession, because people always preferred "a painless extraction to a painful filling."

Lots of Help

Greensboro, N. C., June 27 (AP)—Henry Brosius leaves by plane today for Iceland, as good a way as any to escape the hordes who want to follow him for fat-salaried jobs. Brosius, a safety engineer, has been besieged ever since the Greensboro Daily News carried his want-ad for high-paid aides to help build Iceland air bases for NATO countries. He finally had to call on an employment agency to handle his dozens of applicants so he could finish packing.

Late Bulletin

Reds Down Trainer

Taipei, Formosa, June 27 (AP)—The Nationalist defense ministry reported today Chinese Communist MIGs shot down a T33 jet training plane near the Matsu Islands within two hours after Red jets attacked an unarmed commercial amphibian plane.

The ministry said the training plane plunged into the sea 10 miles south of the island group after two of them had been attacked in the area. The pilot was not recovered, the ministry added.

A U. S. army officer aboard the commercial plane, a Catalina twin-engine PBY, 1st Lt. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La., earlier was reported wounded in the attack but pilot Chen Kuo-Min said upon arriving here that none aboard was hurt.

Four Guardsmen

county killed a man and a woman.

Five others were injured, three critically, in the four-car crash Sunday on Route 104 in Union Hill.

The dead were Miss Roxie Ann Green, 31, and Willie Brazil, 25, passengers in a car driven by Samuel Dillard, 24. All three were from Rochester.

Dillard and Miss Johnnie Mae Moore, 28, of Rochester, another passenger, were taken to a Rochester hospital, where their condition was reported critical.

Robert Mathis, 42, of Wolcott, driver of another car, was reported in critical condition with a fractured skull at a Rochester hospital.

State police said the Dillard automobile apparently tried to pass another headed west, operated by Ralph G. Ansler, 23, of Union Hill. They said it sideswiped an eastbound car driven by Edward Farnsworth, 64, of Martville, struck the rear of the Ansler automobile, swerved back into the eastbound lane and was struck broadside by the car operated by Mathis.

Farnsworth and his wife, Bessie, 61, were treated for minor injuries and discharged. Ansler was not injured.

Memorial Post to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post and Auxiliary, Regular Veterans Association, will be held at 8 p. m., Thursday at the home of Cmdr. George W. Nichols, Bloomington. All members are requested to be present to transact veteran business and act on nominations for 1955-56 post officers. Delegates will also be selected for both national and department RVA conventions in New York August 22-24. There will be a social hour for post and auxiliary members after the meeting.

Speeding Charge

Burt Rabinowitz, 45, of Saugerties was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Harold E. Macholdt on a charge of driving at a dangerous speed after Rabinowitz' car collided with the automobile of Patsy Belsito, 48, of Lincoln Park, at the intersection of Routes 209 and 9W in the town of Ulster on Saturday afternoon, state police reported. Mary Belsito was treated for a head laceration received in the accident, according to the report.

Give Music to Pope

Shot Fatally After Argument Over Girls

New York, June 27 (AP) — A Harlem youth was charged with homicide early today in the fatal shooting of another 16-year-old in an argument over girls. Both youths were released recently from a correctional institution.

Three other teen-agers, all members of the gang known as "Noble Englishmen," were held as material witnesses in the slaying.

Police said Arthur Henley was cut down by a bullet Saturday night as a result of a quarrel at a high school graduation party in the Stephen Foster Housing Project. This was the second Harlem youth slaying in two days.

Charged with homicide was Joseph (Joe Louis) Johnson, 16. Police said he fired a single pistol shot into Henley's temple when the two boys left the building to "have it out."

Henley recently had been released from the state training school for boys at Warwick. Police said Johnson had left the same institution several hours before the shooting took place.

Arrest Two After Broadway Mishap

Two men were arrested, one on two charges, after a parked car was struck on lower Broadway early Sunday.

Lewis Lasher, Jr., 24, RD 4, Box 256, Kingston, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident, and Leon La Deaux, 32, of Lawrenceville, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

The car in which they were riding, it is charged, struck the car of Lorin Clearwater, 44 Broadway, which was parked on that street near Abeel street.

Lasher was arrested by Officer Hydrect Armstrong and La Deaux by Officer Harold Bowers.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today adjourned Lasher's case until Tuesday to permit him time to obtain counsel, and sentenced LaDeaux to the two days in jail which he had already spent. Bail of $250 on each charge was continued for Lasher.

The arrests were noted at 12:45 a. m., Sunday.

Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman appeared in city court today for the district attorney's office.

Three Thefts Are Reported to Cops

Three thefts were reported to the police over the weekend.

Ree-Laine Co. Inc., 82 Prince street, reported Saturday that the place had been entered and money was taken from a Coca Cola machine. Only a small amount of change was reported missing.

Albert Rasmussen, of 17 Mill street, reported at 9:25 a. m. Sunday that a camera and wallet were taken from the glove compartment of his car while it was parked in front of his house.

Paul Jones, of 219 East Union street, notified Officers Gilbert Gray and George Dohnken at 2 a. m., Sunday that his suitcase was stolen from in front of a tavern at East Union and Gill streets.

Market Is

and Manno told her to hand it over.

AFTER EMPTYING the safe, the gunmen pushed the manager and the cashier into a cold storage locker and told them to "stay there" by the gunmen, police said. The truckers were left where they had been trussed.

Police said it was not known how the bandits made their getaway. They left about a half an hour after breaking into the store.

The truck drivers then freed themselves and opened the locker for the cashier and the manager. The door could have been opened from the inside, but Manno and his cashier apparently felt it safer to stay put.

Police issued a 13-state alarm for the gunmen.

Peron Releases

a concordat between Argentina and the Vatican to regulate ecclesiastical matters.

CHURCH AUTHORITIES said if the constituent assembly separates church and state, the government would have to lift restrictions on the church before anything could be done about a concordat.

Other phases of Argentine life returned to normal over the weekend. With the weather balmy, thousands turned out for the first game in two weeks of their favorite sport — "futbol." Audience and players stood for a minute of silence before the kickoffs in memory of the revolt dead.

The presidential press secretariat resumed its showing of free movies for children at 30 Buenos Aires theaters.

Y Summer Plan Begins Tomorrow

The YMCA will inaugurate its 1955 summer vacation program for boys and girls Tuesday morning with daily morning and afternoon programs under the direction of Frank Rebello, new secretary of the boys and youth division.

Mr. Rebello will join the YMCA staff July 1. Until he arrives William Irland, Y physical director, will be in charge.

Each Monday a special trip will be made to an educational spot or recreation resort. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be devoted to the regular boys' program on the athletic field on Smith avenue, a building program and swimming in the pool. A special learn-to-swim program will be scheduled in the pool for all boys from eight years of age up. There will also be an advanced swimming class.

Wednesday and Friday mornings will be devoted to the girls' learn-to-swim classes. There will be four instructional classes each morning with an instructor in charge and lifeguards assisting. There will be a special swimming period each Wednesday and Friday at 1:30 p. m., for all girls who know how to swim. Lifeguards will be in charge and advanced swimming taught.

Rebello, Irland and General Secretary Lou Schafer are all qualified as expert swimming instructors with YMCA and American Red Cross instructor's certification.

Optimistic About Asia

Tokyo, June 27 (AP)—U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, embarking on a tour that will include Soviet Russia, said today Americans should be optimistic about Asia. "The picture is much more cheerful than we often get reading American newspapers," he told the Japan-America Society. "Asia has come a long way in the 10 years since World War 2." In an interview, he suggested that as part of an Asian settlement the permanent Chinese seat on the UN Security Council be assigned to some other Asian nation. He said the seat held by Nationalist China could rotate or be assigned to India, Pakistan or Japan—if and when the latter is admitted.

Ike to Visit Maine

Parmachenee Lake, Maine, June 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower, happy over a successful weekend of fishing, today gets an official welcome to traditionally Republican Maine from Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie. The governor, the first Democrat to be elected the state's chief executive in 20 years, will greet the President late this afternoon at Skowhegan, the home of Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Helen Keller 75 Today

Easton, Conn., June 27 (AP)—This is a summer's day much like any other summer's day at the white clapboard, green-shuttered gift home called Arcan Ridge. At least, that's what Helen Keller and Polly Thomson are trying to pretend. Actually, of course, it's Helen Keller's birthday, her 75th. And everybody, it seems, is determined to make it an occasion for tribute, for congratulations, for retelling the story of the woman who overcame deafness, blindness and muteness to spend a lifetime writing, talking and working to help others with similar handicaps.

Marilyn 1, Davey 0

Roanoke, Va., June 27 (AP)—The folks at a Roanoke theatre don't know who stole their property Saturday night but they're pretty sure it was (1) male and (2) no child. The stolen property was a seven-foot cardboard picture of Marilyn Monroe, skirts a-flying, which had been set in the lobby to advertise her newest film. Nearby was an equally big picture of Dave Crockett, king of the wild frontier. It was ignored by the thief.

Tobin Speaker At Port Ewen Graduation

Establishment of a goal in life, sacrifice, and understanding were pointed out as requisites in further education to the 10 members of the graduating class of the Port Ewen School No. 13 in a commencement address by James E. Tobin, guidance director at Kingston High School, at the graduation dinner June 23 at the Flamingo Restaurant, 9W.

"Commencement," Mr. Tobin said, "brings the completion of one achievement and the beginning of others. You must establish a goal based upon the knowledge and understanding you have concerning your talent, interests and ability."

HE TOLD the graduates they would have to learn to make certain sacrifices; to give up some things in order to prepare for the larger things in life.

"You will have to learn that honesty, truthfulness, respectfulness, dependability, courage, patience, tactfulness and kindness are the outstanding virtues of a strong character and above all else," Mr. Tobin asserted, "character is the foundation upon which you can build."

The guest speaker was introduced by Robert Graves, school principal.

Strand Woman Is Found Dead

Florence Brown, 48, of 17 West Strand, was found dead in bed at her home last night.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said today that death was due to a heart condition for which she had been under treatment for some time.

Police headquarters was notified at 11:23 p. m., Sunday that Robert Gray of West Strand had discovered that the woman was apparently dead in her home. Officers James Burns and Gilbert Gray were dispatched there and the coroner was notified.

Attempts are being made to locate relatives in Catskill, the coroner said. Funeral arrangements are to be announced.

Syracuse Woman Suicide by Poison

The wife of a Syracuse physician committed suicide by swallowing poison at a Pine Hill resort hotel during the weekend, according to state police and Coroner Michael A. Galietta.

Mrs. Charlotte Krombach, 52, wife of Dr. Julius Krombach of 130 South avenue, Syracuse, was found dead in her bed at the Pine Rest Hotel noontime Sunday, state police said.

A SUICIDE note was found, troopers said. Contents of the note were not disclosed.

Coroner Galietta issued a verdict of suicide by poison following an autopsy. Exact nature of the poison, which was taken internally, has not been established, the coroner said.

Hotel employes found the body when they went to call her after she failed to appear for breakfast, according to the coroner. She had been at the hotel for a week, and was staying there aloné, it was reported. In addition to her husband, she is survived by two daughters. The body will be moved to Syracuse for funeral arrangements.

Bones Believed From Cemetery

Bones dug up by a dog on a Pine street property over the weekend are believed to be from an old cemetery in the area that once extended beyond its present limits, Coroner Francis J. McCardle said today.

Attorney John E. Gotelli, 157 Pine street, notified police headquarters at 6:42 p. m., Saturday, that his dog had dug up what appeared to be a "human skeleton."

Officers Julius Glassman and Special Gerard McCloskey were dispatched to the house and the coroner was notified.

The coroner said the bones and skull pieces found were definitely those of a human being. Other bones were found in the area Sunday, he said. Gotelli had traced the property back as far as 1890, he noted, and at that time the land was believed to be part of the cemetery. The Gotelli property is across the street from the cemetery.

Former Newsboy Heads Company

New York, June 27 (AP)—Henry Garfinkle, who started as a newsboy at the Staten Island ferry, has acquired working control and the presidency of American News Co., and its subsidiary, Union News Co.

Garfinkle obtained control by stock purchases made in association with more than 200 business colleagues during the last three months. They acquired about 250,000 of the 843,000 shares of American News Co. stock.

AMERICAN NEWS, world's largest magazine distributor, employs 16,000 persons. It is a 91-year old firm and has a record of uninterrupted dividend payments from the start. Last year its gross business amounted to $179,092,000.

Garfinkle, 49, of New York, is a member of the board of United Board & Carton Corp., and of the Greater Boston Finance Corp.

Garfinkle succeeds Percy D. O'Connell, who now becomes chairman of the board and consultant to the firm.

American News and its subsidiaries, including Union News Co., distribute periodicals and operate restaurants, newsstands and checkng facilities in railroad stations and elsewhere.

ANNOUNCEMENT of the changes, made yesterday, said Garfinkle will become a member of the board. Roy M. Cohn, former chief counsel for the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, was named general counsel to American News and its subsidiaries.

Garfinkle said the keynote of his policy will be expansion.

To Show Films This Week at Local Parks

Evening activities sponsored by the Kingston Recreation Department begin this week with movies at local parks.

The feature film, Fair Wind to Java, will be shown at Block Park tonight, beginning at dusk. It will be shown at Forsyth Park Tuesday and Hutton Park Wednesday. The film stars Fred MacMurray and Vera Ralston and is set in the Pacific area during the mid-Eighteenth Century.

Woman Dentist, 88, Dies

Spokane, Wash., June 27 (AP)—Dr. Fanny Z. Miner, 88, who claimed to be the oldest practicing woman dentist in the United States, died yesterday. She had been a dentist for 52 years. Dr. Miner, born in Missouri, once said that the "painless extraction" was the "worst thing that had happened" to her profession, because people always preferred "a painless extraction to a painful filling."

Lots of Help

Greensboro, N. C., June 27 (AP)—Henry Brosius leaves by plane today for Iceland, as good a way as any to escape the hordes who want to follow him for fat-salaried jobs. Brosius, a safety engineer, has been besieged ever since the Greensboro Daily News carried his want-ad for high-paid aides to help build Iceland air bases for NATO countries. He finally had to call on an employment agency to handle his dozens of applicants so he could finish packing.

Reds Down Trainer

Taipei, Formosa, June 27 (AP)—The Nationalist defense ministry reported today Chinese Communist MIGs shot down a T33 jet training plane near the Matsu Islands within two hours after Red jets attacked an unarmed commercial amphibian plane.

The ministry said the training plane plunged into the sea 10 miles south of the island group after two of them had been attacked in the area. The pilot was not recovered, the ministry added.

A U. S. army officer aboard the commercial plane, a Catalina twin-engine PBY, 1st Lt. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La., earlier was reported wounded in the attack but pilot Chen Kuo-Min said upon arriving here that none aboard was hurt.

county killed a man and a woman.

Five others were injured, three critically, in the four-car crash Sunday on Route 104 in Union Hill.

The dead were Miss Roxie Ann Green, 31, and Willie Brazil, 25, passengers in a car driven by Samuel Dillard, 24. All three were from Rochester.

Dillard and Miss Johnnie Mae Moore, 28, of Rochester, another passenger, were taken to a Rochester hospital, where their condition was reported critical.

Robert Mathis, 42, of Wolcott, driver of another car, was reported in critical condition with a fractured skull at a Rochester hospital.

State police said the Dillard automobile apparently tried to pass another headed west, operated by Ralph G. Ansler, 23, of Union Hill. They said it sideswiped an eastbound car driven by Edward Farnsworth, 64, of Martville, struck the rear of the Ansler automobile, swerved back into the eastbound lane and was struck broadside by the car operated by Mathis.

Farnsworth and his wife, Bessie, 61, were treated for minor injuries and discharged. Ansler was not injured.

Memorial Post to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of Ulster County Memorial Post and Auxiliary, Regular Veterans Association, will be held at 8 p. m., Thursday at the home of Cmdr. George W. Nichols, Bloomington. All members are requested to be present to transact veteran business and act on nominations for 1955-56 post officers. Delegates will also be selected for both national and department RVA conventions in New York August 22-24. There will be a social hour for post and auxiliary members after the meeting.

Speeding Charge

Burt Rabinowitz, 45, of Saugerties was fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Harold E. Macholdt on a charge of driving at a dangerous speed after Rabinowitz' car collided with the automobile of Patsy Belsito, 48, of Lincoln Park, at the intersection of Routes 209 and 9W in the town of Ulster on Saturday afternoon, state police reported. Mary Belsito was treated for a head laceration received in the accident, according to the report.

Give Music to Pope

Shot Fatally After Argument Over Girls

New York, June 27 (AP) — A Harlem youth was charged with homicide early today in the fatal shooting of another 16-year-old in an argument over girls. Both youths were released recently from a correctional institution.

Three other teen-agers, all members of the gang known as "Noble Englishmen," were held as material witnesses in the slaying.

Police said Arthur Henley was cut down by a bullet Saturday night as a result of a quarrel at a high school graduation party in the Stephen Foster Housing Project. This was the second Harlem youth slaying in two days.

Charged with homicide was Joseph (Joe Louis) Johnson, 16. Police said he fired a single pistol shot into Henley's temple when the two boys left the building to "have it out."

Henley recently had been released from the state training school for boys at Warwick. Police said Johnson had left the same institution several hours before the shooting took place.

Arrest Two After Broadway Mishap

Two men were arrested, one on two charges, after a parked car was struck on lower Broadway early Sunday.

Lewis Lasher, Jr., 24, RD 4, Box 256, Kingston, was arrested on charges of driving while intoxicated and leaving the scene of an accident, and Leon La Deaux, 32, of Lawrenceville, was arrested on a charge of public intoxication.

The car in which they were riding, it is charged, struck the car of Lorin Clearwater, 44 Broadway, which was parked on that street near Abeel street.

Lasher was arrested by Officer Hydrect Armstrong and La Deaux by Officer Harold Bowers.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino today adjourned Lasher's case until Tuesday to permit him time to obtain counsel, and sentenced LaDeaux to the two days in jail which he had already spent. Bail of $250 on each charge was continued for Lasher.

The arrests were noted at 12:45 a. m., Sunday.

Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman appeared in city court today for the district attorney's office.

Three Thefts Are Reported to Cops

Three thefts were reported to the police over the weekend.

Ree-Laine Co. Inc., 82 Prince street, reported Saturday that the place had been entered and money was taken from a Coca Cola machine. Only a small amount of change was reported missing.

Albert Rasmussen, of 17 Mill street, reported at 9:25 a. m. Sunday that a camera and wallet were taken from the glove compartment of his car while it was parked in front of his house.

Paul Jones, of 219 East Union street, notified Officers Gilbert Gray and George Dohnken at 2 a. m., Sunday that his suitcase was stolen from in front of a tavern at East Union and Gill streets.

Market Is

and Manno told her to hand it over.

AFTER EMPTYING the safe, the gunmen pushed the manager and the cashier into a cold storage locker and told them to "stay there" by the gunmen, police said. The truckers were left where they had been trussed.

Police said it was not known how the bandits made their getaway. They left about a half an hour after breaking into the store.

The truck drivers then freed themselves and opened the locker for the cashier and the manager. The door could have been opened from the inside, but Manno and his cashier apparently felt it safer to stay put.

Police issued a 13-state alarm for the gunmen.

Peron Releases

a concordat between Argentina and the Vatican to regulate ecclesiastical matters.

CHURCH AUTHORITIES said if the constituent assembly separates church and state, the government would have to lift restrictions on the church before anything could be done about a concordat.

Other phases of Argentine life returned to normal over the weekend. With the weather balmy, thousands turned out for the first game in two weeks of their favorite sport — "futbol." Audience and players stood for a minute of silence before the kickoffs in memory of the revolt dead.

The presidential press secretariat resumed its showing of free movies for children at 30 Buenos Aires theaters.

Y Summer Plan Begins Tomorrow

The YMCA will inaugurate its 1955 summer vacation program for boys and girls Tuesday morning with daily morning and afternoon programs under the direction of Frank Rebello, new secretary of the boys and youth division.

Mr. Rebello will join the YMCA staff July 1. Until he arrives William Irland, Y physical director, will be in charge.

Each Monday a special trip will be made to an educational spot or recreation resort. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be devoted to the regular boys' program on the athletic field on Smith avenue, a building program and swimming in the pool. A special learn-to-swim program will be scheduled in the pool for all boys from eight years of age up. There will also be an advanced swimming class.

Wednesday and Friday mornings will be devoted to the girls' learn-to-swim classes. There will be four instructional classes each morning with an instructor in charge and lifeguards assisting. There will be a special swimming period each Wednesday and Friday at 1:30 p. m., for all girls who know how to swim. Lifeguards will be in charge and advanced swimming taught.

Rebello, Irland and General Secretary Lou Schafer are all qualified as expert swimming instructors with YMCA and American Red Cross instructor's certification.

Optimistic About Asia

Tokyo, June 27 (AP)—U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, embarking on a tour that will include Soviet Russia, said today Americans should be optimistic about Asia. "The picture is much more cheerful than we often get reading American newspapers," he told the Japan-America Society. "Asia has come a long way in the 10 years since World War 2." In an interview, he suggested that as part of an Asian settlement the permanent Chinese seat on the UN Security Council be assigned to some other Asian nation. He said the seat held by Nationalist China could rotate or be assigned to India, Pakistan or Japan—if and when the latter is admitted.

Ike to Visit Maine

Parmachenee Lake, Maine, June 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower, happy over a successful weekend of fishing, today gets an official welcome to traditionally Republican Maine from Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie. The governor, the first Democrat to be elected the state's chief executive in 20 years, will greet the President late this afternoon at Skowhegan, the home of Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Helen Keller 75 Today

Easton, Conn., June 27 (AP)—This is a summer's day much like any other summer's day at the white clapboard, green-shuttered gift home called Arcan Ridge. At least, that's what Helen Keller and Polly Thomson are trying to pretend. Actually, of course, it's Helen Keller's birthday, her 75th. And everybody, it seems, is determined to make it an occasion for tribute, for congratulations, for retelling the story of the woman who overcame deafness, blindness and muteness to spend a lifetime writing, talking and working to help others with similar handicaps.

Marilyn 1, Davey 0

Roanoke, Va., June 27 (AP)—The folks at a Roanoke theatre don't know who stole their property Saturday night but they're pretty sure it was (1) male and (2) no child. The stolen property was a seven-foot cardboard picture of Marilyn Monroe, skirts a-flying, which had been set in the lobby to advertise her newest film. Nearby was an equally big picture of Dave Crockett, king of the wild frontier. It was ignored by the thief.

Tobin Speaker At Port Ewen Graduation

Establishment of a goal in life, sacrifice, and understanding were pointed out as requisites in further education to the 10 members of the graduating class of the Port Ewen School No. 13 in a commencement address by James E. Tobin, guidance director at Kingston High School, at the graduation dinner June 23 at the Flamingo Restaurant, 9W.

"Commencement," Mr. Tobin said, "brings the completion of one achievement and the beginning of others. You must establish a goal based upon the knowledge and understanding you have concerning your talent, interests and ability."

HE TOLD the graduates they would have to learn to make certain sacrifices; to give up some things in order to prepare for the larger things in life.

"You will have to learn that honesty, truthfulness, respectfulness, dependability, courage, patience, tactfulness and kindness are the outstanding virtues of a strong character and above all else," Mr. Tobin asserted, "character is the foundation upon which you can build."

The guest speaker was introduced by Robert Graves, school principal.

Test Vending Machines as Milk Seller

Washington, June 27 (AP)—Do vending machines increase milk sales? The Agriculture Department thinks so and is going to try to prove it.

Replying to an inquiry by Rep. Westland (R.-Wash.), the department said it hopes to get a test of milk-dispensing machines under way in two Pennsylvania communities within a month.

Although it has picked the cities, the department isn't naming them until all the details are nailed down.

Purpose of the study is to determine just what effect the vending machines will have on milk consumption in a given area. The department expects test records will show up to a five per cent boost in milk use.

coin-operated machines selling milk in half pint and pint cartons will be set up in industrial plants and other public areas. Quarts and half gallons will be sold in apartment house areas.

Chocolate milk will be sold in some areas for variety while on occasion milk and orange drinks may be vended through the same machine.

"We hope to prove," Dwoskin said, "that the public will definitely accept fresh cold milk as a refreshment as readily as other beverages."

Policeman Denies Tie With Holdups

Miami, Fla., June 27 (AP) — A young uniformed motorcycle policeman, arrested for investigation of a series of holdups, has denied he was the brains of a gang of four men.

Peter V. Balma, 27, was called in by Police Chief Walter Headley and suspended. Then he was arrested by Police Capt. Chester Eldredge Saturday night.

Police also arrested Gerald Casselli, 42, on the same charge.

The arrests followed the story of a third man, Leroy Horne, now in state prison at Deland.

HORNE TOLD Jane Wood, a Miami Daily News reporter, and Eldredge that Balma was the brains of a gang which pulled four holdups last year.

His story also named another policeman, Lewis Womack, who was killed in an unexplained boat explosion last year. Eldredge said two other men, not policemen, have been ordered arrested, and said they were not now in town.

Balma, after his arrest, said the charges were "lies." His attorney promised, "Everything will be explained."

ELDREDGE SAID, "We've practically got an air-tight case. I'd bet on it."

Horne, serving 10 years on conviction of an attempted holdup, said he told the story because his conscience was hurting him.

Horne said he and Casselli staged the four holdups with Balma's help. The biggest was the $4,000 robbery of a Miami insurance company Feb. 18 last year. The other three netted the robbers a total of $800.

Manhattan DA Advises Changes In Teen Cases

New York, June 27 (AP)—Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan says he is encouraged by efforts to save juvenile offenders from a life of crime but deplores the lack of adequate facilities for the job.

Discussing the problem of youthful lawbreakers in a report covering the work of his office over the past six years, Hogan said yesterday his office takes a "humane and, at the same time, realistic" approach to adolescent crime.

HOGAN SAID his office uses as much as possible a 1943 law that revised treatment of juvenile offenders to give a second chance to hopeful cases. "The results have been encouraging," he commented.

Since the law was put into effect an average of 61 per cent of young offenders have not been convicted of a crime in the following five years, Hogan reported. This is an appreciably better record than before 1943, he added.

To do a still better job, Hogan urged speedier examination and diagnosis of all arrested youths and improved quarters for their detention.

THE PRESENT system brings a delay between arrest and disposition of a case that sometimes lasts from six weeks to six months, Hogan said. This destroys the effect that swift punishment might have, he added, and makes readjustment less likely than if remedial steps were started quickly.

He suggested that a special youth court operating every weekday and adequately equipped with probation, psychiatric and medical personnel might solve this problem.

IN ANY EVENT, he added, the city should provide early screening of arrested youths and improve detention facilities, now characterized by "idleness, lack of constructive supervision and the opportunity to exchange information on criminal techniques and narcotics sources."

The report called the illegal sale of narcotics "perhaps the most heinous of underworld operations" and said there is increasing concern about addiction among juveniles.

In 1949, it said, 45 young addicts were arrested. By 1951 the number had risen to 353 for that year alone.

Harmonica Star Dies

Paris, June 27 (AP)—Borrah Minnevitch, 52, leader of the "Harmonica Rascals" who played in vaudeville theatres throughout the United States, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage at the American Hospital in suburban Neuilly. Minnevitch was stricken while driving with his wife, the former Lucille Little Taylor. He had been living in Paris since 1947, producing films and operating a night club. His daughter, Lydia, lives in Los Angeles, Calif.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Wives, take good care of your hubbies. Even as nothing but money machines, they are getting more valuable every year. They not only earn more, but have more years to earn than your Pa did.

Mr. Hutton

Since 1900, average life expectancy has gone up nineteen years. Most of the gains have come from the conquest of children's diseases. Nevertheless, a boy who has survived to age twenty, has four more working years ahead of him than "Grampa" had when he was twenty.

The Institute of Life Insurance tells us that a young Lochinvar of twenty has an average work life ahead of him before retirement of more than forty-three years. At present factory pay, and without any promotions, this money machine that grunts and smokes and dumps his ashes on the floor, will earn $160,000 before he retires. And from that amount, on up.

So treat your human engine well, ladies. Stoke his furnace with the right "fixin's." Keep him well oiled and greased; lipstick helps. "Happiness is added life."

But remember that you, two will also have more retirement years than grandpa and grandma had. So don't fritter the "take home" away. Keep tucking some of it in the old sock as the fleeting years slip by.

3 Teen-agers Die In Auto Accident

Pulaski, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Three teen-agers were killed and three others were injured, one critically, early today when their automobile plunged into a creek off a country road near here.

State police said all six, members of the junior class at Pulaski Central School, were returning from a beach resort near this central New York community when the accident occurred about 12:15 a. m. (EDT).

Troopers listed the dead as Lawrence Archer, 17, of Pulaski; Dennis Ingersoll, 16, of Pulaski; and Richard Long, 17, of Richland.

IN CRITICAL condition at Oswego Hospital was Frank Ostrander Jr. State police said he was believed to have been the driver.

Also hospitalized, but not so seriously injured, were Harlow Duton, 17, of Fernwood Corners, and Fred Hall, 17, of Fernwood.

State police said the automobile failed to make a left turn, left the road at an entrance to a bridge and crashed down a 15-foot embankment before landing upside down in Limestone creek.

Troopers said the school's senior class had held its baccalaureate services last night and afterward had gone on a beach party at the Rainbow Shores resort. It was believed the six boys had joined the seniors at the party.

Gas Explosion Burns Three Jamaica Women

Houston, June 27 (AP)—A gas explosion seriously burned three young women from Jamaica, N. Y., yesterday.

They are Miss Marilyn Pfeifer, 19, and Miss Grace O'Leary, 22, cousins, both of 159-11 Grand Central Parkway, and Miss Eileen Doddy, 19, of 82-70 159th street.

Miss Doody was the most seriously injured, having burns over 9/10 of her body. Miss O'Leary got burns over half her body, and Miss Pfeifer about 1/5 of the body.

The three and the mothers of two, Mrs. Grace Pfeifer and Mrs. Mae O'Leary, had spent the night at the motel while en route from Jamaica to Mexico for a vacation. The girls were in one cabin and the mothers in the one next door. They were preparing to go to church at the time of the explosion.

The girls said the blast occurred when Miss Doody struck a match to light a cigarette.

Fire department investigators thought gas had leaked from the pilot light of an automatic heater in the cabin.

14 Miners Killed

Gelsenkirchen, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Fourteen coal miners were killed yesterday by air pressure from an explosion 2,400 feet below the surface in the Nordstern diggings in the Ruhr. The blast occurred during dynamiting operations and caused collapse of the gallery, in which the victims were working.

The Belgian Congo is larger than all the U. S. territory east of the Mississippi river.

Pope Receives Mayor Wagner

Vatican City, June 27 (AP)—Pope Pius XII received Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York in a private audience today in the library of the apostolic palace.

After the Pontiff and Mayor Wagner had talked for 15 minutes, Mrs. Wagner and New York city Commissioner of Commerce Richard C. Patteron, Jr., entered the library and were presented to the Pope.

Wagner is a Catholic.

It was one of the few private audiences the Pontiff has granted since his serious illness last winter.

The New Yorkers arrived at the Vatican at 10 a. m. and were met by the famous, brightly-uniformed Swiss guard. They were taken into the palace and went by elevator immediately to the third floor, where they passed through the outer rooms of the Pope's private apartments to the library. The Pontiff was waiting at his desk.

WAGNER knelt and kissed the Pope's ring. What the Pontiff and his visitor discussed was not announced, the custom with private audiences.

Mayor and Mrs. Wagner arrived here last Friday from Israel and Athens on a five-nation tour through Europe and the Middle East.

In Rome Wagner has talked with Mario Scelba, caretaker premier until a new Italian government is formed, and with Rome's Mayor Salvatore Rebecchini. His schedule today includes a visit to Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, a reception given by the mayor of Rome, and a cabinet dinner given by Scelba.

The Wagners go tomorrow to Naples, to board the liner Independence for the trip to New York.

New Octane Bonus Amoco-Gas

The present epidemic of octane claims is based on laboratory ratings. They are ratings obtained by adding lead. And lead doesn't all burn up. It leaves harmful deposits that can turn your engine into an octane trap—a trap that catches and wastes octane!

Then the octane performance in your car suffers. That's the difference between laboratory octane and usable road octane.

A great, new unleaded gas with an Octane BONUS

Out of the world's largest Ultraforming unit comes the clear answer to octane . . . a white, premium gas with such natural high-octane value that no lead is needed!

All the high-octane energy in the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas is usable octane on the road where it counts. It can all burn . . . it can all go to the wheels. There's no octane waste due to lead deposits.

So you get a bonus in every gallon of the new Amoco-Gas—an Octane Bonus that multiplies itself into extra gas mileage. Try the new, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas—it's wonderful!

The white gas with the
Octane BONUS
Bonus Mileage—because it contains no lead!

Manhattan DA Advises Changes In Teen Cases

New York, June 27 (AP)—Manhattan District Attorney Frank S. Hogan says he is encouraged by efforts to save juvenile offenders from a life of crime but deplores the lack of adequate facilities for the job.

Discussing the problem of youthful lawbreakers in a report covering the work of his office over the past six years, Hogan said yesterday his office takes a "humane and, at the same time, realistic" approach to adolescent crime.

HOGAN SAID his office uses as much as possible a 1943 law that revised treatment of juvenile offenders to give a second chance to hopeful cases. "The results have been encouraging," he commented.

Since the law was put into effect an average of 61 per cent of young offenders have not been convicted of a crime in the following five years, Hogan reported. This is an appreciably better record than before 1943, he added.

To do a still better job, Hogan urged speedier examination and diagnosis of all arrested youths and improved quarters for their detention.

THE PRESENT system brings a delay between arrest and disposition of a case that sometimes lasts from six weeks to six months, Hogan said. This destroys the effect that swift punishment might have, he added, and makes readjustment less likely than if remedial steps were started quickly.

He suggested that a special youth court operating every weekday and adequately equipped with probation, psychiatric and medical personnel might solve this problem.

IN ANY EVENT, he added, the city should provide early screening of arrested youths and improve detention facilities, now characterized by "idleness, lack of constructive supervision and the opportunity to exchange information on criminal techniques and narcotics sources."

The report called the illegal sale of narcotics "perhaps the most heinous of underworld operations" and said there is increasing concern about addiction among juveniles.

In 1949, it said, 45 young addicts were arrested. By 1951 the number had risen to 353 for that year alone.

Harmonica Star Dies

Paris, June 27 (AP)—Borrah Minnevitch, 52, leader of the "Harmonica Rascals" who played in vaudeville theatres throughout the United States, died yesterday of a cerebral hemorrhage at the American Hospital in suburban Neuilly. Minnevitch was stricken while driving with his wife, the former Lucille Little Taylor. He had been living in Paris since 1947, producing films and operating a night club. His daughter, Lydia, lives in Los Angeles, Calif.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Wives, take good care of your hubbies. Even as nothing but money machines, they are getting more valuable every year. They not only earn more, but have more years to earn than your Pa did.

Mr. Hutton

Since 1900, average life expectancy has gone up nineteen years. Most of the gains have come from the conquest of children's diseases. Nevertheless, a boy who has survived to age twenty, has four more working years ahead of him than "Grampa" had when he was twenty.

The Institute of Life Insurance tells us that a young Lochinvar of twenty has an average work life ahead of him before retirement of more than forty-three years. At present factory pay, and without any promotions, this money machine that grunts and smokes and dumps his ashes on the floor, will earn $160,000 before he retires. And from that amount, on up.

So treat your human engine well, ladies. Stoke his furnace with the right "fixin's." Keep him well oiled and greased; lipstick helps. "Happiness is added life."

But remember that you, two will also have more retirement years than grandpa and grandma had. So don't fritter the "take home" away. Keep tucking some of it in the old sock as the fleeting years slip by.

3 Teen-agers Die In Auto Accident

Pulaski, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Three teen-agers were killed and three others were injured, one critically, early today when their automobile plunged into a creek off a country road near here.

State police said all six, members of the junior class at Pulaski Central School, were returning from a beach resort near this central New York community when the accident occurred about 12:15 a. m. (EDT).

Troopers listed the dead as Lawrence Archer, 17, of Pulaski; Dennis Ingersoll, 16, of Pulaski; and Richard Long, 17, of Richland.

IN CRITICAL condition at Oswego Hospital was Frank Ostrander Jr. State police said he was believed to have been the driver.

Also hospitalized, but not so seriously injured, were Harlow Duton, 17, of Fernwood Corners, and Fred Hall, 17, of Fernwood.

State police said the automobile failed to make a left turn, left the road at an entrance to a bridge and crashed down a 15-foot embankment before landing upside down in Limestone creek.

Troopers said the school's senior class had held its baccalaureate services last night and afterward had gone on a beach party at the Rainbow Shores resort. It was believed the six boys had joined the seniors at the party.

Gas Explosion Burns Three Jamaica Women

Houston, June 27 (AP)—A gas explosion seriously burned three young women from Jamaica, N. Y., yesterday.

They are Miss Marilyn Pfeifer, 19, and Miss Grace O'Leary, 22, cousins, both of 159-11 Grand Central Parkway, and Miss Eileen Doddy, 19, of 82-70 159th street.

Miss Doody was the most seriously injured, having burns over 9/10 of her body. Miss O'Leary got burns over half her body, and Miss Pfeifer about 1/5 of the body.

The three and the mothers of two, Mrs. Grace Pfeifer and Mrs. Mae O'Leary, had spent the night at the motel while en route from Jamaica to Mexico for a vacation. The girls were in one cabin and the mothers in the one next door. They were preparing to go to church at the time of the explosion.

The girls said the blast occurred when Miss Doody struck a match to light a cigarette.

Fire department investigators thought gas had leaked from the pilot light of an automatic heater in the cabin.

14 Miners Killed

Gelsenkirchen, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Fourteen coal miners were killed yesterday by air pressure from an explosion 2,400 feet below the surface in the Nordstern diggings in the Ruhr. The blast occurred during dynamiting operations and caused collapse of the gallery, in which the victims were working.

Pope Receives Mayor Wagner

Vatican City, June 27 (AP)—Pope Pius XII received Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York in a private audience today in the library of the apostolic palace.

After the Pontiff and Mayor Wagner had talked for 15 minutes, Mrs. Wagner and New York city Commissioner of Commerce Richard C. Patteron, Jr., entered the library and were presented to the Pope.

Wagner is a Catholic.

It was one of the few private audiences the Pontiff has granted since his serious illness last winter.

The New Yorkers arrived at the Vatican at 10 a. m. and were met by the famous, brightly-uniformed Swiss guard. They were taken into the palace and went by elevator immediately to the third floor, where they passed through the outer rooms of the Pope's private apartments to the library. The Pontiff was waiting at his desk.

WAGNER knelt and kissed the Pope's ring. What the Pontiff and his visitor discussed was not announced, the custom with private audiences.

Mayor and Mrs. Wagner arrived here last Friday from Israel and Athens on a five-nation tour through Europe and the Middle East.

In Rome Wagner has talked with Mario Scelba, caretaker premier until a new Italian government is formed, and with Rome's Mayor Salvatore Rebecchini. His schedule today includes a visit to Italian President Giovanni Gronchi, a reception given by the mayor of Rome, and a cabinet dinner given by Scelba.

The Wagners go tomorrow to Naples, to board the liner Independence for the trip to New York.

New Octane Bonus Amoco-Gas
The present epidemic of octane claims is based on laboratory ratings. They are ratings obtained by adding lead. And lead doesn't all burn up. It leaves harmful deposits that can turn your engine into an octane trap—a trap that catches and wastes octane!
Then the octane performance in your car suffers. That's the difference between laboratory octane and usable road octane.
A great, new unleaded gas with an Octane BONUS
Out of the world's largest Ultraforming unit comes the clear answer to octane . . . a white, premium gas with such natural high-octane value that no lead is needed!
All the high-octane energy in the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas is usable octane on the road where it counts. It can all burn . . . it can all go to the wheels. There's no octane waste due to lead deposits.
So you get a bonus in every gallon of the new Amoco-Gas—an Octane Bonus that multiplies itself into extra gas mileage. Try the new, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas—it's wonderful!
The white gas with the
Octane BONUS

PIERCING JET AGE BARRIER

It seems incredible, but news from the plane makers and airlines in recent days makes it clear that by 1960 we shall be entering the jet age in commercial air transport. We shall then be looking ahead to atomic-powered planes and rocket aircraft.

Most of the forecasters have been saying that U. S. airlines would not be flying jet planes until the mid-1960's. Now we learn that Dougals Aircraft Company expects to be able to deliver a jet-powered plane, the DC-8, by 1959.

Of course, airlines using big, fast and relatively new piston-engined planes, like the DC-7 and the advanced Lockheed Constellation, may be reluctant to switch over while so much life is left in such craft. But obviously the attractions of jet power will be enormously compelling.

The planners are talking of 4½-hour flights from New York, to Los Angeles, 4 hours to Hawaii from the West Coast, and New York to Paris in 6½ hours.

Moreover, it is an established fact that jet planes will afford more passenger comfort, since they are quieter and freer of vibration in flight. And the airlines have long looked forward to the cheaper and easier maintenance involved in jet engines.

As if this were not enough, American Airlines has announced it is buying 65 million dollars worth of so-called turbo-prop planes for use on medium range routes up to 2000 miles. These planes use a mixture of fuel and compressed air, as do jets, but they operate with a propeller as well as a turbine. The line will begin flying them in late 1958.

There is still more. For some time, the Boeing Airplane Company has been testing a jet called the 707, designed originally as an air force tanker but adaptable to commercial use. Boeing has not yet cleared away all the barriers to this development, but under the spur of competition from Douglas and Lockheed, also busy with jet experiments, it may before long.

For a time it seemed that the British, with their sleek Comet jets, were really going to steal a march on American plane producers in the jet field. But unfortunate mishaps to several Comet I's took the plane out of the air and slowed up British progress in the long-haul field. However, John Bull is a jet jump ahead on the short hauls. The Vickers Viscount, a turbo-prop job, is in regular operation for Trans-Canada airlines. In addition Capital is scrapping their entire fleet of 60 piston-engined planes and replacing them with Viscounts.

America's producers, long the leaders in commercial aviation with their smartly designed piston-engined craft in use the world over, awoke to the challenge and spurred development.

Both the makers and the airlines are to be congratulated for forward-looking attitudes which have not only brought America once more to the fore in civil aviation, but have put us on the threshold of the atomic-rocket age.

FIGURES TO PONDER

There are a lot of mixed reactions to the extensive civil defense tests this country conducted recently. Some feel they were a great success because they seemed to demonstrate to a high degree of cooperation among citizens, police and civil defense authorities. Others think the spectacle of the President and his top officials racing off to a hide-out was silly, and proved little.

But even the most generous-minded appraisers do not rate the test a success in the sense that it showed we could protect our city populations well against A and H-bomb attacks.

Officials estimate that the heavy, widespread assaults assumed for purposes of this test in 61 U. S. and territorial cities would have ruined the centers of all the cities and have killed five million people, injured five million more and left 10 million homeless.

These shattering figures may be hard to accept when only a theoretical attack is involved. But they ought to be pondered thoroughly. For even the best air defense and the best imaginable civil defense could not reduce them greatly. They are a frightening gauge of what a new war would be like.

THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER

In the case of Rice vs. Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery, Inc., et al., the question again arose as to the relationship of the United Nations Charter to American Federal and State laws. Justice Felix Frankfurter delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court.

This case concerned the refusal of a cemetery to permit the burial of a Winnebago Indian under a contract which contained the clause, "burial privileges acrue only to members of the Caucasian race."

The discussion in this article does not concern itself with the moral or social correctness of the conduct of the owners of the cemetery; it limits itself to the political effects of the United Nations Charter upon the United States.

The plaintiff raised the issue that the action of the cemetery owners was a violation of the Charter of the United Nations. Justice Felix Frankfurter said of this:

". . . There was reference in the opinions of the Iowa courts and in the briefs of counsel to the United Nations Charter. The Iowa courts dismissed summarily the claim that some of the general and hortatory language of this Treaty, which so far as the United States is concerned is itself an exercise of the treaty-making power under the Constitution, constituted a limitation on the rights of the States and of persons otherwise reserved to them under the Constitution. It is a redundancy to add that there is, of course, no basis for any inference that the division of this Court reflected any diversity of opinion on this question."

The United Nations Charter is a treaty between the United States and 59 other nations who are members of that body. Under our law, a treaty is the law of the land, not passed by Congress in the usual manner, but negotiated by the Executive, signed by the President and confirmed by two-thirds of the Senate present. Such a treaty then supersedes any Federal or State laws, no matter how ancient. In a California case, the Charter was employed to vitiate a law which had been in existence for some 30 years.

The Charter of the United Nations, as a treaty, will continue to be used by lawyers for the benefit of their clients, until an amendment to the Constitution alters the relationship between the Charter and domestic law, or the Charter more emphatically is made to state that it cannot be applied to domestic law. The Bricker and George Amendments are examples of what legislators are trying to do about this.

During my recent visit to England, I made inquiries concerning this subject and found that they operate under a system that is something like the Bricker Amendment. A treaty with them is not the law of the land. If a treaty is to have the effect of domestic legislation, Parliament must do the legislating. The British Parliament has a long tradition, going back to Magna Charter (1215), of jealousy over its prerogatives and suspicion of the Executive. Because of historic circumstances, particularly the importation of the Sovereign from continental Europe, Parliament actually captured the control of the Executive, so that every member of the Cabinet is first a Member of Parliament. The Sovereign does not possess such administrative power as the President of the United States. The Cabinet is a captive of the Parliament.

If a treaty between Great Britain and another country were to be made to apply as the lawyers propose in the case of Rice vs. Sioux City, etc., Parliament would have to pass a law on the subject before it could apply. The law—not the treaty—would be debated in the House of Commons and the House of Lords and the debate would be published in the press for all to read if they are interested. The Executive cannot make British law by a treaty.

I cite this example because the opposition to any amendment to the Constitution on this subject bases itself upon the rather silly notion that it demonstrates a lack of confidence in a particular President. The law is long; Presidents come and go. Amendments to the Constitution ought not to be evaded lest the sensibilities of a public official be bruised thereby. Were that the case, it would be impossible ever to amend the Constitution. One was even adopted limiting the term of the President.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

THE INJURED BACK

We hear and read a great deal these days about "ruptured discs," and it would be wise for us to keep in mind that no one is immune to this or other types of back injury and yet, as a rule, less care is taken of the back than of any other part of the body.

Everyone should take care of their back, but once an injury has occurred, whether it is a disc or another type of injury, then extra care is called for at all times. This extra care must be called self-training in posture; "self" because only the person concerned can apply this training.

The thing to remember in postural self-training is that the back is always strongest—and can absorb more strain—when it is held straight. This is true in all positions. Correct posture must be kept in mind and must be applied regardless of the task, position or circumstance.

When you have a certain job to do, you must plan and think about it beforehand, before you actually do it. This planning will become a subconscious habit and the sooner it becomes a well-formed habit, the safer your back will be. For tasks you must do often, you will find the easiest way to do it and the habit is formed. But should it be an unexpected task, one the body is not used to performing, there may be trouble unless the way to do it easiest has been planned out first.

General rules for sitting and standing are: body held vertical, head up, shoulders back and at the same level, stomach held in, hips at same level and no tilt forward, toes pointing toward the front. On walking, the same rules apply plus making sure that the heel lands first and big toe leaves last.

Sitting is more difficult as there should be a support in the form of a chair with a straight back-rest from which maximum support may be gained by sitting as far back as possible on the chair with the whole of the back in contact with the back-rest. Stools should never be used when there is no form of support, and low or over-stuffed chairs and chesterfields are unwise as they give poor support. Soles of the feet should rest on the floor.

Jumping is dangerous and should be avoided but if circumstances make it necessary, then land on the balls of the feet, knees slightly bent with one foot forward and the back kept as straight as possible, the shock of landing being taken by the knees in a deep bend.

Lifting should always be done keeping the back straight and letting the knees bend or straighten to take the full load. If carrying one end of an object, always take the front end; taking the rear end usually results in the body bending forward.

By establishing back-saving habits, you will avoid much future trouble.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The most important vote in the United States prior to the presidential election in November 1956 is the Department of Agriculture's national wheat market quota referendum on June 25, 1955.

As a matter of fact, the swing of the farm vote in 1956 may be determined by the outcome of this wheat referendum.

The actual question on which the farmers will vote is:

"Are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat for the 1956 crop?"

The outcome of this election will decide what government controls and price supports there will be on wheat planted in the fall of 1955 or the spring of 1956, and harvested in 1956.

There are an estimated 900,000 farmers eligible to vote in this election. Anyone who has a direct interest in the planting of 15 acres or more in wheat, in any of the 36 commercial wheat states, is eligible to cast a ballot. This will include about 600,000 farm owners and 300,000 tenants. Absentee landlords don't get a vote, but cash renters do.

ACTUALLY, ONLY ABOUT 450,000 are expected to show enough interest in the refrendum to cast a ballot in the county polling places. And two-thirds of the farmers voting must favor wheat marketing quotas before they can be put into effect.

In the 1953 election, 80 per cent voted, "Yes." In the 1954 election 73 per cent voted, "Yes." This year's election is expected to be closer still. No one can predict how it will go.

Department of Agriculture tabulators will receive telegraphic returns in Washington all night. Some time Sunday they hope to announce the result, unless it's so close that a recount will be necessary.

The question on which the wheat farmers vote looks simple. But behind it is a tremendously complex economic [illegible]

The farmers are voting on marketing quotas [illegible] age allotments. The total commercial wheat acreage is set by law at 55 million acres for the nation.

IF TWO-THIRDS OF THE FARMERS voting on June 25 decide they will accept quotas, then any cooperating farmer who violates his allotment is subject to a cash penalty on every bushel of excess wheat he produces.

If the farmers accept quotas, they will be eligible to receive price support at the level of 76 per cent of parity. Without going into all the complications of how the figure is obtained, this amounts to $1.81 a bushel, as a national average for all grades of wheat.

This compares with the May 15, 1955, parity price of $2.51. The drop reveals why farmers this time may vote against quotas.

If more than one-third of the voting farmers decide against quotas, then there will be no pen[illegible]s [illegible]s t gr[illegible] a[illegible] arm[illegible]

Acreage allotments would still remain in effect as the basis for eligibiliy to receive price supports.

The price support level, however, would by law be dropped to 50 per cent of parity or only $1.19 a bushel.

SOME FARM EXPERTS BELIEVE this level is so low that it would not be effective as an inducement for farmers to stay within their acreage allotment.

Farmers might decide to plant more wheat, so as to keep their income at a higher dollar level, even though the price was down. Wheat acreage might zoom back to the 78,000,000 figure of 1953. This would mean a tremendous over-production of wheat. And it would create a terrible problem of what to do with it.

By July 1, the government will have on hand approximately a billion bushels of wheat, worth two and a half billion dollars.

A vote against quotas might be taken as an indication that farmers were tired of government farm programs. This would be the beginning of the end for price supports and return to a free market. Into this situation Congress might step, to take nobody knows what action, with an eye on the 1956 elections.

Both Sides Are Using Restraint to Buy Time

By DAVID LAWRENCE

En Route from San Francisco, June 27—There's a story going the rounds which tells far better than thousands of words of speeches and diplomatic notes just why there is to be a four-power conference in Geneva next month, and maybe another conference later, and then another as the western diplomats seek peace in the world.

It's a story that was told in the presence of Sir Winston Churchill and some members of the President's cabinet as they chatted over the breakfast table when the distinguished Briton last visited Washington as prime minister. It concerns some mythical middle eastern country, ruled by a Shah, and an unfortunate but ingenious prisoner who was discussing with his fellow prisoners—all about to be executed—some way by which he could escape having his head chopped off.

"If I could only get a reprieve for a single year," he said, "I would promise the Shah that in one year I would teach his favorite bull to fly."

"BUT," SAID one of the other prisoners, "the rest of us are to have a merciful death. It will all be over in an instant, while you—if you fail to teach the bull to fly—will die a thousand deaths under torture. So better not try it."

"Oh, I don't know about that," replied the scheming prisoner, "lots of things can happen in a year. In the first place, the Shah might die. In the second place, I might die. In the third place, the bull might die—and, perhaps, who knows, maybe in a year's time, I might just possibly teach that bull to fly."

Time, patience, forbearance, the mysterious workings of public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain, and a determined effort to postpone, to defer, to keep local frictions and climaxes from reaching the stage of open hostilities in a big war—these are all part of the techniques and efforts, voluntary and involuntary, of western diplomats nowadays to earn a reprieve of a year or more for the world.

WARS HAVE come in the past as a consequence of what seems to be local incidents. No country wants to let such incidents, however aggravating, inflame public opinion. Twice now President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have exhibited this very kind of patience and restraint in handling attacks on American citizens in airplanes. Once, a few months ago, American interests were jeopardized when the Red Chinese fired on a British plane in the Far East carrying some American passengers. The Communists expressed regret to the British government and offered to pay indemnity.

Not long ago, instead of arousing American public opinion to a war passion, the President pressed firmly through diplomatic channels for the release of the 11 airmen held by the Chinese Communists. Now, in the last few days, when word came to the President that a navy patrol plane had been fired on by Soviet planes near Alaska and far away from Russian territory, the news was suppressed for a few hours so that Secretary Dulles could make his address before the United Nations Assembly in San Francisco without having his words taken to mean something in connection with the incident which, of course, was not intended, as he had written the speech before he had any news about the airplane incident.

THIS WAS a fine sense of restraint, and it didn't impair the firmness with which Mr. Dulles a few hours later told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov about the painful impression on American public opinion which the attack by the Russian fighter planes would make.

But the most significant aspect of the incident was Soviet Russia's prompt expression of regret and willingness to pay half the indemnity. This is subject to further discussion as to total liability, but it is interesting to note that, by a quick handling of the matter, the Soviets took it out of the realm of a crisis which could have affected adversely the Four-Power conference at Geneva.

The episode may have been deliberate, as Senator Knowland conjectures. The Soviets are still rankling over the shooting down of some of their planes which ventured into South Korea recently. It may have been prompted, too, by a desire to satisfy domestic pressures inside Russia or to show a species of defiance of the western fliers in that very ticklish situation in the Far East. But the world will note that what might have been a dangerous turn of affairs has been averted by the speedy and adroit action of the Soviet government.

MR. MOLOTOV traveled eastward by train, as did this correspondent. The streamliners take you from San Francisco on Friday night, for example, and bring you to New York or Washington on Monday morning—and the same time in reverse—just a weekend. There's time to see the country close up. Maybe Molotov, who has made the journey both ways by train, will find that our good trains, with excellent food and all the comforts that are so noticeably absent on the so-called best trains of Europe, are a symbol of America's high standard of living which no American in his right mind would want to see disturbed by another war. The Soviet foreign minister will discover perhaps that America's democracy and free-enterprise system have made possible the building up of the many wonderful cities he will have passed through on his trip, and dozens of other cities like them.

But already it is apparent that Molotov is learning something about American institutions. He called a press conference last Saturday in San Francisco and subjected himself to questions friendly and hostile. This is an institution of which Americans are justly proud.

MAYBE the Soviet government some day will submit to impromptu questioning by representatives of the people. That's the way public opinion is formed. A different sort of government from that which is in power today in Moscow may have to emerge first. The stirrings of revolution are seldom visible to the naked eye of an itinerant observer. But who knows? Maybe in the not-far distant future the Russian people will come out of bondage. Maybe they will have performed the miracle — they may teach the "favorite bull" to fly. Then the world as a whole will have won a reprieve from the horrors of World War III.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The guaranteed annual wage scheme and the unemployment and Social Security taxes on employers are violations of the constitutional rights and human dignity of the very people who think they are getting something for nothing. The individual workman has a manly duty to save a portion of his earnings for rainy days and for his old age. He maintains noisily that he is a man, as good as any other man. But the union insists — and Ford and General Motors agree — that he is not man enough to discipline himself and live up to his own responsibilities.

There are fakers in the political union movement and sociological quacks among the employers who insist that the inherent clash of the interests of labor and management is a repudiated bogey of the past. They are talking a mixture of socialism and fascism. If they had the honesty to say that they want socialism and fascism we who believe in the Constitution could join the issue and oppose them more effectively. Under Mussolini, Italian labor, as a political entity, was a phase of the state. Capital, or management, was another phase of the same state. We are imitating Fascist Italy now in many important fields as any honest mind will perceive after comparison of that system with ours.

The real theory behind the so-called guaranteed annual wage is that the individual American worker is so irresponsible and improvident that he cannot be trusted to abstain from luxuries beyond his earning capacity. So he finds himself broke when he he is laid off or fired. The luxuries are automobiles, booze, bets, entertainment, expensive vacations at resorts, days of idleness taken because he is lazy, because he wants to hunt or fish or because he has a hangover from boozing on liquor bought with money which he should have saved. Airlines invite the worker to travel now and pay later. He wants to be a little Vanderbilt. He shoots the works and when the lay-off or illness comes he applies to the "state" to pay his doctor bills and hospital bills. Or he looks to the union which has been hijacking employers for "contributions" to "welfare" insurance policies, written, as often as not, by crooked companies in collusion with crooked union bosses. It is argued that the employer has a voice in "welfare" policies but actually the employer is helpless so he keeps his mouth shut about the crooked "welfare" deal and thus seems to be a willing and active party.

Does anyone believe that Ford gave in willingly to the same union which drenched Michigan with the blood of workers in the civil war waged under the patronage of Roosevelt to drive the workers into the union? Does anyone believe that General Motors gave in as an act of good citizenship and good management? GM has many cans of 16 mm. film shot from factory windows showing bloody riots waged by this same union under the same executives with whom it recently shook hands.

Management takes a great deal unto itself in submitting to these great grabs. Management is actually giving up rights which belong to the whole people of these 48 states. It does so at gunpoint to escape strikes which would give one company great advantage over others. Management is less at fault, however, than the governments of the United States and of the several states, individually. These combined governments have given a few union bosses a monopoly of labor. By this monopoly power, these bosses have been able to threaten these great auto concerns with disastrous strikes. The executives of the companies are great personal rivals. They will yield almost anything to the labor monopolists rather than be struck and come to the end of a year trailing a rival company by hundreds of thousands of cars and millions of dollars of sales. But, in submitting to Reuther's demands, they sacrifice rights which do not belong to them nor to their companies nor, exclusively, to their own employes.

These submissions are going to be built into the prices of their products and the whole public foots the bill. Management is shifting a new burden onto the state unemployment funds which are a tax on millions of small employers. They are chaining the worker to his job lest he sacrifice his "seniority" and "status." Thus they impair his freedom of action. They chain a worker to one particular industry.

The guaranteed annual wage will cause inflation and send up the prices of automobiles which, for a long time, were coming into the market at lower and lower prices. There is no cheap car now but there is a cheap dollar. The automobile industry and Reuther have a power over all of us which no combination ever held before.

If the workman's pay is not enough to permit saving, the proper way would have been to raise his pay, and make him meet his own responsibilities—like the man he professes to be.

Steeplejack, Not 'Copter

Boston, June 27 (AP)—Plans to lower a new steeple on historical old North Church with a helicopter have been abandoned as "too risky." Civil Aeronautics Authority investigators said there was not enough latitude for safety in the congested area if something went wrong. The spire on the famous church from which the lantern was hung that sent Paul Revere on his midnight ride will be raised in the traditional manner next month. The old spire was toppled by a hurricane last year. More than $150,000 was raised by public subscription to rebuild the steeple.

PIERCING JET AGE BARRIER

It seems incredible, but news from the plane makers and airlines in recent days makes it clear that by 1960 we shall be entering the jet age in commercial air transport. We shall then be looking ahead to atomic-powered planes and rocket aircraft.

Most of the forecasters have been saying that U. S. airlines would not be flying jet planes until the mid-1960's. Now we learn that Dougals Aircraft Company expects to be able to deliver a jet-powered plane, the DC-8, by 1959.

Of course, airlines using big, fast and relatively new piston-engined planes, like the DC-7 and the advanced Lockheed Constellation, may be reluctant to switch over while so much life is left in such craft. But obviously the attractions of jet power will be enormously compelling.

The planners are talking of 4½-hour flights from New York, to Los Angeles, 4 hours to Hawaii from the West Coast, and New York to Paris in 6½ hours.

Moreover, it is an established fact that jet planes will afford more passenger comfort, since they are quieter and freer of vibration in flight. And the airlines have long looked forward to the cheaper and easier maintenance involved in jet engines.

As if this were not enough, American Airlines has announced it is buying 65 million dollars worth of so-called turbo-prop planes for use on medium range routes up to 2000 miles. These planes use a mixture of fuel and compressed air, as do jets, but they operate with a propeller as well as a turbine. The line will begin flying them in late 1958.

There is still more. For some time, the Boeing Airplane Company has been testing a jet called the 707, designed originally as an air force tanker but adaptable to commercial use. Boeing has not yet cleared away all the barriers to this development, but under the spur of competition from Douglas and Lockheed, also busy with jet experiments, it may before long.

For a time it seemed that the British, with their sleek Comet jets, were really going to steal a march on American plane producers in the jet field. But unfortunate mishaps to several Comet I's took the plane out of the air and slowed up British progress in the long-haul field. However, John Bull is a jet jump ahead on the short hauls. The Vickers Viscount, a turbo-prop job, is in regular operation for Trans-Canada airlines. In addition Capital is scrapping their entire fleet of 60 piston-engined planes and replacing them with Viscounts.

America's producers, long the leaders in commercial aviation with their smartly designed piston-engined craft in use the world over, awoke to the challenge and spurred development.

Both the makers and the airlines are to be congratulated for forward-looking attitudes which have not only brought America once more to the fore in civil aviation, but have put us on the threshold of the atomic-rocket age.

FIGURES TO PONDER

There are a lot of mixed reactions to the extensive civil defense tests this country conducted recently. Some feel they were a great success because they seemed to demonstrate to a high degree of cooperation among citizens, police and civil defense authorities. Others think the spectacle of the President and his top officials racing off to a hide-out was silly, and proved little.

But even the most generous-minded appraisers do not rate the test a success in the sense that it showed we could protect our city populations well against A and H-bomb attacks.

Officials estimate that the heavy, widespread assaults assumed for purposes of this test in 61 U. S. and territorial cities would have ruined the centers of all the cities and have killed five million people, injured five million more and left 10 million homeless.

These shattering figures may be hard to accept when only a theoretical attack is involved. But they ought to be pondered thoroughly. For even the best air defense and the best imaginable civil defense could not reduce them greatly. They are a frightening gauge of what a new war would be like.

THE UNITED NATIONS CHARTER

In the case of Rice vs. Sioux City Memorial Park Cemetery, Inc., et al., the question again arose as to the relationship of the United Nations Charter to American Federal and State laws. Justice Felix Frankfurter delivered the opinion of the Supreme Court.

This case concerned the refusal of a cemetery to permit the burial of a Winnebago Indian under a contract which contained the clause, "burial privileges acrue only to members of the Caucasian race."

The discussion in this article does not concern itself with the moral or social correctness of the conduct of the owners of the cemetery; it limits itself to the political effects of the United Nations Charter upon the United States.

The plaintiff raised the issue that the action of the cemetery owners was a violation of the Charter of the United Nations. Justice Felix Frankfurter said of this:

". . . There was reference in the opinions of the Iowa courts and in the briefs of counsel to the United Nations Charter. The Iowa courts dismissed summarily the claim that some of the general and hortatory language of this Treaty, which so far as the United States is concerned is itself an exercise of the treaty-making power under the Constitution, constituted a limitation on the rights of the States and of persons otherwise reserved to them under the Constitution. It is a redundancy to add that there is, of course, no basis for any inference that the division of this Court reflected any diversity of opinion on this question."

The United Nations Charter is a treaty between the United States and 59 other nations who are members of that body. Under our law, a treaty is the law of the land, not passed by Congress in the usual manner, but negotiated by the Executive, signed by the President and confirmed by two-thirds of the Senate present. Such a treaty then supersedes any Federal or State laws, no matter how ancient. In a California case, the Charter was employed to vitiate a law which had been in existence for some 30 years.

The Charter of the United Nations, as a treaty, will continue to be used by lawyers for the benefit of their clients, until an amendment to the Constitution alters the relationship between the Charter and domestic law, or the Charter more emphatically is made to state that it cannot be applied to domestic law. The Bricker and George Amendments are examples of what legislators are trying to do about this.

During my recent visit to England, I made inquiries concerning this subject and found that they operate under a system that is something like the Bricker Amendment. A treaty with them is not the law of the land. If a treaty is to have the effect of domestic legislation, Parliament must do the legislating. The British Parliament has a long tradition, going back to Magna Charter (1215), of jealousy over its prerogatives and suspicion of the Executive. Because of historic circumstances, particularly the importation of the Sovereign from continental Europe, Parliament actually captured the control of the Executive, so that every member of the Cabinet is first a Member of Parliament. The Sovereign does not possess such administrative power as the President of the United States. The Cabinet is a captive of the Parliament.

If a treaty between Great Britain and another country were to be made to apply as the lawyers propose in the case of Rice vs. Sioux City, etc., Parliament would have to pass a law on the subject before it could apply. The law—not the treaty—would be debated in the House of Commons and the House of Lords and the debate would be published in the press for all to read if they are interested. The Executive cannot make British law by a treaty.

I cite this example because the opposition to any amendment to the Constitution on this subject bases itself upon the rather silly notion that it demonstrates a lack of confidence in a particular President. The law is long; Presidents come and go. Amendments to the Constitution ought not to be evaded lest the sensibilities of a public official be bruised thereby. Were that the case, it would be impossible ever to amend the Constitution. One was even adopted limiting the term of the President.

That Body of Yours

THE INJURED BACK

We hear and read a great deal these days about "ruptured discs," and it would be wise for us to keep in mind that no one is immune to this or other types of back injury and yet, as a rule, less care is taken of the back than of any other part of the body.

Everyone should take care of their back, but once an injury has occurred, whether it is a disc or another type of injury, then extra care is called for at all times. This extra care must be called self-training in posture; "self" because only the person concerned can apply this training.

The thing to remember in postural self-training is that the back is always strongest—and can absorb more strain—when it is held straight. This is true in all positions. Correct posture must be kept in mind and must be applied regardless of the task, position or circumstance.

When you have a certain job to do, you must plan and think about it beforehand, before you actually do it. This planning will become a subconscious habit and the sooner it becomes a well-formed habit, the safer your back will be. For tasks you must do often, you will find the easiest way to do it and the habit is formed. But should it be an unexpected task, one the body is not used to performing, there may be trouble unless the way to do it easiest has been planned out first.

General rules for sitting and standing are: body held vertical, head up, shoulders back and at the same level, stomach held in, hips at same level and no tilt forward, toes pointing toward the front. On walking, the same rules apply plus making sure that the heel lands first and big toe leaves last.

Sitting is more difficult as there should be a support in the form of a chair with a straight back-rest from which maximum support may be gained by sitting as far back as possible on the chair with the whole of the back in contact with the back-rest. Stools should never be used when there is no form of support, and low or over-stuffed chairs and chesterfields are unwise as they give poor support. Soles of the feet should rest on the floor.

Jumping is dangerous and should be avoided but if circumstances make it necessary, then land on the balls of the feet, knees slightly bent with one foot forward and the back kept as straight as possible, the shock of landing being taken by the knees in a deep bend.

Lifting should always be done keeping the back straight and letting the knees bend or straighten to take the full load. If carrying one end of an object, always take the front end; taking the rear end usually results in the body bending forward.

By establishing back-saving habits, you will avoid much future trouble.

Dark Victory

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — The most important vote in the United States prior to the presidential election in November 1956 is the Department of Agriculture's national wheat market quota referendum on June 25, 1955.

As a matter of fact, the swing of the farm vote in 1956 may be determined by the outcome of this wheat referendum.

The actual question on which the farmers will vote is:

"Are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat for the 1956 crop?"

The outcome of this election will decide what government controls and price supports there will be on wheat planted in the fall of 1955 or the spring of 1956, and harvested in 1956.

There are an estimated 900,000 farmers eligible to vote in this election. Anyone who has a direct interest in the planting of 15 acres or more in wheat, in any of the 36 commercial wheat states, is eligible to cast a ballot. This will include about 600,000 farm owners and 300,000 tenants. Absentee landlords don't get a vote, but cash renters do.

ACTUALLY, ONLY ABOUT 450,000 are expected to show enough interest in the refrendum to cast a ballot in the county polling places. And two-thirds of the farmers voting must favor wheat marketing quotas before they can be put into effect.

In the 1953 election, 80 per cent voted, "Yes." In the 1954 election 73 per cent voted, "Yes." This year's election is expected to be closer still. No one can predict how it will go.

Department of Agriculture tabulators will receive telegraphic returns in Washington all night. Some time Sunday they hope to announce the result, unless it's so close that a recount will be necessary.

The question on which the wheat farmers vote looks simple. But behind it is a tremendously complex economic [illegible]

The farmers are voting on marketing quotas [illegible] age allotments. The total commercial wheat acreage is set by law at 55 million acres for the nation.

IF TWO-THIRDS OF THE FARMERS voting on June 25 decide they will accept quotas, then any cooperating farmer who violates his allotment is subject to a cash penalty on every bushel of excess wheat he produces.

If the farmers accept quotas, they will be eligible to receive price support at the level of 76 per cent of parity. Without going into all the complications of how the figure is obtained, this amounts to $1.81 a bushel, as a national average for all grades of wheat.

This compares with the May 15, 1955, parity price of $2.51. The drop reveals why farmers this time may vote against quotas.

If more than one-third of the voting farmers decide against quotas, then there will be no pen[illegible]

Acreage allotments would still remain in effect as the basis for eligibiliy to receive price supports.

The price support level, however, would by law be dropped to 50 per cent of parity or only $1.19 a bushel.

SOME FARM EXPERTS BELIEVE this level is so low that it would not be effective as an inducement for farmers to stay within their acreage allotment.

Farmers might decide to plant more wheat, so as to keep their income at a higher dollar level, even though the price was down. Wheat acreage might zoom back to the 78,000,000 figure of 1953. This would mean a tremendous over-production of wheat. And it would create a terrible problem of what to do with it.

By July 1, the government will have on hand approximately a billion bushels of wheat, worth two and a half billion dollars.

A vote against quotas might be taken as an indication that farmers were tired of government farm programs. This would be the beginning of the end for price supports and return to a free market. Into this situation Congress might step, to take nobody knows what action, with an eye on the 1956 elections.

Today in San Francisco

Both Sides Are Using Restraint to Buy Time

By DAVID LAWRENCE

En Route from San Francisco, June 27—There's a story going the rounds which tells far better than thousands of words of speeches and diplomatic notes just why there is to be a four-power conference in Geneva next month, and maybe another conference later, and then another as the western diplomats seek peace in the world.

It's a story that was told in the presence of Sir Winston Churchill and some members of the President's cabinet as they chatted over the breakfast table when the distinguished Briton last visited Washington as prime minister. It concerns some mythical middle eastern country, ruled by a Shah, and an unfortunate but ingenious prisoner who was discussing with his fellow prisoners—all about to be executed—some way by which he could escape having his head chopped off.

"If I could only get a reprieve for a single year," he said, "I would promise the Shah that in one year I would teach his favorite bull to fly."

"BUT," SAID one of the other prisoners, "the rest of us are to have a merciful death. It will all be over in an instant, while you—if you fail to teach the bull to fly—will die a thousand deaths under torture. So better not try it."

"Oh, I don't know about that," replied the scheming prisoner, "lots of things can happen in a year. In the first place, the Shah might die. In the second place, I might die. In the third place, the bull might die—and, perhaps, who knows, maybe in a year's time, I might just possibly teach that bull to fly."

Time, patience, forbearance, the mysterious workings of public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain, and a determined effort to postpone, to defer, to keep local frictions and climaxes from reaching the stage of open hostilities in a big war—these are all part of the techniques and efforts, voluntary and involuntary, of western diplomats nowadays to earn a reprieve of a year or more for the world.

WARS HAVE come in the past as a consequence of what seems to be local incidents. No country wants to let such incidents, however aggravating, inflame public opinion. Twice now President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have exhibited this very kind of patience and restraint in handling attacks on American citizens in airplanes. Once, a few months ago, American interests were jeopardized when the Red Chinese fired on a British plane in the Far East carrying some American passengers. The Communists expressed regret to the British government and offered to pay indemnity.

Not long ago, instead of arousing American public opinion to a war passion, the President pressed firmly through diplomatic channels for the release of the 11 airmen held by the Chinese Communists. Now, in the last few days, when word came to the President that a navy patrol plane had been fired on by Soviet planes near Alaska and far away from Russian territory, the news was suppressed for a few hours so that Secretary Dulles could make his address before the United Nations Assembly in San Francisco without having his words taken to mean something in connection with the incident which, of course, was not intended, as he had written the speech before he had any news about the airplane incident.

THIS WAS a fine sense of restraint, and it didn't impair the firmness with which Mr. Dulles a few hours later told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov about the painful impression on American public opinion which the attack by the Russian fighter planes would make.

But the most significant aspect of the incident was Soviet Russia's prompt expression of regret and willingness to pay half the indemnity. Does anyone believe that General Motors gave in as an act of good citizenship and good management? GM has many cans of 16 mm. film shot from factory windows showing bloody riots waged by this same union under the same executives with whom it recently shook hands.

Management takes a great deal unto itself in submitting to these great grabs. Management is actually giving up rights which belong to the whole people of these 48 states. It does so at gunpoint to escape strikes which would give one company great advantage over others. Management is less at fault, however, than the governments of the United States and of the several states, individually. These combined governments have given a few union bosses a monopoly of labor. By this monopoly power, these bosses have been able to threaten these great auto concerns with disastrous strikes. The executives of the companies are great personal rivals. They will yield almost anything to the labor monopolists rather than be struck and come to the end of a year trailing a rival company by hundreds of thousands of cars and millions of dollars of sales. But, in submitting to Reuther's demands, they sacrifice rights which do not belong to them nor to their companies nor, exclusively, to their own employes.

These submissions are going to be built into the prices of their products and the whole public foots the bill. Management is shifting a new burden onto the state unemployment funds which are a tax on millions of small employers. They are chaining the worker to his job lest he sacrifice his "seniority" and "status." Thus they impair his freedom of action. They chain a worker to one particular industry.

The guaranteed annual wage will cause inflation and send up the prices of automobiles which, for a long time, were coming into the market at lower and lower prices. There is no cheap car now but there is a cheap dollar. The automobile industry and Reuther have a power over all of us which no combination ever held before.

If the workman's pay is not enough to permit saving, the proper way would have been to raise his pay, and make him meet his own responsibilities—like the man he professes to be.

Steeplejack, Not 'Copter

Boston, June 27 (AP)—Plans to lower a new steeple on historical old North Church with a helicopter have been abandoned as "too risky." Civil Aeronautics Authority investigators said there was not enough latitude for safety in the congested area if something went wrong. The spire on the famous church from which the lantern was hung that sent Paul Revere on his midnight ride will be raised in the traditional manner next month. The old spire was toppled by a hurricane last year. More than $150,000 was raised by public subscription to rebuild the steeple.

Success of Video Stars Aids Others

New York, June 27 (AP)—When new stars rise in TV, others move up with them.

Examples are Peggy King of the George Gobel show and Ann Davis, who plays Schultzy on the Bob Cummings show.

CUMMINGS ISN'T exactly a new TV star, as the movie veteran was once a regular in a sad show called My Hero, but it's his first season in a good program. Miss Davis is brand new to video viewers.

Ann has reached prominence in an unusual manner. Her role as Schultzy is that of a homely secretary to a handsome commercial photographer with a keen eye for feminine face and figure. She has a crush on her boss but he is aware of her only as a trusty right arm in his photo shop.

It's a sympathetic part and Miss Davis plays it to the hilt. She often steals scenes from Cummings, which is quite a chore since he's one of the ablest comedians around as well as a fine dramatic actor.

MANY A VIEWER is pulling for Schultzy to hook Cummings in the constant competition with his glamorous models.

Miss Davis is well seasoned in show business. A native of Schenectady, N. Y., and reared in Erie, Pa., she once was enrolled in the University of Michigan to study medicine. The lure of show business was too strong, however. She spent six years in Little Theatre, stock companies and touring musicals before landing the part of Schultzy. She has appeared in two movies.

Cummings, incidentally, writes from Hollywood expressing appreciation for praise of his talents in a recent review in this column of one of his shows but expresses concern over a rap at the writers for that particular script. He says it's a pretty tough job trying to come up with a sparkling script week after week.

ON THE GOBEL show it has been mostly George but not entirely. Peggy King has built up quite a following.

Peggy's an Ohio girl, native of Ravenna, and got her first break while working for a Cleveland radio station. A staff singer became ill and Peggy made good pinch hitting.

She was signed shortly afterward as vocalist with Charlie Spivak's band which included trumpeter Knobby Lee. She became Mrs. Knobby Lee in 1953. He's now with the Liberace orchestra.

When color TV is commonplace, viewers will note that Peggy has red hair and green eyes.

The Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association will hold its annual meeting and banquet at the newly erected New Hurley Reformed Church Hall in New Hurley, Wednesday evening, October 26.

PLANS for the event were begun at the first meeting of the committee in charge, composed of representatives of all three departments, held June 23 at the church hall. Fred DuBois Jr. of New Paltz, president of the association, outlined the purpose of the annual meeting, following which the committee elected Gerow Schoonmaker of Wallkill, chairman. Other committee members are Mrs. Lawrence Dolan and Paul Lien of Wallkill, Mrs. Wallace Palen of Gardiner and Mrs. Albert Milliken and Ira Nelson Saxe of Kingston. County Extension Service Agents, Miss Patricia French, William Palmer, Robert Guzewich and Everice Parsons were also present.

Portraits Given To Senate House By Two Families

A bequest of fine portraits has been left to the Senate House Association under the will of the late Charles Victor Livingston. These notable paintings of the Livingston family comprise two by the Kingston-born artist, John Vanderlyn, of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Livingston; Thomas Sully's Angelica Livingston; Gilbert Stuart's Mrs. Robert R. Livingston, and that of Mrs. Freeborn Garretson, by an unknown artist.

In addition, Oscar Hasbrouck and his sister, Mrs. C. V. Livingston, have presented to the Senate House Association a rare Pieter Vanderlyn portrait of their ancestress, Helen Jansen Sleght, which was painted when the sitter was six years old, in 1745.

THE ARTIST, Pieter Vanderlyn, grandfather of John, was a physician and surgeon in the Dutch Naval Service for three years of the coast of Africa before coming to this country at the beginning of the 18th Century. He arrived in New York with little else except his profession, youth, energy, and a marked talent for painting and skill in drawing. It was not long before he made his home in Kingston where he executed a number of portraits, and also during visits to Albany. His work is now reckoned as an outstanding type of early American primitives.

One of the greatest American artists, Gilbert Stuart, 1755-1828, was well-known in England. He studied under Benjamin West in London and in his prime enjoyed brilliant success as a painter of numerous leading personalities of that day, which included portraits of George III, George IV, and in Paris, Louis XVI. After five years, he returned to his own country to paint George Washington. Stuart's Athenaeum head of Washington on an unfinished canvas, shoring the left side of the face remains the accepted likeness of the first American President. His technique and original coloring, besides his shrewd delineation of character stamp his work with a high creative quality in his art.

THOMAS SULLY, 1783-1872, was an Englishman whose actor-parents brought him to America when nine years old and settled in Charleston, S. C. His first training in art came from a French miniaturist. Later he spent several years in Gilbert Stuart's studio, and then went to London to follow in the footsteps of Benjamin West. One of his best known portraits, is that of the youthful Queen Victoria painted for the St. George Society of Philadelphia, and another, the portrait of Lafayette which hangs in Independence Hall.

"The Kingston people should feel proud that this unique and beautiful collection of paintings is now on permanent exhibition in their Senate House Museum, and it is hoped that they will take an early opportunity to see them," a spokesman said.

Clarification Asked

In its description of a picture in Thursday's issue, The Freeman said the Cerebral Palsy Mothers Club at a special testimonial dinner at the Kirkland Hotel had presented Mrs. Charlotte Peck, executive director of the Ulster County Center, with a camera as a token of appreciation for her fine work. It was explained today, however, that the occasion was simply the regular meeting of the club and that Mrs. Peck had accepted the gift on behalf of the center and for use by the center.

It isn't easy to find the best defense against five hearts in today's hand. Put yourself in the East seat and see if you can discover the best line of play.

West, your partner, leads the deuce of clubs, and you win the first trick with the king. You continue hopefully with the ace of clubs, and this likewise wins the trick. You now need one further trick to defeat the contract.

Where can another trick be found? One look at the dummy convinces you that you won't find a spade trick. If West has a natural trump trick, he will get it no matter what you do. Clubs are hopeless since it is clear that West has the missing jack. If West had held only two clubs he would have led the seven first instead of the deuce.

By the process of elimination, you come to diamonds. It's very unlikely that your partner is void of diamonds, but it's possible. The chief reason for leading diamonds, however, is that you may be able to keep declarer out of his hand.

Let's see how it works. At the third trick you return a diamond. South plays low, West plays the seven of diamonds, and dummy has to win. Now, how does South get to his hand to take the finesse in trumps? The answer is that he can't possibly lose the setting trick to the king of hearts.

When this hand was actually played, East was thoughtful enough to make the diamond switch at the third trick. As it turned out, however, East was wasting his time. South played the four of diamonds, and West woodenly played the queen! This silly play allowed South to get to his hand with the ten of diamonds, and the trump finesse then gave declarer the contract.

GUARANTEED WAGES

America's economic base is steadily being broadened and deepened. What has been done already has helped as well as hurt a lot of people. This article will briefly weigh what benefits and hardships recent events have brought our country.

The guaranteed wage program, of incalculable benefit to millions of people, sets a new pattern in our economic life. For better or for worse, it will have its impact on 165,000,000 Americans. Somebody must pay for everything, and I don't see how increased efficiency can pay the costs of this program. Higher prices will inevitably result.

Plans of guaranteed wages will almost certainly invade many key industries. And rising prices will follow. The millions of workers whose wages will keep pace with prices will be glad of the program.

America is already a land of relatively high prices. The inflation of the past 20 years has cruelly hit a large unorganized minority who, with falling incomes and rising costs, suffer alone with nobody to champion their cause. Inflation can be and is a devastating economic force in lowering living standards.

I would say that for every person benefited by guaranteed wages there will be a large fraction of a person injured by them. Maybe numerically it will be a standoff. The country will have to adjust itself to these new conditions, and if things are priced out of markets a lot of people living on interest and fixed incomes will have to go without many things.

THIS PROGRAM, it seems to me, will force steel and automobile prices higher. And corporations like United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler dynamically affect economic conditions in America. As I have said, price increases can be absorbed in some circles but not in all. And where they can't be, there will be economic hardship.

Inflation has become part and parcel of economic America. Those who benefit by it love it, and those who suffer under it are, for the most part, the uncomplaining minority.

Higher prices, higher wages, higher costs—these are some of the natural concimitants of this program. And again—as so often in recent years—investors trying to live on interest income should carefully examine their assets with the view of increasing the earnings of their capital.

There is nothing on the horizon that I can see that will, in the forseeable future, (1) reduce the basic price level much or (2) increase interest rates. Consequently, that great army of investors trying to pay high prices with low-interest money should see the handwriting on the wall that this new economic force has put there.

As I writ this, the stock market is strong. Part of this strength is superinduced by the knowledge in some circles that guaranteed wages will further cause deterioration of the dollar and by buying sound equities, perhaps some protection of the dollar's purchasing power can be won.

Unnecessary sales of sound stocks should not be made. And where investors should protect future buying power good equities should be bought.

THE FORUM—(Q) "What financial program do you follow?" (A) I carry two checking accounts—about 5 per cent of my wealth. My insurance is about 25 per cent. The remainder (70 per cent) is invested in sound dividends paying common stocks, that are not for sale, and in appreciation securities.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

Shokan

Shokan, June 24 — Mrs. Gabriel Richard and son, Paul, of Manhattan are again at the Richard summer home in the village center for the summer.

L. Sable was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Wednesday.

Local firemen were called out early Wednesday morning to make the 3-mile run to the Hellmann mountainside house.

Edna Sheinberg and Mrs. Louis Stein, members of the Chichester summer residence colony were recent callers in the village. They report that their neighbor in the Shandaken village, Selma Parner, is getting along well following a operation in New York about a week ago.

A fleet of brand new sedans has been added to the Ashokan reservoir police department. They replace the familar jeeps with which the alert guardsmen have patrolled the water supply preserve and roads the past two years. Several new light trucks also are being used by the operating and maintenance employes.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson moved here from Rochester on Wednesday and are occupying the Leonard Ruckert upstairs apartment in the village center. Johnson is engaged in Boy Scout work in Kingston.

John Schoonmaker, Kingston contractor, and assistants have the new telephone central building addition well under way. The addition reportedly will be of cement blocks with brick veneer to harmonize with the main building exterior.

Junior Police

Detroit (AP) — The suburb of Roseville has set up a Junior Police Force. Boys and girls 12 to 18 are pledged to help in traffic patrol work, protect public buildings against vandalism and promote good citizenship. They will wear special badges.

GUARANTEED WAGES

America's economic base is steadily being broadened and deepened. What has been done already has helped as well as hurt a lot of people. This article will briefly weigh what benefits and hardships recent events have brought our country.

The guaranteed wage program, of incalculable benefit to millions of people, sets a new pattern in our economic life. For better or for worse, it will have its impact on 165,000,000 Americans. Somebody must pay for everything, and I don't see how increased efficiency can pay the costs of this program. Higher prices will inevitably result.

Plans of guaranteed wages will almost certainly invade many key industries. And rising prices will follow. The millions of workers whose wages will keep pace with prices will be glad of the program.

America is already a land of relatively high prices. The inflation of the past 20 years has cruelly hit a large unorganized minority who, with falling incomes and rising costs, suffer alone with nobody to champion their cause. Inflation can be and is a devastating economic force in lowering living standards.

I would say that for every person benefited by guaranteed wages there will be a large fraction of a person injured by them. Maybe numerically it will be a standoff. The country will have to adjust itself to these new conditions, and if things are priced out of markets a lot of people living on interest and fixed incomes will have to go without many things.

THIS PROGRAM, it seems to me, will force steel and automobile prices higher. And corporations like United States Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler dynamically affect economic conditions in America. As I have said, price increases can be absorbed in some circles but not in all. And where they can't be, there will be economic hardship.

Inflation has become part and parcel of economic America. Those who benefit by it love it, and those who suffer under it are, for the most part, the uncomplaining minority.

Higher prices, higher wages, higher costs—these are some of the natural concimitants of this program. And again—as so often in recent years—investors trying to live on interest income should carefully examine their assets with the view of increasing the earnings of their capital.

There is nothing on the horizon that I can see that will, in the forseeable future, (1) reduce the basic price level much or (2) increase interest rates. Consequently, that great army of investors trying to pay high prices with low-interest money should see the handwriting on the wall that this new economic force has put there.

As I writ this, the stock market is strong. Part of this strength is superinduced by the knowledge in some circles that guaranteed wages will further cause deterioration of the dollar and by buying sound equities, perhaps some protection of the dollar's purchasing power can be won.

Unnecessary sales of sound stocks should not be made. And where investors should protect future buying power good equities should be bought.

THE FORUM—(Q) "What financial program do you follow?" (A) I carry two checking accounts—about 5 per cent of my wealth. My insurance is about 25 per cent. The remainder (70 per cent) is invested in sound dividends paying common stocks, that are not for sale, and in appreciation securities.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions, write in care of this newspaper.

Shokan

Shokan, June 24 — Mrs. Gabriel Richard and son, Paul, of Manhattan are again at the Richard summer home in the village center for the summer.

L. Sable was a caller in the hub of the reservoir country Wednesday.

Local firemen were called out early Wednesday morning to make the 3-mile run to the Hellmann mountainside house.

Edna Sheinberg and Mrs. Louis Stein, members of the Chichester summer residence colony were recent callers in the village. They report that their neighbor in the Shandaken village, Selma Parner, is getting along well following a operation in New York about a week ago.

A fleet of brand new sedans has been added to the Ashokan reservoir police department. They replace the familar jeeps with which the alert guardsmen have patrolled the water supply preserve and roads the past two years. Several new light trucks also are being used by the operating and maintenance employes.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson moved here from Rochester on Wednesday and are occupying the Leonard Ruckert upstairs apartment in the village center. Johnson is engaged in Boy Scout work in Kingston.

John Schoonmaker, Kingston contractor, and assistants have the new telephone central building addition well under way. The addition reportedly will be of cement blocks with brick veneer to harmonize with the main building exterior.

Junior Police

Detroit (AP) — The suburb of Roseville has set up a Junior Police Force. Boys and girls 12 to 18 are pledged to help in traffic patrol work, protect public buildings against vandalism and promote good citizenship. They will wear special badges.

When Ideas Hide

By FRANK TRIPP

It's a trite old saying, "There are a lot of ways to skin a cat," and no matter what's your line you know some tricks of your trade that are yours alone.

Readers would be amazed to know how often a fan letter to a writer becomes the father of an idea that appears in a column a few weeks later, and rouses the donor to say, "That's just what I was thinking." From then on he and the columnist are pals.

Some columnists, the ones that seem to know everything and be everywhere at the same time, get half of their stuff from their mail or phone tips from people who like to boast — "I sent him that!"

Folks also like to criticize, contradict and debate things with writers. I don't know what we'd do for ideas sometimes if that wasn't true.

BY-LINE WRITERS like to get letters, as do newspapers, even when they bawl them out. Ideas are a writer's bread and butter. What makes him a writer is a plentiful stock of words and his own tricks of placing them together. This creates his "style," which a fellow writer and many readers can detect without a by-line.

That looks like a limitless inventory of materials for a lifetime of scribbling. The joker is that words and ability to arrange them are worthless without an idea about which to drape them.

Ideas can hide and often are scarce. The longer a writer has camped along a favorite trail, the scarcer they become. So he reads his mail to find one. Many times an obscure sentence contains a honey.

MATT RICHARDSON, a contemporary local columnist for years before he died, was an expert at extracting ideas from his readers. He would write interestingly for days on the same topic, each mail bringing him a new slant. He had a come-on technique all his own.

When they didn't come, he'd bait the hook. One time a proof reader went to him with a galley proof to call his attention to an error in his copy.

"Matt, the old gas house was not on John Street," he said.

"I know," said Matt, "but if I don't pull that boner I won't hear from Frank Sackett. He only writes me when I'm wrong."

Mr. Sackett was a veteran bank teller, steeped in local lore and jealous of its accuracy. Every time he wrote to Matt his detailed corrections were good for a couple of more columns.

YOU MUST HAVE guessed by now that my only idea for today was a paucity of ideas. My guilt is too evident to deny. Well, what's wrong with that? When we run out of conversation it's better to start talking shop than to sit speechless when we're supposed to say something.

You get caught anyway. My mother had a yarn about a half-witted boy whose folks tried to cover his deficiencies. His mother took him to a party and coached him on his behavior.

"You just keep your mouth shut and nobody will find out what you are," she told him.

At the party a group of women tried to talk to the boy. He held his tongue, wouldn't say a word. Finally one of the women exclaimed, "That boy is a fool!"

Whereupon the youngster yelled across the room: "Maw, I kept my mouth shut and they found out I was a fool just the same."

So I thought I might better write something this idealess day than keep my mouth shut.

Either way, you'd catch me at it.

"She had to be different!"

Mechanical Brain Boon In Competitive Market

New York, June 27 (AP)—A carpet maker is turning to a mechanical brain to help him lick the problem of the public's fickle taste. To survive in the competitive age a manufacturer must roll quickly with the punches of the consumers.

Sales data, computed quickly on punched cards, reveals color and style trends in floor covering. Then another card can be punched and used to control the machinery running carpet looms.

A maker of auto seat covers each week feeds into a mechanical brain nationally gathered data on what shades are favored at the moment by suddenly color-conscious motorists.

A CARD PUNCHED from this data quickly spots a trend, the manufacturer says, and he drops a slow selling color combination from the line or pushes the public's latest color whim into fast production.

The bank speeds up handling eight fold by using an electronic device to scan the millions of travelers checks which touring Americans are scattering around Europe and the rest of the world this year.

THESE ARE a few of the examples cited by makers of office machinery to show how competition—the need to know quickly what the public fancies and to service these needs with speed—is turning business, big and little, to the use of mechanical short cuts around the mountain of time wasting paperwork.

The carpet company is C. H. Masland & Sons of Carlisle, Pa. Punched cards have been used for years to run jacquard looms. And Masland has been using Punchard card accounting methods for some time.

Now the fickleness of the public's taste, and the competitive need to change designs quickly, is turning the company to the Univac 120 punched card electronic computer.

ANALYSES of sales figures and trends have always taken too much time, the company explains. This often means letting a loom pile up weeks of production of a line that is losing ground. The Remington Rand machine will analyze sales trends quickly.

Company officials talk of the time when sales figures from field offices can be fed daily into the computer which will pulse out electrical instructions to a jacquard card controlling the looms and to the bins, hoppers and tanks of chemicals. At one mechanical clip the sales data could alter the fiber, color and weaving patterns to fit the public's latest fancy.

The Rayco Manufacturing Co. of Paterson, N. J., uses International Business Machines to solve two competitive problems.

FIRST, IT TACKLES the public's shifting tastes once a week. It feeds sales data from its 150 retail outlets around the country into punch card equipment. Trends in consumer demand for particular auto seat cover patterns and shades are quickly pinpointed. Color combinations the public tires of are quickly dropped. New patterns are rushed from the designer's drawing board into production.

The second problem is in choosing a site for a new retail outlet. Rayco specialists and IBM team up to make statistical studies of market and sales potentials in special areas. It's now branching out into the home decorating business and expects to use mechanical brains to trace taste trends in slipcovers and draperies.

The First National City Bank of New York uses a new electronics device of the Burroughs Corp. to scan the 20 million travelers checks is sells annually and which turn up in about 8,000 spots over the world. The device can handle 7,200 an hour, or eight times faster than by former methods, and at a saving of about $72,000 a year.

The Bank of America in California has just installed an electronic computer that can do 237,000 additions or subtraction a minute. Can find out if you're overdrawn in jig time.

Second Reign

The "Hundred Days" in French history was the term of Napoleon's second reign as emperor, climaxed by the battle of Waterloo.

MEMBERS OF PROJECTIONIST CLUB at the George Washington School made their first annual visit to the Sunset Drive-In Theatre this week to observe projection equipment. Standing (l-r) are Robert W. Case, manager of the Sunset, Wayne Burhans, George Kotrady, John Melchoir, Thomas Valeo and Sidney Tobakman projectionist, studying the new Cinemascope lens as compared with the old-style lens. Arrangements for the 35 club members to attend were made by Ambrose Boyd, school principal, and the youngsters were treated to refreshments as guests of the theatre. (Ken Roosa photo).

Tradition Broken

New York, June 27 (AP)—Freedom House has broken the tradition of honoring Americans with its annual award and named Sir Winston Churchill as this year's winner. Selection of the British statesman was announced yesterday by Whitney North Seymour and Dr. Harry D. Gideonse. They are respectively chairman and president of the organization, founded 14 years ago to promote the aims of a free society. They said the award will be accepted for Sir Winston on Oct. 9 by British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins.

Japan's railroad system sold 3½ billion tickets in 1954, 17 million more than ever before.

Here's why more people are buying Fords

FORD is the only car on the road with Thunderbird styling

Ford's years-ahead Thunderbird lines whisper "good taste." Its Luxury Lounge interiors sigh "comfort." Yet its price tag still says "Low!" No wonder more and more car buyers are joining the swing to Ford!

You can get Ford's Y-block V-8 : : : the only engine of its type priced so low

Only Ford in its field offers engines with the extra responsiveness of Trigger-Torque power . . . the extra smoothness that comes from deep-block design.

Exclusive Angle-Poised Front Suspension lets Ford handle easier, ride smoother

Ford pioneered Ball-Joint Suspension in the low-price field. This year, front springs are angled back to absorb road shock from the front as well as up-and-down. Now even smooth roads feel smoother!

Ford leads its field in resale value —so you get more money back

For years, Fords have returned more of their original cost at resale time than any other low-priced car. That's why more and more people who know true value are going finer . . . going Ford!

Now during our Ford summer bandwagon Sell-A-Bration is the savingest time to buy your new '55 Ford!

For the first five months of this year, our Fords have outsold every other car.

So we're Sell-a-brating! And how! Right now, during our FORD SUMMER BANDWAGON SELL-A-BRATION, we're giving top savings to match our top sales.

New patterns are rushed from the designer's drawing board into production.

The second problem is in choosing a site for a new retail outlet. Rayco specialists and IBM team up to make statistical studies of market and sales potentials in special areas. It's now branching out into the home decorating business and expects to use mechanical brains to trace taste trends in slipcovers and draperies.

The First National City Bank of New York uses a new electronics device of the Burroughs Corp. to scan the 20 million travelers checks is sells annually and which turn up in about 8,000 spots over the world. The device can handle 7,200 an hour, or eight times faster than by former methods, and at a saving of about $72,000 a year.

Tradition Broken

New York, June 27 (AP)—Freedom House has broken the tradition of honoring Americans with its annual award and named Sir Winston Churchill as this year's winner. Selection of the British statesman was announced yesterday by Whitney North Seymour and Dr. Harry D. Gideonse. They are respectively chairman and president of the organization, founded 14 years ago to promote the aims of a free society. They said the award will be accepted for Sir Winston on Oct. 9 by Brtish Ambassador Sir Roger Makins.

Here's why more people are buying Fords

FORD is the only car on the road with Thunderbird styling

Ford's years-ahead Thunderbird lines whisper "good taste." Its Luxury Lounge interiors sigh "comfort." Yet its price tag still says "Low!" No wonder more and more car buyers are joining the swing to Ford!

You can get Ford's Y-block V-8 : : : the only engine of its type priced so low

Only Ford in its field offers engines with the extra responsiveness of Trigger-Torque power . . . the extra smoothness that comes from deep-block design.

Exclusive Angle-Poised Front Suspension lets Ford handle easier, ride smoother

Ford pioneered Ball-Joint Suspension in the low-price field. This year, front springs are angled back to absorb road shock from the front as well as up-and-down. Now even smooth roads feel smoother!

Ford leads its field in resale value —so you get more money back

For years, Fords have returned more of their original cost at resale time than any other low-priced car. That's why more and more people who know true value are going finer . . . going Ford!

Now during our Ford summer bandwagon Sell-A-Bration is the savingest time to buy your new '55 Ford!

For the first five months of this year, our Fords have outsold every other car.

So we're Sell-a-brating! And how! Right now, during our FORD SUMMER BANDWAGON SELL-A-BRATION, we're giving top savings to match our top sales.

Hurry in and get our "best."

Test Drive the '55 FORD at your nearest Ford Dealer's!

Memphis Plays 'Trump Card' on Dixon-Yates Bill

Washington, June 27 (AP) — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said today "it would appear the city of Memphis has played the trump card" in a long battle aimed at blocking construction of the Dixon-Yates plant.

Gore and other Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) supporters said Memphis' decision to build its own electric plant, made last Thursday, would give them the ammunition they need to win a Senate showdown on the issue.

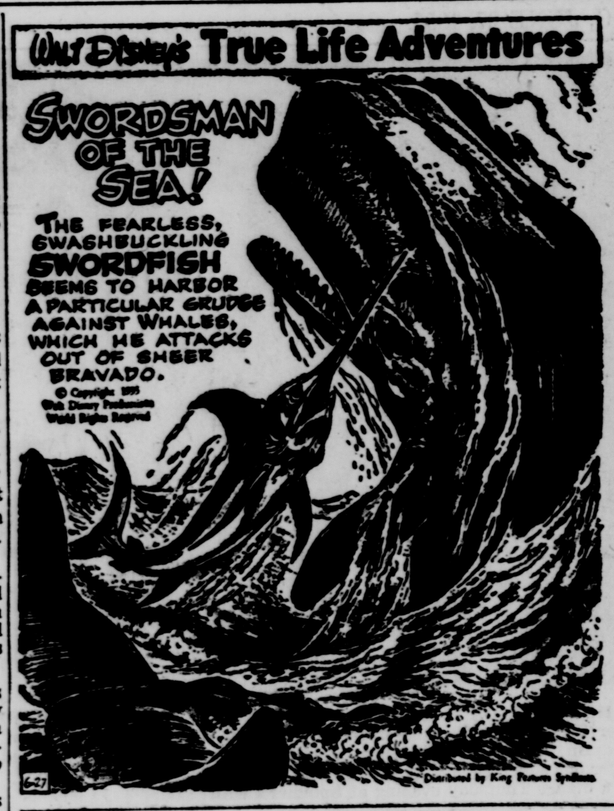
The Tennessee senator made the comment in an interview at the outset of a week which promised several Senate developments on Dixon-Yates.

A Senate Appropriations Subcommittee handling TVA and Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) funds meet behind closed doors today to vote on its allocations for those agencies.

THE KEY ITEM at stake is 6½ million dollars asked by President Eisenhower for a transmission line to tie the proposed Dixon-Yates plant into the TVA system.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala.), who heads the subcommittee, is a determined foe of the Dixon-Yates plant. But his group's decisions will have to be passed on by the public works subcommittee and later the full appropriations committee.

THE OUTCOME in the commitee appears extremely close, with a floor battle certain to follow. In the House, the appropriations committee recommended that the transmission line not be authorized. It urged that the money be used instead to start work on a long-sought TVA steam plant at Fulton, Tenn. But administration supporters succeeded in reversing this on the House floor.



Times Buys Land For Future

New York, June 27 (AP)—The New York Times has bought a tract of land three blocks long on the west side of midtown Manhattan, about one mile north of its present location near Times Square.

The purchase was announced yesterday by Publisher Arthur Hays Sulzberger. In a statement he said:

"The New York Times is preparing for future growth in a manner consistent with its past experience.

"DURING THE past 104 years the Times has moved from Nassau street to Park Row to Times Square, and has occupied nine different buildings, including the four now combined in the present structure. This expansion over the years has been made to meet the demands placed upon the Times by increased advertising volume and rising circulation.

"It has been apparent to us for some time that eventually we will reach the point where we cannot expand further in our present location in the center of the crowded theatre district."

The new site was bought from the New York Central Railroad and joins the railroad's tracks along the Hudson river between 62nd and 65th streets. The location, Sulzberger said, will eliminate the need for trucks to move seven thousand tons of newsprint each week.

THE PROPERTY has a maximum depth of 238 feet along 65th street and tapers off at its southern end. It is now occupied by tracks and other installations connected with the railroad's 60th street freight terminal.

The published said the Times does not expect to move "for several more years" and will take the step only "after a careful review of all the factors involved."

He did not disclose details of the transaction.

Wheat Quotas Win Over Farm Opposition

Syracuse, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Marketing quotas for wheat have won approval despite the opposition of New York farmers.

The State Stabilization Committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Saturday night that 1,114 New Yorkers had voted against the 1956 quotas and 862 for them; 82 votes were challenged. About 12,000 were eligible.

New York voted against the program last year but it won approval from farmers on a nationwide basis.

5 Dead in Bomber Crash

Trier, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Five members of a British bomber crew were killed yesterday when their plane collided with an American jet fighter during NATO air maneuvers near here. The American pilot was injured only slightly when he bailed out. No names were released.

Graham Addresses 65,000 in Germany

Nuernberg, Germany, June 27 (AP)—American Evangelist Billy Graham addressed his largest revival meeting crowd in Germany last night—65,000, according to police estimates.

About 9,000 U. S. servicemen and their families were in the audience at the former Nazi party rally grounds here. At the conclusion of Graham's sermon, 6,000 persons 1,200 Americans among them — stepped forward at his urging to make "decisions for Christ."

Graham's last meeting in Germany during his current crusade will be at Dortmund tomorrow.

He told a news conference here that he had been invited by the Manhattan Protestant Council to conduct a "Crusade for Christ" in New York city and will discuss the project with the council when he returns to the United States next month. If plans are agreed, Graham said, the New York crusade could not be scheduled before 1957.

Babysitter Wanted

Constance Joyner, Robert Keating, Jr. Wed in Albany

The wedding of Miss Constance Marie Joyner and Robert Emmet Keating, Jr., was solemnized in a ceremony held Saturday morning at St. Theresa of Avilia Church, Albany, at 11 a. m. The Rev. John Nevins officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Earl Joyner, 3A Weis Road, Albany, and the bridegroom, of Albany, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmet Keating, Sr., of Cleveland, O., formerly of this city.

Miss Rosemary Murphy played organ accompaniment for the soloist, John Hession.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tucked nylon over taffeta with Venise lace bodice falling to a chapel train of Venise lace with matching mitts. A pearl trimmed Venise lace crown with simulated orange blossoms secured an illusion veil. She carried a prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Alan Joseph Roberts of Plainville, Conn., was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a gown of white eyelet embroidered organdy over pink taffeta with matching cummerbund, headband and shoes. She carried a garden basket of pink, blue and white daisies.

The bridemaids were Miss Joyce Chapman of Albany and Miss Caroline Scanlon of Altamont. They wore gowns of white eyelet embroidered organdy over blue taffeta with matching cummerbund, headband and shoes, and carried a garden basket of blue daises and baby's breath.

The best man was Stephen Keating, cousin of the bridegroom, of this city. The ushers were Alan Joseph Roberts of Plainville, Conn., and Ralph Thompson of Troy.

A reception was held at the Aurania Club following the wedding.

The bride, a graduate of Vincentian Institute, was awarded an associate degree in science at New York State College of Economics and Agriculture in Cobleskill. She was dietitian at Brewster Central School, Brewster.

The bridegroom a graduate of Albany High School, served with the Army in Korea and Germany. He is copy editor of the Times-Union, Albany.

MRS. TALLMADGE BRADLEY, the former Grace Dorothea Marburger, of Powell's Lane. (Photo Workshop photo)

Grace Marburger, Tallmadge Bradley Nuptials Are Held

First Dutch Reformed Church was the scene Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Grace Dorothea Marburger and Tallmadge Raymond Bradley, BT3, USN. The Rev. Arthur Oudemool officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Marburger of Powell's Lane and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tallmadge Bradley of 95 Rutgers street, Rochester.

Miss Lucy Merritt played the following selections on the organ: "Traumerei," Schumann; "Cantique d'amour," Sheppard; "Theme," Vieuxtemps; "Prayer," by Pache; and "Pastorale," by Alexis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white gown of lace and tulle over slipper satin fashioned with a lace mandarin collar, silk illusion neckline to the shoulder line, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists, a fitted bodice with iridescent sequins, and a floor length bouffant skirt of nylon tulle over satin. A fingertip veil of French imported illusion was gathered to a headpiece of lace and tulle edged by large seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of English ivy, small white daisies and majestic daisies.

Miss Barbara Simmons of 82 Wrentham street was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink tulle over satin and carried a bouquet of pink and blue daisies and delphiniums on ivy.

Robinson Rider of 75 Lounsbery place served as best man. The ushers were Rudolph Schlichting, 256 Washington avenue, and Alfred Goeller, Clinton avenue.

A reception was held at the Roseland restaurant for 50 guests following the ceremony.

For the wedding trip by car through New York state, the bride chose a tan linen suit with navy and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride was employed at Wall Street Bakery.

The bridegroom has served two years in the Navy. They will make their home at 85 Sims street, Tonomy Hill, Newport, R. I., where the bridegroom is stationed aboard the USS Yosemite.

APPLYING FOR A JOB

A young woman writes as follows: "I have just been graduated from college and intend to start looking for a job. As this will be my first experience along this line, I would very much appreciate any pointers you can give me as to how to conduct myself when being interviewed for a job."

First of all, be neat in your appearance. Clothes brushed, shoes shined, hair neat. Nails must be clean. When you are asked a question, don't break in with your answer before your interviewer has finished the question. Don't be flippant or slangy. State your qualifications briefly and truthfully. Wait to be asked to sit down and let your manner be straightforward. Don't pretend to have experience when you do not, but say instead that you will do your best to learn. Tell a clear straight story and make it short. The important point is not to be nervous. Don't imagine the man who is granting you an interview is an ogre. Remember employers are human beings, too.

How Old Is She?

Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think it kind to stand aside for a much older woman to go first, or kinder not to draw attention to the difference in our ages?

Answer: This depends upon how much difference there is. Certainly you would not stand aside for one only a few years older that you. But to stand aside for one who is of your mother's generation—or older—could not cause annoyance.

Clothes for a Summer Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: May brown and white shoes be worn with white flannel trousers and a blue coat at a wedding in the suburbs by the men in the wedding party?

Answer: All white shoes would be best taste at the wedding. At other times, in the country, brown and white shoes are very smart with white or even gray flannel trousers and a blue or tweed coat.

Five Graduated At West Hurley School, June 24

Five children graduated from the West Hurley School in final exercises last Friday night.

They were Barbara Voigt, Mary Claire Kiff, Clyde Russell, Robert Franz and Charles Myers.

Barbara Voight, valedictorian, whose topic was, Yes, I Want to Teach, pointed out the disadvantages of teaching, then cited what she considered the advantages of that profession.

Mary Claire Kiff, salutatorian, spoke on the subject, Our Changing Schools. She recalled the history of the West Hurley schools from the first school in the valley that is now part of Ashokan Reservoir to the present modern building completed this spring. She also compared this development with the development of education in New York state from the time of the Iroquois Indians to the modern schools of today.

Clyde Russell received the Charles Relyea award for the greatest improvement in scholarship during the year. Jerome Kemmerer presented the graduates with presents in behalf of the Parent-Teachers Association.

Howard C. St. John, Ulster county district attorney, guest speaker, congratulated the people of the community for their foresight in building such a fine school and urged the children to respect each other, their God, parents and country.

Robert Nussbaum, president of the board of education, presented diplomas. He recalled that he had graduated from the West Hurley School 23 years ago. Five of the eight graduates of that class now reside in West Hurley.

The children sang a selection of four songs under the direction of Mrs. Peter Ettienne with Mrs. Jack Clair at the piano. Mrs. Howard Every and Miss Louise Haynes made the corsages for the girls in the graduating class.

HONORED ON RETIREMENT — Retiring after 28 years as director of the federal lunch program in Kingston schools with nine schools under her supervision was Mrs. Hazel Townsend. At a dinner Thursday evening at Spindler's with 30 guests present honoring her retirement were Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Townsend the guest of honor and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Mays. (Freeman photo)

Graham Addresses 65,000 in Germany

Nuernberg, Germany, June 27 (AP)—American Evangelist Billy Graham addressed his largest revival meeting crowd in Germany last night—65,000, according to police estimates.

About 9,000 U. S. servicemen and their families were in the audience at the former Nazi party rally grounds here. At the conclusion of Graham's sermon, 6,000 persons 1,200 Americans among them — stepped forward at his urging to make "decisions for Christ."

Graham's last meeting in Germany during his current crusade will be at Dortmund tomorrow.

He told a news conference here that he had been invited by the Manhattan Protestant Council to conduct a "Crusade for Christ" in New York city and will discuss the project with the council when he returns to the United States next month. If plans are agreed, Graham said, the New York crusade could not be scheduled before 1957.

Louisville, Ky., June 27 (AP)—A teen-ager who advertised for a job got one that left her holding two babies for nine days. Brenda Lois Wright's stint ended Saturday when Children's Center took custody of the youngsters. They were left with the 15-year-old girl on June 16 by Mrs. Donna Whitson, 20, who offered Brenda $15 a week to sit with Leslie Ann, 18 months, and Lynn, 2 months. The arrangement worked for one night. The second evening Mrs. Whitson failed to appear and Brenda, at her parents' suggestion, took the children home after leaving the monther a note of explanation. The following day Mrs. Whitson telephoned, said she was unable to pay and asked Brenda to hold the babies until the week's end.

Constance Joyner, Robert Keating, Jr. Wed in Albany

The wedding of Miss Constance Marie Joyner and Robert Emmet Keating, Jr., was solemnized in a ceremony held Saturday morning at St. Theresa of Avilia Church, Albany, at 11 a. m. The Rev. John Nevins officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Earl Joyner, 3A Weis Road, Albany, and the bridegroom, of Albany, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Emmet Keating, Sr., of Cleveland, O., formerly of this city.

Miss Rosemary Murphy played organ accompaniment for the soloist, John Hession.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white tucked nylon over taffeta with Venise lace bodice falling to a chapel train of Venise lace with matching mitts. A pearl trimmed Venise lace crown with simulated orange blossoms secured an illusion veil. She carried a prayer book with white orchid and stephanotis.

Mrs. Alan Joseph Roberts of Plainville, Conn., was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a gown of white eyelet embroidered organdy over pink taffeta with matching cummerbund, headband and shoes. She carried a garden basket of pink, blue and white daisies.

The bridemaids were Miss Joyce Chapman of Albany and Miss Caroline Scanlon of Altamont. They wore gowns of white eyelet embroidered organdy over blue taffeta with matching cummerbund, headband and shoes, and carried a garden basket of blue daises and baby's breath.

The best man was Stephen Keating, cousin of the bridegroom, of this city. The ushers were Alan Joseph Roberts of Plainville, Conn., and Ralph Thompson of Troy.

A reception was held at the Aurania Club following the wedding.

The bride, a graduate of Vincentian Institute, was awarded an associate degree in science at New York State College of Economics and Agriculture in Cobleskill. She was dietitian at Brewster Central School, Brewster.

The bridegroom a graduate of Albany High School, served with the Army in Korea and Germany. He is copy editor of the Times-Union, Albany.

Exchange Teacher At GWS Honored

A lei fashioned of 300 Vanda orchids, presented by Principal Ambrose Boyd to Mrs. Masayo Hess, now completing her year in the George Washington School as an exchange teacher, added a festive touch as members of the faculty gathered recently at Leherb's to bid "Aloha" to several members of the staff.

The lei, a nostalgic remembrance to Mrs. Hess from Miss Mary Polhemus, newly appointed principal of school 3, also completing a year as an exchange teacher at the Aina-Haina School, Honolulu, Hawaii, arrived by plane the day preceding the faculty luncheon. With the lei was a single white orchid presented to Mrs. Robert Case, office secretary, on behalf of Miss Polhemus in remembrance of her birthday anniversary.

Following the luncheon, Mr. Boyd on behalf of the faculty presented a gift to Miss Anas O'Marra, first grade teacher, retiring after 38 years of service in the New York public schools. He paid tribute to her loyalty and faithful years of service to education.

Miss O'Marra began her teaching career in Saugerties, later teaching at Malden and returning to her native Kingston in 1921. From that time she served as primary teacher in School 1 until the opening of the George Washington School in 1952 when she joined the faculty as a first grade teacher.

In her retirement Miss O'Mara anticipates "doing many things that I have never had the time to do before, and enjoying life." She feels that teaching is a "trust," reminiscing that her long years of service have been so pleasant because the children have been "sweet" and tangible evidences of learning extremely rewarding.

On behalf of the faculty Mr. Boyd presented gifts to the following: Mrs. Hess who, after touring the mid-Western states, will return to Honolulu to resume her regular teaching position; Miss Mary O'Reilly, kindergarten teacher, who will accept an upper grade position in the Kingston public schools in the fall; Mrs. Edward Kolb, who will accept an appointment to the second grade at School 8 in the fall; Miss Sally Gallagher who, after touring the British Isles and the Scandinavian countries, will resume her teaching in the third grade at School 8, and Mrs. Robert Case, office secretary, in honor of her birthday anniversary. During the presentation Mr. Boyd stressed the service of each to the school and expressed personal wishes for the future success and happiness of those leaving for other duties.

The luncheon tables were attractively centered with bouquets of garden flowers. Miniature clamshell sailboats bearing "Aloha" marked each place at the tables. Members of the committee in charge of the luncheon were Mrs. Donovan Beuhring, Mrs. John Dunn, Miss Evelyn Gerber and Mrs. Frank Norman.

HIGHER EDUCATION will be the goal of these Kingston High School seniors who have enrolled in colleges throughout the country for fall. Represented in these and previous photos are entrants in schools from California to Florida with a heavy concentration on New York state schools. These college-bound seniors include: first row, l to r—Ann Schwalbach, Nancy Torrens, Kathleen Stein, Eileen Reis, Barbara Van Kleeck, Mary Mower. Second row, l to r—Ann Rider, Sarah Wieland, Amy Wells, Paula Volstein, Judith Svirsky. There is a place of purpose for everyone of us and he cautioned the graduates to "catch the invitation to that life purpose, which under God can be yours."

HE CITED numerous persons who have overcome handicaps to become world leaders. And with faith in themselves, faith in God and faith in the future, he predicted success for those who were going out into the world at this time. Three things will be required, to think and believe and aspire.

The service was opened with the invocation by the Rev. Donald E. Brown of the First Baptist Church followed by singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The scripture lesson and prayer was by the Rev. David C. Gaise of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Selections by the high school choir preceded the address by the Rev. Mr. Dykstra. The service was brought to a close with the singing of "America" and the benediction by the Rev. Vardell Swett of the Ponckhockie church.

Nine Chiang Agents Sentenced to Die

Hong Kong, June 27 (AP)—Nine "Chiang Kai-shek agents" have been sentenced to death on charges of spying and sabotage in Shantung and Shansi provinces, the official Communist New China News Agency reported today from Peiping.

Death sentences given 14 others were suspended for two years or commuted to imprisonment ranging up to life.

The Reds charged the group of 23 passed on military, political and economic information to a Nationalist espionage organization in Hong Kong.

The criminals committed seven cases of sabotage resulting in "big losses to public property," the report said.

It added the group organized armed units to prepare for the taking over of China's industrial and mining enterprises in coordination with the "U. S. armed invasion of Korea."

The suspended death sentences mean the prisoners can be executed anytime within the two-year period.

Dock Walkout Continues

London, June 27 (AP)—Waterfront strikers voted today to continue their six-week docks walkout "to the bitter end." The action was taken at a London Mass meeting after strikers from northern ports put picket lines at the major piers here. The dockers' strike of 18,500 workers in Britain has tied up nearly 200 ships and millions of dollars in vital exports and imports. It has split the ranks of the union on strike.

Held for Assault

Lazarus Sims, 43, of 40 Meadow street, was arrested early Sunday by Mary Lou Timbrouck on a third degree assault charge. A police report at 12:32 a. m., noted that Officer Hydrect Armstrong had called for a patrol car to a Canal street address. Sims was paroled for city court appearance, and City Judge Raymond J. Mino today put the case over to Tuesday. Attorney Thomas F. Saccoman appeared for the district attorney's office.

ON THE TEST for the position of fire chief, Sanford scored 86 in the written examination, 92 in experience and 100 in seniority. Brett scored 88.67 in the written test, 88 in experience and 91 in seniority.

For the position of deputy chief, Myers scored 80 in the written test, 83 in experience and 94 in seniority. Buchholtz scored 75 in the written test, 86 in experience and 88 in seniority.

Appointments are expected to be made for each position.

Big 3 May

whether and how to press a demand for total compensation.

THE SOVIET note, despite its moderate tone, sought to place blame for the incident on this country, saying the United States had not taken steps which Russia had urged previously to prevent "a repetition of undesirable incidents."

But it spoke of poor visibility and conceded "the possibility of a mistake from one side or the other."

The first mention of the incident within Russia itself, in a dispatch by the news agency Tass, did not mention Molotov's offer to pay one-half the damages.

DULLES MAY be called upon to report on the incident this week to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, some of whose members have said it raises serious questions as to whether this country should go through with the Big Four talks.

The Republican leader, Sen. Knowland (Calif), contended in a weekend interview that the attack involved a "deliberate testing" of American defenses. He said he thinks it was part of a pattern of such attacks the Communists have launched in the past when international conferences were underway or about to begin.

It was evident from Dulles' attitude, however, that the affair no longer posed any threat of upset to plans for Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Bulganin, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure to meet at Geneva July 18.

PLANS FOR the meeting were considered at foreign ministers' sessions in New York and subsequent talks in San Francisco. These talks dwelt at length on the problems of arms reduction and several specific principles were reported as appealing to the three western ministers:

1. Russia, with perhaps severe economic problems at home, is believed to be interested in slowing the arms race to some extent. It may be possible to take some practical steps to this end in the area of Europe, including European Russia. The problem is one of establishing good faith in working out an acceptable formula.

2. Such an approach should have the support and participation of all the nations with a primary interest in the military balance of the area. Therefore, if practical steps are to be taken at some later stage, it probably would be well to do this at a much broader conference — a conference basically composed of the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) allies and, if Moscow desired, the members of Russia's new Warsaw alliance of the eastern European satellites.

3. The Soviet Union proposed 18 months ago an all-European security treaty. The western powers rejected the plan as one aimed at ousting the United States from Europe. But western leaders from former British Prime Minister Churchill down have been talking for several years about the possibility of providing Russia with some kind of securty guarantees. A treaty between the NATO and the Warsaw alliance nations could accomplish something specific on disarmament and at the same time provide new security guarantees.

Officials familiar with the conversatons so far said the western powers have not frozen their ideas on how to proceed.

Red China Charges Dulles Obstructs Peace

Tokyo, June 27 (AP) — Red China's press charged today that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' address to the United Nations meeting in San Francisco Friday "smells of gunpowder."

Peiping radio quoted press accounts as saying Dulles' purpose was "to poison the international atmosphere, undermine the four powers conference (at Geneva in July) and obstruct the easing of world tension."

Peiping reacted bitterly to Dulles' charges that the Red Chinese regime "became an aggressor in Korea . . . promoted aggression in Indochina and has used force and threat of force to support its ambitions in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

Quoting from the official Communist newspaper, People's Daily, the broadcast said Dulles' speech was intended "to cover up the U. S. defeat in its aggression against Korea, China's Taiwan and Indochina and to create pretexts for further aggression in these areas and preparation for a new war."

The paper added that the speech "testified to the U. S. aggressors intense hatred of the Chinese people and their plans to aggravate world tension."

Conclude Agreement

Bonn, Germany, June 27 (AP) —The United States and West Germany have concluded a military agreement under which the Germans will get hundreds of millions of dollars worth of American equipment for their new armed forces. Diplomatic officials said today the new agreement probably will be signed this week by U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant and German Foreign Minister Heinrich Van Brentano. It must first be approved by the West German cabinet. It was drafted by American military and diplomatic officials and officials of the Foreign Ministry. The agreement will be published when it is signed.

Guild Asks Probe Of Suspension While Strike On

Albany, June 27 (AP) — The president of the American Newspaper Guild, CIO, today called for a Justice Department investigation of the suspension of the Brooklyn Eagle during a Guild strike against the newspaper.

Joseph F. Collis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., declared that the suspension last March 16 illustrated "the pattern of publishers conspiring to put a paper out of circulation so they can divide the field among the surviving papers."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the opening session of the Guild's 22nd annual convention, Collis asserted:

"The Brooklyn Eagle was bought by one or more New York newspapers to put it out of business."

THE UNION president asked the 225 delegates to adopt a resolution urging the U. S. Justice Department to determine whether the laws against monoply had been violated.

Frank D. Schroth, publisher of the afternoon paper, said in announcing the suspension of the 114-year-old Eagle that the Guild strike had forced it out of business.

The union denied this. In a pamphlet distributed at the convention, the New York local of the guild contended that Schroth planned the death of the Eagle in advance of the strike.

COLLIS SAID events since the strike made it "obvious that some disposition of the Brooklyn Eagle was made months before the guild strike date."

He termed the auction of the newspaper's assets last month a "sham." He said that several hours before the auction was scheduled one of Schroth's sons still was trying to arrange with the guild to reopen the paper.

"Items the publisher didn't want to sell he priced out of the market," Collis maintained. "The name, good will and library were to be offered, under his instructions, for $800,000. The bid on the open market and at the auction table was $8,000. . . .

"SIDNEY AND Albert Klaas, brothers who published the Brooklyn Daily, were in negotiations with the elder Schroth, the (Eagle) publisher, through his sons from early April until approximately June 8 to purchase the Eagle and reopen it under an arrangement with the American Newspaper Guild." Collis continued:

"An agreement was scheduled to be signed June 9. About the same time there was an announcement in the New York Daily News that the senior Schroth had joined the Daily News. When confronted by the Klaas brothers, Schroth is reported to have said the Daily News announcement was a few days early. . . .

"I think this situation definitely justifies an investigation by the anti-trust division of the Justice Department."

Gov. Harriman and Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-N. Y.) were among the other speakers scheduled to address the opening session of the five-day meeting.

A proposal to amend the union constitution to bar Communists from membership is one of the issues to be considered.

THE CONVENTION also will take up proposals to provide life insurance to Guild members and to eliminate alleged discriminatory hiring practices in the newspaper industry.

The convention will nominate candidates for 15 offices. If there are contests, election for the two-year terms will be held in a mail referendum in September.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, had been scheduled to address the convention Wednesday. He will not attend, however, because of negotiations with automobile manufacturers.

Industrialist Calls For Atom Good Side

Miami Beach, Fla., June 27 (AP) —A Detroit industrialist has called for development of the "Dr. Jekyll rather than the Mr. Hyde" side of atomic energy.

Walker Lee Cisler, who spoke at the opening of the Junior Chamber of Commerce International's world headquarters last night, said, "there needs to be a greater understanding on the part of people everywhere that atomic energy has the greatest potentialities for good."

He is president of Detroit Edison Co. and heads two non-governmental organizations working to develop atomic energy for peaceful purposes

He said industrial plants in this country within 25 years may be able to produce power from atoms at a cost to compete with power from other sources. Such development may come sooner in other countries where power costs are higher, he said.

The world president of the Jaycees International, Peter Watts, of Christchurch, N. Z., received a $25,000 check from the state of Florida as part of the ceremonies formally opening world headquarters. The check was presented by Lloyd Saxton of Daytona Beach, representing the governor.

Watts told the Jaycees that "one of the greatest hopes of the future lies in the hands of young men." He said he had seen them in action in 20 countries, "setting a fine example and arousing communities from complacency and apathy."

Patience in Cold War

Bonn, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today the western powers should not expect quick results in their negotiations with Russia on cold war problems. "We must display patience and firmness," the chancellor said in an article in Bonn's General Anzeiger.

There will be a special meeting of the consistory of the Reformed Church at the church hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The Ulster Park-Port Ewen Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the Methodist Church Wednesday. A covered dish supper will be served at noon on the church lawn. Members are requested to bring a covered dish and table silver. Mrs. R. M. Hasbrouck, county WCTU president, New Paltz, will be a guest. Following the luncheon the business meeting will be held. Mrs. LeRoy Van DeMark will be the program leader. A special program in observance of Flower Mission Day will be presented. The word for the roll call will be the name of the favorite flower of each member.

Not Refreshing

Cambridge, Mass., June 27 (AP) —Al Cristo turned on the cold water tap for a drink of water yesterday—and thereby averted an explosion. Instead of water, the faucet in his home emitted a blast of live steam. He called firefighters. The firefighters discovered that a hot water heater on the second floor had vaporized water in all lines in the house. Firefighters turned off the heater and drained the pipes to remove the threat of explosion.

Exchange Teacher At GWS Honored

A lei fashioned of 300 Vanda orchids, presented by Principal Ambrose Boyd to Mrs. Masayo Hess, now completing her year in the George Washington School as an exchange teacher, added a festive touch as members of the faculty gathered recently at Leherb's to bid "Aloha" to several members of the staff.

The lei, a nostalgic remembrance to Mrs. Hess from Miss Mary Polhemus, newly appointed principal of school 3, also completing a year as an exchange teacher at the Aina-Haina School, Honolulu, Hawaii, arrived by plane the day preceding the faculty luncheon. With the lei was a single white orchid presented to Mrs. Robert Case, office secretary, on behalf of Miss Polhemus in remembrance of her birthday anniversary.

Following the luncheon, Mr. Boyd on behalf of the faculty presented a gift to Miss Anas O'Marra, first grade teacher, retiring after 38 years of service in the New York public schools. He paid tribute to her loyalty and faithful years of service to education.

Miss O'Marra began her teaching career in Saugerties, later teaching at Malden and returning to her native Kingston in 1921. From that time she served as primary teacher in School 1 until the opening of the George Washington School in 1952 when she joined the faculty as a first grade teacher.

In her retirement Miss O'Mara anticipates "doing many things that I have never had the time to do before, and enjoying life." She feels that teaching is a "trust," reminiscing that her long years of service have been so pleasant because the children have been "sweet" and tangible evidences of learning extremely rewarding.

On behalf of the faculty Mr. Boyd presented gifts to the following: Mrs. Hess who, after touring the mid-Western states, will return to Honolulu to resume her regular teaching position; Miss Mary O'Reilly, kindergarten teacher, who will accept an upper grade position in the Kingston public schools in the fall; Mrs. Edward Kolb, who will accept an appointment to the second grade at School 8 in the fall; Miss Sally Gallagher who, after touring the British Isles and the Scandinavian countries, will resume her teaching in the third grade at School 8, and Mrs. Robert Case, office secretary, in honor of her birthday anniversary. During the presentation Mr. Boyd stressed the service of each to the school and expressed personal wishes for the future success and happiness of those leaving for other duties.

The luncheon tables were attractively centered with bouquets of garden flowers. Miniature clamshell sailboats bearing "Aloha" marked each place at the tables. Members of the committee in charge of the luncheon were Mrs. Donovan Beuhring, Mrs. John Dunn, Miss Evelyn Gerber and Mrs. Frank Norman.

HIGHER EDUCATION will be the goal of these Kingston High School seniors who have enrolled in colleges throughout the country for fall. Represented in these and previous photos are entrants in schools from California to Florida with a heavy concentration on New York state schools. Edward Tisch will deliver the salutatory address and Norma Thompson the valedictory.

Dr. Foster S. Brown, president of the State University of New York Teachers College, Oswego, will deliver the commencement address.

PRINCIPAL John H. Moehle will award prizes and Philip Gordon will present diplomas.

The Rev. Toombs Kay, Jr., will pronounce the invocation and Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport the benediction. The Onteora School Band will play the Processional Grand March, Intermezzo and Recessional.

Class officers are Ronald Locke, president, Robert Krein, vice-president, Kathleen Stella, secretary, and Alice Barringer, treasurer. Robert Thornell is senior class advisor.

THE BACCALAUREATE service was held last night in the auditorium with a sermon by the Rev. John W. Grob.

Sanford Leading

ination earlier this year, but part of a former list was reported still in existence.

ON THE TEST for the position of fire chief, Sanford scored 86 in the written examination, 92 in experience and 100 in seniority. Brett scored 88.67 in the written test, 88 in experience and 91 in seniority.

For the position of deputy chief, Myers scored 80 in the written test, 83 in experience and 94 in seniority. Buchholtz scored 75 in the written test, 86 in experience and 88 in seniority.

Appointments are expected to be made for each position.

whether and how to press a demand for total compensation.

THE SOVIET note, despite its moderate tone, sought to place blame for the incident on this country, saying the United States had not taken steps which Russia had urged previously to prevent "a repetition of undesirable incidents."

But it spoke of poor visibility and conceded "the possibility of a mistake from one side or the other."

The first mention of the incident within Russia itself, in a dispatch by the news agency Tass, did not mention Molotov's offer to pay one-half the damages.

DULLES MAY be called upon to report on the incident this week to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, some of whose members have said it raises serious questions as to whether this country should go through with the Big Four talks.

The Republican leader, Sen. Knowland (Calif), contended in a weekend interview that the attack involved a "deliberate testing" of American defenses. He said he thinks it was part of a pattern of such attacks the Communists have launched in the past when international conferences were underway or about to begin.

It was evident from Dulles' attitude, however, that the affair no longer posed any threat of upset to plans for Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Bulganin, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure to meet at Geneva July 18.

PLANS FOR the meeting were considered at foreign ministers' sessions in New York and subsequent talks in San Francisco. These talks dwelt at length on the problems of arms reduction and several specific principles were reported as appealing to the three western ministers:

1. Russia, with perhaps severe economic problems at home, is believed to be interested in slowing the arms race to some extent. It may be possible to take some practical steps to this end in the area of Europe, including European Russia. The problem is one of establishing good faith in working out an acceptable formula.

2. Such an approach should have the support and participation of all the nations with a primary interest in the military balance of the area. Therefore, if practical steps are to be taken at some later stage, it probably would be well to do this at a much broader conference — a conference basically composed of the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) allies and, if Moscow desired, the members of Russia's new Warsaw alliance of the eastern European satellites.

3. The Soviet Union proposed 18 months ago an all-European security treaty. The western powers rejected the plan as one aimed at ousting the United States from Europe. But western leaders from former British Prime Minister Churchill down have been talking for several years about the possibility of providing Russia with some kind of securty guarantees. A treaty between the NATO and the Warsaw alliance nations could accomplish something specific on disarmament and at the same time provide new security guarantees.

Officials familiar with the conversatons so far said the western powers have not frozen their ideas on how to proceed.

Red China Charges Dulles Obstructs Peace

Tokyo, June 27 (AP) — Red China's press charged today that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' address to the United Nations meeting in San Francisco Friday "smells of gunpowder."

Peiping radio quoted press accounts as saying Dulles' purpose was "to poison the international atmosphere, undermine the four powers conference (at Geneva in July) and obstruct the easing of world tension."

Peiping reacted bitterly to Dulles' charges that the Red Chinese regime "became an aggressor in Korea . . . promoted aggression in Indochina and has used force and threat of force to support its ambitions in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

Quoting from the official Communist newspaper, People's Daily, the broadcast said Dulles' speech was intended "to cover up the U. S. defeat in its aggression against Korea, China's Taiwan and Indochina and to create pretexts for further aggression in these areas and preparation for a new war."

The paper added that the speech "testified to the U. S. aggressors intense hatred of the Chinese people and their plans to aggravate world tension."

Conclude Agreement

Bonn, Germany, June 27 (AP) —The United States and West Germany have concluded a military agreement under which the Germans will get hundreds of millions of dollars worth of American equipment for their new armed forces. Diplomatic officials said today the new agreement probably will be signed this week by U. S. Ambassador James B. Conant and German Foreign Minister Heinrich Van Brentano. It must first be approved by the West German cabinet. It was drafted by American military and diplomatic officials and officials of the Foreign Ministry. The agreement will be published when it is signed.

Guild Asks Probe Of Suspension While Strike On

Albany, June 27 (AP) — The president of the American Newspaper Guild, CIO, today called for a Justice Department investigation of the suspension of the Brooklyn Eagle during a Guild strike against the newspaper.

Joseph F. Collis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., declared that the suspension last March 16 illustrated "the pattern of publishers conspiring to put a paper out of circulation so they can divide the field among the surviving papers."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the opening session of the Guild's 22nd annual convention, Collis asserted:

"The Brooklyn Eagle was bought by one or more New York newspapers to put it out of business."

THE UNION president asked the 225 delegates to adopt a resolution urging the U. S. Justice Department to determine whether the laws against monoply had been violated.

Frank D. Schroth, publisher of the afternoon paper, said in announcing the suspension of the 114-year-old Eagle that the Guild strike had forced it out of business.

The union denied this. In a pamphlet distributed at the convention, the New York local of the guild contended that Schroth planned the death of the Eagle in advance of the strike.

COLLIS SAID events since the strike made it "obvious that some disposition of the Brooklyn Eagle was made months before the guild strike date."

He termed the auction of the newspaper's assets last month a "sham." He said that several hours before the auction was scheduled one of Schroth's sons still was trying to arrange with the guild to reopen the paper.

"Items the publisher didn't want to sell he priced out of the market," Collis maintained. "The name, good will and library were to be offered, under his instructions, for $800,000. The bid on the open market and at the auction table was $8,000. . . .

"SIDNEY AND Albert Klaas, brothers who published the Brooklyn Daily, were in negotiations with the elder Schroth, the (Eagle) publisher, through his sons from early April until approximately June 8 to purchase the Eagle and reopen it under an arrangement with the American Newspaper Guild." Collis continued:

"An agreement was scheduled to be signed June 9. About the same time there was an announcement in the New York Daily News that the senior Schroth had joined the Daily News. When confronted by the Klaas brothers, Schroth is reported to have said the Daily News announcement was a few days early. . . .

"I think this situation definitely justifies an investigation by the anti-trust division of the Justice Department."

Gov. Harriman and Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-N. Y.) were among the other speakers scheduled to address the opening session of the five-day meeting.

A proposal to amend the union constitution to bar Communists from membership is one of the issues to be considered.

THE CONVENTION also will take up proposals to provide life insurance to Guild members and to eliminate alleged discriminatory hiring practices in the newspaper industry.

The convention will nominate candidates for 15 offices. If there are contests, election for the two-year terms will be held in a mail referendum in September.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO, had been scheduled to address the convention Wednesday. He will not attend, however, because of negotiations with automobile manufacturers.

Industrialist Calls For Atom Good Side

Miami Beach, Fla., June 27 (AP) —A Detroit industrialist has called for development of the "Dr. Jekyll rather than the Mr. Hyde" side of atomic energy.

Walker Lee Cisler, who spoke at the opening of the Junior Chamber of Commerce International's world headquarters last night, said, "there needs to be a greater understanding on the part of people everywhere that atomic energy has the greatest potentialities for good."

He is president of Detroit Edison Co. and heads two non-governmental organizations working to develop atomic energy for peaceful purposes

He said industrial plants in this country within 25 years may be able to produce power from atoms at a cost to compete with power from other sources. Such development may come sooner in other countries where power costs are higher, he said.

The world president of the Jaycees International, Peter Watts, of Christchurch, N. Z., received a $25,000 check from the state of Florida as part of the ceremonies formally opening world headquarters. The check was presented by Lloyd Saxton of Daytona Beach, representing the governor.

Watts told the Jaycees that "one of the greatest hopes of the future lies in the hands of young men." He said he had seen them in action in 20 countries, "setting a fine example and arousing communities from complacency and apathy."

Patience in Cold War

Bonn, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today the western powers should not expect quick results in their negotiations with Russia on cold war problems. "We must display patience and firmness," the chancellor said in an article in Bonn's General Anzeiger.

There will be a special meeting of the consistory of the Reformed Church at the church hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday.

The Ulster Park-Port Ewen Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the Methodist Church Wednesday. A covered dish supper will be served at noon on the church lawn. Members are requested to bring a covered dish and table silver. Mrs. R. M. Hasbrouck, county WCTU president, New Paltz, will be a guest. Following the luncheon the business meeting will be held. Mrs. LeRoy Van DeMark will be the program leader. A special program in observance of Flower Mission Day will be presented. The word for the roll call will be the name of the favorite flower of each member.

Not Refreshing

Cambridge, Mass., June 27 (AP) —Al Cristo turned on the cold water tap for a drink of water yesterday—and thereby averted an explosion. Instead of water, the faucet in his home emitted a blast of live steam. He called firefighters. The firefighters discovered that a hot water heater on the second floor had vaporized water in all lines in the house. Firefighters turned off the heater and drained the pipes to remove the threat of explosion.

Chatham Mishap Is Fatal to Two

Hudson, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Two teen-agers died early today in Columbia Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered last night when their car left a county road near Chatham and struck a tree.

Herbert J. Smith, Jr., 16, of (179 Wickham road) Garden City, and Linda Mae Hill, 14, of Chatham, were killed.

Bruce Lynn Whiteman, 16, of nearby Spencertown, also was injured. Hospital attaches said his condition was fair.

Bill Van Aken Captures Second Herdegen Title With 213 Score

Woodstock Ace Fires Rounds of 71, 72, 70; Boice Second With 217

Firing steady rounds of 71-72-70, Bill Van Aken of the Woodstock Country Club joined George Hughes of Twaalfskill among the two-time winners of the Father Herdegen Memorial golf championship over the weekend.

Booming tremendous tee shots, the once stormy petrel of local golf, introduced a new technique as he nailed down first place by a margin of four strokes over the onrushing Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill, 213 to 217.

CLARENCE "Dubby" Raichle, the first day leader with 69, slipped to a 78 Saturday at Shawangunk in Ellenville and trailed Van Aken by four shots when the finals started Sunday at Twaalfskill.

Boice, who is earning the title of the "Sam Snead of the Herdegen" finished with a sparkling 69 yesterday to cut one stroke from Van Aken's five-stroke advantage at the start of the final round.

The Woodstock Country Club champion won his first crown in 1953. Hughes captured the inaugural in 1951 and won last year's event with Raichle copping the 1952 tournament.

VAN AKEN'S final margin of four strokes was far off Hughes' seven-stroke bulge on Leon Randall in the 1951 opener. But no player in the 5-year history of the tournament played steadier or more methodical golf than Van Aken did this time out.

Maurice Davenport, the old pro, shot 73 Saturday to move into second place behind Van Aken with a 146. Raichle's 10-over-par 78 caused him to slip to third position for the showdown round. Boice, with a 75 opener at Woodstock, made his bid with a 73 Saturday.

Last man off the tee Sunday, Van Aken left little doubt about his ability to hold his margin. His first tee shot was a tremendous blast that carried to the fringe of the No. 1 green. His clip shot was short and he was down in four. He was out in 34 and back in 36 for even par figures.

BOICE CARDED his 69 with a 36-33.

George Hughes, the Twaalfskill ace, was never able to untrack himself, shooting 75-75-74 with a quadruple-bogey 8 on Shawangunk's ninth hole murdering his chances Saturday.

Charles J. "Jimmy" Turck played steady golf to tie Hughes for the fourth slot at 224. Maurice Davenport, who dipped to 79 yesterday, was all by himself at 225.

Locked in a three-way tie at 229 were Bob Daley, the 1954 Wiltwyck champion; Maurice Hand of Twaalfskill and John T. Burych, the unattached Hercules swinger.

Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., Roy Vogt and Carroll H. Schipp were knotted at 234, the last bracket in the prize money.

Jimmy Oulton Gets 2nd Ace

Jimmy Oulton, the up and coming young Twaalfskill golf ace, joined that exclusive coterie of area golfers who have registered a pair of holes-in-one.

Oulton aced the 252-yard fourth hole at Twaalfskill while playing in a threesome with George Hughes and his brother, Don Oulton. He had previously aced the No. 7 hole at Twaalfskill.

Alex Geriak, club professional, and Tony Cella, of Saugerties, who were sitting on the hill above the No. 4 green witnessed the ace.

Earlier in the day, Oulton had bagged an eagle-2 and birdie-3 on the hole in the Herdegen Memorial tournament. The ace sparked Jimmy to a four-under-par 31 for the nine holes. Hughes carded a 33 and Don Oulton had 37.

Russell Cops Ball Sweeps

Fabian L. Russell drew first prize in the Twaalfskill sweepstakes Saturday, carding a net 75 on 85 gross and 10 handicap.

Dr. Rodney Ball drew second prize with 85-8-77. Other prize winners included J. Chevernak 81-11-70; Dick Overbagh 75-0-75; Dr. John Larkin 96-18-78; Ken Wood 100-20-80.

Harold F. King posted 91-18-73; Burton Haver 83-10-73; Andy Carl 86-15-71; Robert Herzog 84-8-76; Dick Wood 86-12-74; Louis R. Netter 92-14-78.

When Joe Black was with the Brooklyn Dodgers he beat Cincinnati four times without a setback. He's now pitching for the Redlegs.

LOOK, KIDS... FUN!

CRIPPLED COWBOYS AND COWGIRLS—COWBOYS AND COWGIRLS IN HOSPITALS are common to the RODEO business. Time after time in every show the participants take spills that really hurt. You'll see forty courageous participants take chances on life and limb because of their love for one of the most thrilling sports of all time, when the SENSATIONAL CHEROKEE RANCH RODEO appears at the Arlington Speedway, Poughkeepsie, three nights, June 27th-28th and 29th, 8:30 p. m.

Shown above is KIT CRAWFORD from the Black Hills of South Dakota riding, or should we say trying unsuccessfully to ride MR. SANDMAN, a very wide-awake wild critter from the plains of Wyoming. This horse has never been ridden the full eleven seconds necessary to qualify for the saddle bronc riding prize.

The Cherokee Ranch Rodeo is a sanctioned contest. Each of the cowboys and cowgirls must draw lots for the horses and steers they ride. No one can select his own mount. Each week new horses are shipped in from the far west to have the toughest stock possible at every performance.

The big Rodeo will have 20 events at each performance. It's a complete two hour thrillfest. The show starts at 8:30 p. m., and the price of admission for Adults is $1.50, Kids 50c.

Pitches... ...Bats... ...Charts!

Newell, Corkery Pitch In Fraternal Opener

Rotary Meets Police At Stadium at 6:15

Two of the league's finest pitchers — Glenn Newell and Terry Corkery—will be on the firing line when the Fraternal Youth League opens its fourth season of play today at 6:15 o'clock at Dietz Stadium.

Plans for the parade have been cancelled, President Lou Sapp said, because the caps and socks for the players have not arrived.

MANAGER LEN Ellsworth nominated the slick young southpaw for the Police nine and Manager Lou Sapp countered with Terry Corkery, a prize graduate of the Little Leagues, for the Rotary squad.

In a previous meeting in a practice game, Newell and Corkery pitched brilliant ball.

The Police expect to field a team that will have Bob Hoffman, Frank Weishaupt, Bob Pratt and Darrel Myers in the infield. Gene Nagele will catch, with George Norton, Norm Heppner and Mark Dean in the outfield.

ROTARY WILL have an infield combination featuring Terry Kelly, Jim Dickson, Don Juhl and John Senkowitz. Lee Kias is the catcher. Tom Mickney, Ronnie Quarantino and Jim Massa will do patrol duty.

The probable batting order:

POLICE	ROTARY
Hoffman, 1b	Dickson, 2b
Meyers, ss	Quarantino, cf
Nagele, c	Corkery, p
Weishaupt, 2b	Kias, c
Pratt, 3b	Juhl, 3b

Milwaukee Signs Schenectady Ace

Milwaukee, June 27 (AP)—Warren Kilmer of Schenectady, a second baseman, has been signed to a farm-club contract by the Milwaukee Braves.

The club announced Saturday that Kilmer, a student at Cortland State Teachers College, would be sent to Quebec in the Class C Provincial League.

Wilkes Barre Quits Eastern In Favor of Johnstown, Pa.

(By The Associated Press)

The Wilkes-Barre Barons, 1954 pennant winners stumbling in sixth this year, have bowed out of the Class A Eastern League. Johnstown takes over the franchise and will begin operating July 1 as the Johnnies.

League President Thomas H. Richardson announced the shift to the western Pennsylvania city yesterday after the league's board of directors had met in emergency session at Williamsport. Richardson said that the vote was unanimous and that Baron's Manager Mike McCormick and General Manager Chuck Lucas would be retained by the Johnnies.

PROFESSIONAL baseball returns to the city of 66,675 population after a five-year layoff. Johnstown had been a member of the now-defunct Class C Middle Atlantic League.

The Barons had been in the eight-team Eastern loop, formerly the New York - Penn League, since it was organized in 1923—with the exception of the 1952 season.

The club, plagued by poor attendance, had announced several weeks ago that unless more fans turned out this month the franchise would be shifted.

A Sunday crowd of 888 turned out at Wilkes-Barre to see Schenectady snap the Barons' longest winning streak of the season at five games. Schenectady won the second game of a doubleheader, 9-4, after the Barons took the opener, 5-4.

WILLIAMSPORT, 2½ games in front, split at Albany. Rocky Tedesco's grand-slam homer in the ninth gave the Senators a 9-7 decision in the opener and pinned the first loss of the season on Manager Larry Shepard. He had won 11 straight.

Lefty Don Kildoo returned the Grays to winning ways with a two-hit, 9-0 whitewash in the afterpiece. Bill Mazeroski and Randy Davis homered and Emil Panko smacked two doubles and two singles to lead the Gray effort.

Reading pushed Binghamton out of second place, whipping the visitors twice, 7-1 and 3-2. Reading homers by Roger Maris, Maley Truss and Dick Brown in the opener sent Triplet ace Jim Coates to his third defeat in eight decisions. Don Nance went the route for his seventh victory against three setbacks.

Bobby O'Donnell homered in the nightcap to help Ben Smyth pick up his third victory in relief of Gene Law. Tom McCarthy (4-4) got the loss.

Neal Hertweck's 10th-inning homer, his 13th of the season, gave Allentown a 6-5 verdict in the opener of a twin-bill at Elmira. The pioneers took the second, 5-4, behind Tom Puehl.

Western Open To Middlecoff

Portland, Ore., June 26 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff headed for his Memphis, Tenn., home today for a three-week rest after pocketing the $2400 top money in the 52nd annual Western Open here.

The golfing dentist came from behind with a dramatic 29-34—63 in the final round yesterday to overtake Mike Souchak, husky Durham, N. C., pro, who had led him by four strokes after 54 holes. Middlecoff, at 272, was 16 strokes under par for the four-day, 72-hole event.

MIDDLECOFF, a Mississippi University alumnus playing out of Kiamesha Lake, tied the Portland Golf Club course's 18-hole record as he clubbed out nine birdies.

Souchak, an ex-Duke University football player, battled hard to catch Middlecoff after he ended the first nine holes in 34 to find that the dentist was one stroke ahead of him.

But the powerful Souchak's approaches and putts were not sharp enough. He finished with 34-35—69 for a total of 274.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, tied for third at 275.

Giants and Indians Tie In Esopus Little League

The Giants and Indians clash for the first round title in the Esopus Legion Little League this evening at 6:15 o'clock at Ross Field in Port Ewen.

The Indians created the first place deadlock Saturday with a 6-3 triumph over the Dodgers, behind Johnny Carter's 2-hit pitching. That left the Tribe tied for first with the Giants at 6 wins and 2 losses each.

LADY LUCK smiled on the Indians who were locked in a 2-2 thriller when Al Christopher, the Dodger starter had to bow out at the end of five innings because he had used up his eligibility for the week.

That brought Charlie Montafia to the mound in the sixth and the Tribe pounced on him for four runs to cinch the game and the tie for first place.

Carter and Christopher had engaged in a tense pitching duel with 15 strikeouts each. Three walks by Montafia in the seventh helped the Indians.

CARTER collected two of his team's four hits—a single and double. Dennis Schettino and Robert Miller had the others. The two Dodger safeties went to Ray Horvers and Ben Sottile.

Probable pitchers today are Al Nembhardt for the Giants and Billy Boss for the Indians.

The SCOREBOARD

(By The Associated Press)

If St. Louis outfielder Bill Virdon doesn't win the National League rookie-of-the-year award, his teammate, pitcher Luis Arroyo will. Anyway, it's almost a cinch to be in the Cardinal family.

Virdon was the whole show yesterday as the Cardinals swept a double-header for the first time this year, walloping the New York Giants 9-2 and 7-2. The bespectacled centerfielder batted in six runs with a single, two doubles, a triple and a home run to boost his average to .324.

SATURDAY night, Arroyo whipped the Giants for his ninth victory against two losses (both by one-run margins). The Puerto Rican southpaw leads all National League hurlers with a brilliant 2.01 earned run average.

The sudden collapse of Chicago's Bob Speake and the poor play of Ken Boyer (another Cardinal), strengthens the claim of Virdon and Arroyo. Speake, an early season sensation, has slumped to .254 and Boyer is hitting .240.

A couple of American League rookies — New York's Elston Howard and Cleveland's Herb Score — boosted their stock as the Yankees increased their first place lead to three games with a split against the Indians.

Howard singled and scored the insurance run as the Yankees shut out the Indians 2-0 behind Whitey Ford's four-hitter in the night cap. Early Wynn furnished the Indians with their only victory of the four-game set with a three-hit 5-0 performance in the opener.

SCORE WORKED five relief innings in the nightcap and pitched brilliantly. He permitted only one hit, walked two and struck out nine in five innings to boost his strikeout lead to 120.

The Yanks picked up a full game on the runner-up Chicago White Sox, who saw their five-game winning streak go up in smoke when they lost two games to Boston 5-2 and 8-2. The third place Indians remained six games behind New York.

Kansas City handed Baltimore its sixth and seventh straight defeats with 1-0 and 5-2 triumphs. Washington snapped its nine-game losing streak with a smashing 12-4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had come from behind to win the opener 6-4 in 10 innings.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' huge first place lead in the National League was cut slightly when Milwaukee shut them out 4-0 behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter. The runner-up Chicago Cubs advanced to within 12½ games of the Brooks, splitting their doubleheader with Pittsburgh. The Pirates won the opener 5-4 but the Cubs bounced back with a 2-1 victory to retain a half-game lead over the third place Braves.

CINCINNATI climbed to within one percentage point of the fourth-place Giants, knocking off the Philadelphia Phillies twice 16-5 and 5-0. The Reds made short work of Robin Roberts, shelling the great right-hander off the mound with three-run rallies in the first and second innings.

The Cardinals moved past the Phillies into sixth place, only a game and a half out of the first division as Harvey Haddix turned in his fifth success and rookie Larry Jackson his third. Stan Musial chipped in with his 14th home run before 29,127, the largest crowd of the year in St. Louis.

EDDIE MATHEWS made it easy for Buhl to register his fifth triumph, smashing his 17th homer of the season with two mates aboard in the eighth.

Wynn, sidelined the first three weeks of the season because of sickness, notched his 10th triumph against two losses. Ralph Kiner's 10th homer of the season and his first at Yankee Stadium, was all Wynn needed. Kiner now has 361 homers, which ties him with Joe DiMaggio for sixth place among the all-time home run leaders.

Bill Van Aken Captures Second Herdegen Title With 213 Score

Woodstock Ace Fires Rounds of 71, 72, 70; Boice Second With 217

Firing steady rounds of 71-72-70, Bill Van Aken of the Woodstock Country Club joined George Hughes of Twaalfskill among the two-time winners of the Father Herdegen Memorial golf championship over the weekend.

Booming tremendous tee shots, the once stormy petrel of local golf, introduced a new technique as he nailed down first place by a margin of four strokes over the onrushing Alvin Boice of Twaalfskill, 213 to 217.

CLARENCE "Dubby" Raichle, the first day leader with 69, slipped to a 78 Saturday at Shawangunk in Ellenville and trailed Van Aken by four shots when the finals started Sunday at Twaalfskill.

Boice, who is earning the title of the "Sam Snead of the Herdegen" finished with a sparkling 69 yesterday to cut one stroke from Van Aken's five-stroke advantage at the start of the final round.

The Woodstock Country Club champion won his first crown in 1953. Hughes captured the inaugural in 1951 and won last year's event with Raichle copping the 1952 tournament.

VAN AKEN'S final margin of four strokes was far off Hughes' seven-stroke bulge on Leon Randall in the 1951 opener. But no player in the 5-year history of the tournament played steadier or more methodical golf than Van Aken did this time out.

Maurice Davenport, the old pro, shot 73 Saturday to move into second place behind Van Aken with a 146. Raichle's 10-over-par 78 caused him to slip to third position for the showdown round. Boice, with a 75 opener at Woodstock, made his bid with a 73 Saturday.

Last man off the tee Sunday, Van Aken left little doubt about his ability to hold his margin. His first tee shot was a tremendous blast that carried to the fringe of the No. 1 green. His clip shot was short and he was down in four. He was out in 34 and back in 36 for even par figures.

BOICE CARDED his 69 with a 36-33.

George Hughes, the Twaalfskill ace, was never able to untrack himself, shooting 75-75-74 with a quadruple-bogey 8 on Shawangunk's ninth hole murdering his chances Saturday.

Charles J. "Jimmy" Turck played steady golf to tie Hughes for the fourth slot at 224. Maurice Davenport, who dipped to 79 yesterday, was all by himself at 225.

Locked in a three-way tie at 229 were Bob Daley, the 1954 Wiltwyck champion; Maurice Hand of Twaalfskill and John T. Burych, the unattached Hercules swinger.

Dr. Fred Holcomb Jr., Roy Vogt and Carroll H. Schipp were knotted at 234, the last bracket in the prize money.

Jimmy Oulton Gets 2nd Ace

Jimmy Oulton, the up and coming young Twaalfskill golf ace, joined that exclusive coterie of area golfers who have registered a pair of holes-in-one.

Oulton aced the 252-yard fourth hole at Twaalfskill while playing in a threesome with George Hughes and his brother, Don Oulton. He had previously aced the No. 7 hole at Twaalfskill.

Alex Gerlak, club professional, and Tony Cella, of Saugerties, who were sitting on the hill above the No. 4 green witnessed the ace.

Earlier in the day, Oulton had bagged an eagle-2 and birdie-3 on the hole in the Herdegen Memorial tournament. The ace sparked Jimmy to a four-under-par 31 for the nine holes. Hughes carded a 33 and Don Oulton had 37.

Russell Cops Ball Sweeps

Fabian L. Russell drew first prize in the Twaalfskill sweepstakes Saturday, carding a net 75 on 85 gross and 10 handicap.

Dr. Rodney Ball drew second prize with 85-8-77. Other prize winners included J. Chevernak 81-11-70; Dick Overbagh 75-0-75; Dr. John Larkin 96-18-78; Ken Wood 100-20-80.

Harold F. King posted 91-18-73; Burton Haver 83-10-73; Andy Carl 86-15-71; Robert Herzog 84-8-76; Dick Wood 86-12-74; Louis R. Netter 92-14-78.

When Joe Black was with the Brooklyn Dodgers he beat Cincinnati four times without a setback. He's now pitching for the Redlegs.

CRIPPLED COWBOYS AND COWGIRLS—COWBOYS AND COWGIRLS IN HOSPITALS are common to the RODEO business. Time after time in every show the participants take spills that really hurt. You'll see forty courageous participants take chances on life and limb because of their love for one of the most thrilling sports of all time, when the SENSATIONAL CHEROKEE RANCH RODEO appears at the Arlington Speedway, Poughkeepsie, three nights, June 27th-28th and 29th, 8:30 p. m.

Shown above is KIT CRAWFORD from the Black Hills of South Dakota riding, or should we say trying unsuccessfully to ride MR. SANDMAN, a very wide-awake wild critter from the plains of Wyoming. This horse has never been ridden the full eleven seconds necessary to qualify for the saddle bronc riding prize.

The Cherokee Ranch Rodeo is a sanctioned contest. Each of the cowboys and cowgirls must draw lots for the horses and steers they ride. No one can select his own mount. Each week new horses are shipped in from the far west to have the toughest stock possible at every performance.

The big Rodeo will have 20 events at each performance. It's a complete two hour thrillfest. The show starts at 8:30 p. m., and the price of admission for Adults is $1.50, Kids 50c.

ALL-ROUND—As a pitcher, Brooklyn fans compare Don Newcombe with Dazzy Vance. Big Newk is the Dodgers' number one pinch-hitter and when he pitches the batting order is packed with power hitters. The big right-hander is always in the game, for when not an active combatant, he keeps a mean pitching chart.

Newell, Corkery Pitch In Fraternal Opener

Rotary Meets Police At Stadium at 6:15

Two of the league's finest pitchers — Glenn Newell and Terry Corkery—will be on the firing line when the Fraternal Youth League opens its fourth season of play today at 6:15 o'clock at Dietz Stadium.

Plans for the parade have been cancelled, President Lou Sapp said, because the caps and socks for the players have not arrived.

MANAGER LEN Ellsworth nominated the slick young southpaw for the Police nine and Manager Lou Sapp countered with Terry Corkery, a prize graduate of the Little Leagues, for the Rotary squad.

In a previous meeting in a practice game, Newell and Corkery pitched brilliant ball.

The Police expect to field a team that will have Bob Hoffman, Frank Weishaupt, Bob Pratt and Darrel Myers in the infield. Gene Nagele will catch, with George Norton, Norm Heppner and Mark Dean in the outfield.

ROTARY WILL have an infield combination featuring Terry Kelly, Jim Dickson, Don Juhl and John Senkowitz. Lee Kias is the catcher. Tom Mickney, Ronnie Quarantino and Jim Massa will do patrol duty.

The probable batting order:

POLICE	ROTARY
Hoffman, 1b	Dickson, 2b

Milwaukee Signs Schenectady Ace

Milwaukee, June 27 (AP)—Warren Kilmer of Schenectady, a second baseman, has been signed to a farm-club contract by the Milwaukee Braves.

The club announced Saturday that Kilmer, a student at Cortland State Teachers College, would be sent to Quebec in the Class C Provincial League.

Wilkes Barre Quits Eastern In Favor of Johnstown, Pa.

(By The Associated Press)

The Wilkes-Barre Barons, 1954 pennant winners stumbling in sixth this year, have bowed out of the Class A Eastern League. Johnstown takes over the franchise and will begin operating July 1 as the Johnnies.

League President Thomas H. Richardson announced the shift to the western Pennsylvania city yesterday after the league's board of directors had met in emergency session at Williamsport. Richardson said that the vote was unanimous and that Baron's Manager Mike McCormick and General Manager Chuck Lucas would be retained by the Johnnies.

PROFESSIONAL baseball returns to the city of 66,675 population after a five-year layoff. Johnstown had been a member of the now-defunct Class C Middle Atlantic League.

The Barons had been in the eight-team Eastern loop, formerly the New York-Penn League, since it was organized in 1923—with the exception of the 1952 season.

The club, plagued by poor attendance, had announced several weeks ago that unless more fans turned out this month the franchise would be shifted.

A Sunday crowd of 888 turned out at Wilkes-Barre to see Schenectady snap the Barons' longest winning streak of the season at five games. Schenectady won the second game of a doubleheader, 9-4, after the Barons took the opener, 5-4.

WILLIAMSPORT, 2½ games in front, split at Albany. Rocky Tedesco's grand-slam homer in the ninth gave the Senators a 9-7 decision in the opener and pinned the first loss of the season on Manager Larry Shepard. He had won 11 straight.

Lefty Don Kildoo returned the Grays to winning ways with a two-hit, 9-0 whitewash in the afterpiece. Bill Mazeroski and Randy Davis homered and Emil Panko smacked two doubles and two singles to lead the Gray effort.

Reading pushed Binghamton out of second place, whipping the visitors twice, 7-1 and 3-2. Reading homers by Roger Maris, Maley Truss and Dick Brown in the opener sent Triplet ace Jim Coates to his third defeat in eight decisions. Don Nance went the route for his seventh victory against three setbacks.

Bobby O'Donnell homered in the nightcap to help Ben Smyth pick up his third victory in relief of Gene Law. Tom McCarthy (4-4) got the loss.

Neal Hertweck's 10th-inning homer, his 13th of the season, gave Allentown a 6-5 verdict in the opener of a twin-bill at Elmira. The pioneers took the second, 5-4, behind Tom Puehl.

Western Open To Middlecoff

Portland, Ore., June 26 (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff headed for his Memphis, Tenn., home today for a three-week rest after pocketing the $2400 top money in the 52nd annual Western Open here.

The golfing dentist came from behind with a dramatic 29-34—63 in the final round yesterday to overtake Mike Souchak, husky Durham, N. C., pro, who had led him by four strokes after 54 holes. Middlecoff, at 272, was 16 strokes under par for the four-day, 72-hole event.

MIDDLECOFF, a Mississippi University alumnus playing out of Kiamesha Lake, tied the Portland Golf Club course's 18-hole record as he clubbed out nine birdies.

Souchak, an ex-Duke University football player, battled hard to catch Middlecoff after he ended the first nine holes in 34 to find that the dentist was one stroke ahead of him.

But the powerful Souchak's approaches and putts were not sharp enough. He finished with 34-35—69 for a total of 274.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., and Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, tied for third at 275.

The Giants and Indians clash for the first round title in the Esopus Legion Little League this evening at 6:15 o'clock at Ross Field in Port Ewen.

The Indians created the first place deadlock Saturday with a 6-3 triumph over the Dodgers, behind Johnny Carter's 2-hit pitching. That left the Tribe tied for first with the Giants at 6 wins and 2 losses each.

LADY LUCK smiled on the Indians who were locked in a 2-2 thriller when Al Christopher, the Dodger starter had to bow out at the end of five innings because he had used up his eligibility for the week.

That brought Charlie Montafia to the mound in the sixth and the Tribe pounced on him for four runs to cinch the game and the tie for first place.

Carter and Christopher had engaged in a tense pitching duel with 15 strikeouts each. Three walks by Montafia in the seventh helped the Indians.

CARTER collected two of his team's four hits—a single and double. Dennis Schettino and Robert Miller had the others. The two Dodger safeties went to Ray Horvers and Ben Sottile.

Probable pitchers today are Al Nembhardt for the Giants and Billy Boss for the Indians.

FISHING DEEP FOR PANFISH

A FLY ROD IS IDEAL FOR PLAYING SUNFISH, PERCH, ETC., BUT FLY LINE CAN'T SINK DEEP QUICKLY LIKE A BAIT-CASTING OR SPINNING LINE, USING 1 OR 2 SPLIT SHOT SINKERS. (WHEN SUCH SCHOOL FISH ARE DEEP, YOU DON'T WANT TO WASTE TIME BETWEEN CATCHES WAITING FOR LINE TO SINK!) CLAMP SHOT (A) 18" ABOVE FLY OR BAITED HOOK. WHEN YOU FIND A SCHOOL, RISK LOSING 1ST FISH WHILE TYING A TINY THREAD ON LINE (B) TO MARK FISHING DEPTH. AFTER EACH CATCH, IT'S EASY TO LET (A) DOWN TO EXACT DEPTH AGAIN WITHOUT USING A BOBBER.

THE SCOREBOARD

(By The Associated Press)

If St. Louis outfielder Bill Virdon doesn't win the National League rookie-of-the-year award, his teammate, pitcher Luis Arroyo will. Anyway, it's almost a cinch to be in the Cardinal family.

Virdon was the whole show yesterday as the Cardinals swept a double-header for the first time this year, walloping the New York Giants 9-2 and 7-2. The bespectacled centerfielder batted in six runs with a single, two doubles, a triple and a home run to boost his average to .324.

SATURDAY night, Arroyo whipped the Giants for his ninth victory against two losses (both by one-run margins). The Puerto Rican southpaw leads all National League hurlers with a brilliant 2.01 earned run average.

The sudden collapse of Chicago's Bob Speake and the poor play of Ken Boyer (another Cardinal), strengthens the claim of Virdon and Arroyo. Speake, an early season sensation, has slumped to .254 and Boyer is hitting .240.

A couple of American League rookies — New York's Elston Howard and Cleveland's Herb Score — boosted their stock as the Yankees increased their first place lead to three games with a split against the Indians.

Howard singled and scored the insurance run as the Yankees shut out the Indians 2-0 behind Whitey Ford's four-hitter in the night cap. Early Wynn furnished the Indians with their only victory of the four-game set with a three-hit 5-0 performance in the opener.

SCORE WORKED five relief innings in the nightcap and pitched brilliantly. He permitted only one hit, walked two and struck out nine in five innings to boost his strikeout lead to 120.

The Yanks picked up a full game on the runner-up Chicago White Sox, who saw their five-game winning streak go up in smoke when they lost two games to Boston 5-2 and 8-2. The third place Indians remained six games behind New York.

Kansas City handed Baltimore its sixth and seventh straight defeats with 1-0 and 5-2 triumphs. Washington snapped its nine-game losing streak with a smashing 12-4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had come from behind to win the opener 6-4 in 10 innings.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' huge first place lead in the National League was cut slightly when Milwaukee shut them out 4-0 behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter. The runner-up Chicago Cubs advanced to within 12½ games of the Brooks, splitting their doubleheader with Pittsburgh. The Pirates won the opener 5-4 but the Cubs bounced back with a 2-1 victory to retain a half-game lead over the third place Braves.

CINCINNATI climbed to within one percentage point of the fourth-place Giants, knocking off the Philadelphia Phillies twice 16-5 and 5-0. The Reds made short work of Robin Roberts, shelling the great right-hander off the mound with three-run rallies in the first and second innings.

The Cardinals moved past the Phillies into sixth place, only a game and a half out of the first division as Harvey Haddix turned in his fifth success and rookie Larry Jackson his third. Stan Musial chipped in with his 14th home run before 29,127, the largest crowd of the year in St. Louis.

EDDIE MATHEWS made it easy for Buhl to register his fifth triumph, smashing his 17th homer of the season with two mates aboard in the eighth.

Wynn, sidelined the first three weeks of the season because of sickness, notched his 10th triumph against two losses. Ralph Kiner's 10th homer of the season and his first at Yankee Stadium, was all Wynn needed. Kiner now has 361 homers, which ties him with Joe DiMaggio for sixth place among the all-time home run leaders.

U. S. Open Champ Wants More Golf

New York, June 27 (AP)—Jack Fleck, a golfing nonentity until he won the U. S. Open a week ago, still was weighing a bagful of money making offers today—but he's sure of only one thing:

He wants to get back to the tournament circuit.

"I've had all sorts of financial offers," he said as he took a breather between television appearances. "I have had inducements from factories, from shirt and hat manufacturers, and I even had a proposition to invest in a table on wheels.

"But I want to stay in golf and I will. I want to get back to the game as soon as possible."

THE 32-YEAR-OLD Davenport, Ia., professional, who beat Ben Hogan in a play off for the title after shooting an 87 in a practice round, said he would like to play in as many tournaments as possible.

"Right now, though," he added, "I'm not quite sure what my schedule will be except the Professional Golfers Association championship in Detroit starting July 20. The promoters in San Francisco (site of the Open) told me I'd be forgotten next year and that I should retire and make investments. But I'm still young and physically fit, so I'll continue playing."

Colonials Drop Second League Contest to Poughkeepsie, 6-3

Veteran Tulacz Checks Locals On Eight Hits

Davi Launches Hunt For More Local Talent

Manager Fred Davi of the Kingston Colonials is on the prowl for more talent for his New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League entry which opens the local season next Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

The Colonial pilot saw Whitey Tulacz, ancient pitcher-manager of the Poughkeepsie club stop the Colonials, 6-3, on eight hits last night at Riverview Field and that was the clincher.

TULACZ, 40-PLUS and out of action for several years, checked the Colonials with single tallies in the fourth, fifth and eighth innings.

Clinton Gary, University of Connecticut southpaw, permitted only seven hits but the home club bunched them in the early frames to lead 6-1 at the end of four. Gary fanned nine batters but allowed eight walks.

Tulacz, always a control artist, walked only one man and whiffed four.

KINGSTON PICKED up its first run with two out in the fourth on Johnny McMann's single and Big Sal Misasi's triple to deep center. Misasi was out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer.

A two-base error by shortstop Bates and Gary's single accounted for a Kingston run in the fifth. The third local marker was the result of a two base boot by McKenna's grounder and Ed Appleby's single.

McMANN, the flashy Connecticut first sacker and cleanup hitter, had two of the Colonials' eight hits. Brown socked a pair of singles for the home tossers.

Davi announced this morning that he would conduct tryouts for the Colonial team at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday at Dietz Stadium, with a third session scheduled Friday at 6:30 p. m. All area baseball players are invited.

St. Joseph's rolled to its fourth straight CYO Baseball League victory, as Paul Giannuzzi stopped St. Colman's of East Kingston, 11-1, on five hits.

The St. Joseph's hurler walked four and fanned 11. The unbeaten winners collected 15 hits off Dom Parise who walked four and struck out seven.

GIANNUZZI was staked to a four-run lead in the first inning and that was more than he needed. Giannuzzi also helped his own cause with a pair of doubles and a single to pace St. Joe's at the plate.

Joe Modica hit a homer and single for the winners. Joe Pino and Jack Dawkins also had a brace of safeties and Frank Secreto whacked a double. Kish led East Kingston with two hits, including a double.

The teams meet again Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Athletic Field, with Frank Reis and Pete Tiano the probable starters.

Hurricane Jackson Meets Jimmy Slade

By MURRAY ROSE
(The Associated Press)

Tommy Jackson, the heavyweight hurricane who blew himself out, will try and stir up a stiff breeze tonight in a return 10-rounder with Jimmy Slade, the ring "cutie" from New York.

It was Slade who halted Jackson's meteoric rise 14 months ago. The veteran 28-year old whipped the strapping, 23-year old Jackson in a 10-rounder. The defeat came after Jackson had soundly trounced Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Buccaroni and appeared headed for a shot at the title.

NINO VALDES further deflated Jackson by stopping "The Animal" in the second round three months later. Since then the 191-pound 6 2½ Jackson has won five straight over mediocre opposition. He is rated the fourth contender.

Slate, onetime conquerer of Don Cockell, is on the downgrade. He has lost four of his last five. This looks like a good spot for Jackson to gain revenge.

The bout at New York's St. Nicolas Arena will be telecast (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m., EDT).

LIGHTWEIGHT Champion Jimmy Carter is a 3-1 choice to retain his title Wednesday night in a 15-rounder with Cincinnati's Wallace (Bud) Smith at the Boston Garden Wednesday night. The bout will be broadcast and telecast (ABC TV and Radio, 9 p. m., EST) with New England blacked out of the TV.)

This is the 11th title fight for the 31-year-old New Yorker, only fighter to win a title three times. An in-and-outer, Carter was beaten in his last start by Orlando Zulueta on April 20. Smith, 26, was held to a 10-round draw by Johnny Gonsalves on Jan. 8, the challenger's most recent outing.

Carter outpointed Smith in a 10-rounder five years ago when both were begging for fights.

NEW ORLEANS features former light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim of Cleveland against Willie Pastrano, a home town boy, in a 10-rounder at the Municipal Auditorium Tuesday night. Maxim has been guaranteed $15,000 to test the Crescent City speed boy.

The Friday night radio-television fights are off the air on a regular weekly basis until the fall. There will be an occasional show, however. The next one is the July 22 middleweight tilt between Sugar Ray Robinson and Rocky Castellani at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Shot by Policeman Fleeing Apartment

New York, June 27 (AP)—A 25-year-old man was shot to death by a policeman last night as he was fleeing the Harlem apartment of his aunt whom he allegedly raped.

The dead man was identified as Eugene Billie, a Negro. He was shot as he was running down a fire escape from the apartment.

Police were called by Percy Warner, Billie's uncle, who said Billie had raped his wife.

Patrolman David Goldman ran to the apartment, heard Mrs. Warner screaming inside and knocked down the door. Billie at first tried to stab the officer, police said, and then fled down the fire escape. Goldman fired two shots, killing Billie.

50 Club Lists Events For Annual Field Day

Children's Program Scheduled July 3

The 50 Club has announced the program of events for its sixth annual children's field day, Sunday, July 3, at 1 p. m., at Block Park.

The city Recreation Department will assist in staging the track and field events. Yank Albrecht is the prize captain.

The program follows:

40 yard dash—5 years and under, girls and boys.

50 yard dash — 6-7-8 year group, boys and girls. 3-legged race, in same age groups.

50 yard dash—for 9-10-11 year olds, boys and girls; wheelbarrow race—9-10-11 years, boys and girls.

50 yard dash, three-legged race—both events for girls, 9-10-11.

100 yard dash, 50-yard dash, Yale lock race—for girls 12-13-14 years.

100 yard dash and football throw—for boys 15-16 years.

100 yard dash and rolling pin throw—for girls, 15-16.

Ex-Convict Is Held In Jewel Theft Try

New York, June 27 (AP)—Herman Gross, whose record shows he spent 22 of his 59 years in jail, is being held without bail for Grand Jury action in an attempted half million dollar jewel robbery.

Gross, of Brooklyn was arrested Saturday after allegedly bungling a hold-up in a jewelry shop on Madison ave. near 55th st. Another man who was with him escaped after dropping a pouch containing most of the gems.

POLICE SAID the two men got into the shop before it opened by pretending to have a package for delivery. Besides the pouch which Gross' companion allegedly dropped, police said $15,000 to $25,000 worth of loot was found on Gross.

Gross, who called himself a "three time loser," declined to answer questions at his arraignment yesterday. Under a state law, a person convicted of a fourth felony must be sent to prison for 20 years to life.

Looking over Gross' record of 16 arrests on various charges since 1909, magistrate Solomon commented: "You've really taken the law into your own hands mister."

2 Boys Buried Alive

New York, June 27 (AP)—Two boys were buried alive last night when the dirt wall of an excavation in a Queens housing project collapsed on them. Two others were pulled to safety before they sank into the wet earth. Police emergency and rescue units sped to the scene of the tragedy where a group of passersby, attracted by the screams of one of the boys, were digging with bare hands.

Hurley Youth Wins Tufts Scholarship

Rober A. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Nash of 5 Orchard street, Hurley, has been awarded a four-year scholarship at Tufts University, Medford, Mass., it was announced today.

Offered annually on a competitive basis to entering freshman, the scholarships range from $150 to $2,000 and this year include the first General Motors scholarship to be awarded at Tufts. A total of 61 entering freshman have been offered scholarships, it was said.

Mr. Nash, a graduate of Kingston High School, will enter the college of liberal arts in the fall.

Council Urges Probe of Charges About State Parks

Troy, June 27 (AP)—The Mohawk-Hudson Federation of Conservation Councils has urged that "an impartial committee" investigate charges of irregularities in central New York State parks.

The conservation group yesterday called for action on complaints filed by Edward Hanna of Utica, a member of the Central New York State Park Commission.

The state park council last Wednesday termed Hanna's statements "irresponsible" and "incoherent" and asked Gov. Harriman to fire Hanna from the unsalaried commission post.

LORELL E. COOK of Troy, president of the Mohawk-Hudson Federation, said in a statement that the charges were of "such serious nature that we feel the public is entitled to know the true facts."

He urged that "the charges be judiciously investigated by an impartial committee, so that proper action can be taken in the interest of the public.

The Federation represents conservation groups in about seven northeastern counties.

Hanna also has requested what he termed an "impartial" investigation.

HARRIMAN SAID Thursday that the senate had consented to his appointment of Hanna and that he could not fire the commissioner without senate consent. The governor said he did not intend to call the senate into special session to consider the controversy. He noted that Hanna's term on the commission would expire next Jan. 31.

Hanna had complained, among other things, that a golf professional employed by the state was permitted to operate an equipment shop and to give lessons for hire on state property. Parks officials replied that the practice was common.

Transit Strike Moves Into Second Week

Los Angeles, June 27 (AP)—The Los Angeles transit lines strike, affecting about a million riders, moved into its second week and police planned today to combat ever-increasing traffic problems in the downtown area.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcom called company and AFL union representatives into session with only slight hope of progress. He said he would welcome "any ideas to get the show back on the road."

The transit lines' offer of a 12-cent hourly raise within two years was defeated by union vote last Friday. Some 2,300 bus and streetcar operators are involved in the dispute. They want a 20-cent boost from the previous $1.91 per hour.

Their union is the AFL-Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America.

General Chase Retires

Taipei, Formosa, June 27 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William C. Chase leaves for home and retirement tomorrow after serving as chief of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) on Formosa since its activation four years ago. President and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek honored him tonight at a dinner climaxing a series of farewell parties. Newspaper editorials praised Chase for his part in building up the strength of the Nationalist armed forces. His successor is Maj. Gen. George W. Smythe.

Lombard Heads New York VFW

Saratoga Springs, June 27 (AP)—Joseph J. Lombard of New York city has been elected New York state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other officers elected Saturday at the concluding session of the 36th annual state convention were Daniel S. Brady of Watertown, senior vice commander; Joseph T. Gurno of Inwood, Juniar vice commander; Gabriel G. Hollander of New York city, quartermaster; Leonard Friedlander of Hudson, judge advocate; Dr. John Cathie of Alexander, surgeon; and the Rev. John L. Martin of Red Hook, chaplain.

No Collection, No People

Louisville, Ky., June 27 (AP)—Sam Gafford has a church and steeple but no people. The one-armed maintenance man built Pentecostal powerhouse himself although he isn't a preacher and has no congregation. Gafford, who mortgaged his home to pay for the $8,000 structure, started the project more than two years ago because he wanted a church free of the influence of money. "I've been in churches where they took as many as four and five collections," he explained. And, his wife added, "it got so all they wanted you to do was bring your pocketbook."

Financial Status Appears Strengthened for Business

Washington, June 27 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today business investment and borrowing accelerated rapidly in the first half of this year.

At the same time, the reserve board reported in its monthly bulletin that checking accounts of people and businesses are fatter than ever.

The reserve board said "the over all financial position of business . . . appears to have continued to strengthen in 1955."

During the first half of this year business borrowing — an index of general business activity —increased about one billion dollars, the reserve board reported.

Usually, the first half of any year sees a decline in business borrowing because of large seasonal repayments of loans.

LAST YEAR business loans contracted sharply in the first six months, reflecting both the seasonal trend and the general economic slump. During that 1954 period business loans declined by over 1¼ billion dollars.

Discussing improved business conditions this year, the board said:

"Corporate profits are estimated to have been at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 40 billion dollars in the first quarter of 1955, compared with 34½ billions a year earlier.

"Profits of large manufacturing companies were 40 per cent above those of the first three months of last year. Earnings of the larger railroads were substantially above the low levels of a year earlier."

IT ADDED that business developments suggested "aggregate corporate profits have continued to rise in the second quarter."

In its annual survey of ownership of demand deposits — checking accounts—the reserve board said these increased at commercial banks by an average of 4.6 per cent in the 12 months ended Jan. 31, 1955.

All major checking account owners, except farmers, participated in the growth of demand deposits, the board added. It said the largest rise on both dollar and percentage counts was in personal accounts which increased during the 12 months by $2,600,000,000 (B), or 9 per cent. Total business demand deposits rose 3 per cent, about twice the increase of the preceding year, but about the same as in the year which ended Jan. 31, 1953.

CHECKING accounts of farmers and incorporated farming enterprises declined by 2 per cent.

Boston 6.1, New York 4, Philadelphia 5.3, Cleveland 1.1, Richmond 5, Atlanta 4.6, Chicago 3.3, St. Louis 1.7, Minneapolis 4.1, Kansas City 3.8, Dallas 6.4 and San Francisco 9.9.

The reserve board said "the rapidly expanding" economy of the far west explained the marked increase in checking deposits in the San Francisco district — more than twice the national average rise.

Colonials Drop Second League Contest to Poughkeepsie, 6-3

Veteran Tulacz Checks Locals On Eight Hits

Davi Launches Hunt For More Local Talent

Manager Fred Davi of the Kingston Colonials is on the prowl for more talent for his New York-New Jersey Semi-Pro League entry which opens the local season next Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

The Colonial pilot saw Whitey Tulacz, ancient pitcher-manager of the Poughkeepsie club stop the Colonials, 6-3, on eight hits last night at Riverview Field and that was the clincher.

TULACZ, 40-PLUS and out of action for several years, checked the Colonials with single tallies in the fourth, fifth and eighth innings.

Clinton Gary, University of Connecticut southpaw, permitted only seven hits but the home club bunched them in the early frames to lead 6-1 at the end of four. Gary fanned nine batters but allowed eight walks.

Tulacz, always a control artist, walked only one man and whiffed four.

KINGSTON PICKED up its first run with two out in the fourth on Johnny McMann's single and Big Sal Misasi's triple to deep center. Misasi was out at the plate trying for an inside-the-park homer.

A two-base error by shortstop Bates and Gary's single accounted for a Kingston run in the fifth. The third local marker was the result of a two base boot by McKenna's grounder and Ed Appleby's single.

McMANN, the flashy Connecticut first sacker and cleanup hitter, had two of the Colonials' eight hits. Brown socked a pair of singles for the home tossers.

Davi announced this morning that he would conduct tryouts for the Colonial team at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday at Dietz Stadium, with a third session scheduled Friday at 6:30 p. m. All area baseball players are invited.

St. Joseph's rolled to its fourth straight CYO Baseball League victory, as Paul Giannuzzi stopped St. Colman's of East Kingston, 11-1, on five hits.

The St. Joseph's hurler walked four and fanned 11. The unbeaten winners collected 15 hits off Dom Parise who walked four and struck out seven.

GIANNUZZI was staked to a four-run lead in the first inning and that was more than he needed. Giannuzzi also helped his own cause with a pair of doubles and a single to pace St. Joe's at the plate.

Joe Modica hit a homer and single for the winners. Joe Pino and Jack Dawkins also had a brace of safeties and Frank Secreto whacked a double. Kish led East Kingston with two hits, including a double.

The teams meet again Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at the Athletic Field, with Frank Reis and Pete Tiano the probable starters.

Lo, the Gentle Zephyr

Hurricane Jackson Meets Jimmy Slade

By MURRAY ROSE
(The Associated Press)

Tommy Jackson, the heavyweight hurricane who blew himself out, will try and stir up a stiff breeze tonight in a return 10-rounder with Jimmy Slade, the ring "cutie" from New York.

It was Slade who halted Jackson's meteoric rise 14 months ago. The veteran 28-year old whipped the strapping, 23-year old Jackson in a 10-rounder. The defeat came after Jackson had soundly trounced Rex Layne, Clarence Henry and Dan Bucceroni and appeared headed for a shot at the title.

NINO VALDES further deflated Jackson by stopping "The Animal" in the second round three months later. Since then the 191-pound 6 2½ Jackson has won five straight over mediocre opposition. He is rated the fourth contender.

Slate, onetime conquerer of Don Cockell, is on the downgrade. He has lost four of his last five. This looks like a good spot for Jackson to gain revenge.

The bout at New York's St. Nicolas Arena will be telecast (Dumont-TV, 10 p. m., EDT).

LIGHTWEIGHT Champion Jimmy Carter is a 3-1 choice to retain his title Wednesday night in a 15-rounder with Cincinnati's Wallace (Bud) Smith at the Boston Garden Wednesday night. The bout will be broadcast and telecast (ABC TV and Radio, 9 p. m., EST) with New England blacked out of the TV.)

This is the 11th title fight for the 31-year-old New Yorker, only fighter to win a title three times. An in-and-outer, Carter was beaten in his last start by Orlando Zulueta on April 20. Smith, 26, was held to a 10-round draw by Johnny Gonsalves on Jan. 8, the challenger's most recent outing.

Carter outpointed Smith in a 10-rounder five years ago when both were begging for fights.

NEW ORLEANS features former light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim of Cleveland against Willie Pastrano, a home town boy, in a 10-rounder at the Municipal Auditorium Tuesday night. Maxim has been guaranteed $15,000 to test the Crescent City speed boy.

The Friday night radio-television fights are off the air on a regular weekly basis until the fall. There will be an occasional show, however. The next one is the July 22 middleweight tilt between Sugar Ray Robinson and Rocky Castellani at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

Shot by Policeman Fleeing Apartment

New York, June 27 (AP)—A 25-year-old man was shot to death by a policeman last night as he was fleeing the Harlem apartment of his aunt whom he allegedly raped.

The dead man was identified as Eugene Billie, a Negro. He was shot as he was running down a fire escape from the apartment.

Police were called by Percy Warner, Billie's uncle, who said Billie had raped his wife.

Patrolman David Goldman ran to the apartment, heard Mrs. Warner screaming inside and knocked down the door. Billie at first tried to stab the officer, police said, and then fled down the fire escape. Goldman fired two shots, killing Billie.

Torres Captures Putting Tourney

August Torres needed only 14 putts a nine to capture the putting tournament played Sunday at the Woodstock Country Club with a score of 28.

Frank X. McCahill had 15 putts on the front nine and 14 on the turn to finish second with 29.

Other leaders included Luther Russell 30, Harold Mellin 32, George Svirsky 32, Phil Coletti 34, Allen Elwyn 33, Walter Van Wagenen 35, Harmon Fischer 38, Leon Forst 37, Isidore Handler 35.

50 Club Lists Events For Annual Field Day

Children's Program Scheduled July 3

The 50 Club has announced the program of events for its sixth annual children's field day, Sunday, July 3, at 1 p. m., at Block Park.

The city Recreation Department will assist in staging the track and field events. Yank Albrecht is the prize captain.

The program follows:

40 yard dash—5 years and under, girls and boys.

50 yard dash — 6-7-8 year group, boys and girls, 3-legged race, in same age groups.

50 yard dash—for 9-10-11 year olds, boys and girls; wheelbarrow race—9-10-11 years, boys and girls.

50 yard dash, three-legged race—both events for girls, 9-10-11.

100 yard dash, 50-yard dash, Yale lock race—for girls 12-13-14 years.

100 yard dash and football throw—for boys 15-16 years.

100 yard dash and rolling pin throw—for girls, 15-16.

Ex-Convict Is Held In Jewel Theft Try

New York, June 27 (AP)—Herman Gross, whose record shows he spent 22 of his 59 years in jail, is being held without bail for Grand Jury action in an attempted half million dollar jewel robbery.

Gross, of Brooklyn was arrested Saturday after allegedly bungling a hold-up in a jewelry shop on Madison ave. near 55th st. Another man who was with him escaped after dropping a pouch containing most of the gems.

POLICE SAID the two men got into the shop before it opened by pretending to have a package for delivery. Besides the pouch which Gross' companion allegedly dropped, police said $15,000 to $25,000 worth of loot was found on Gross.

Gross, who called himself a "three time loser," declined to answer questions at his arraignment yesterday. Under a state law, a person convicted of a fourth felony must be sent to prison for 20 years to life.

Looking over Gross' record of 16 arrests on various charges since 1909, magistrate Solomon commented: "You've really taken the law into your own hands mister."

2 Boys Buried Alive

New York, June 27 (AP)—Two boys were buried alive last night when the dirt wall of an excavation in a Queens housing project collapsed on them. Two others were pulled to safety before they sank into the wet earth. Police emergency and rescue units sped to the scene of the tragedy where a group of passersby, attracted by the screams of one of the boys, were digging with bare hands.

Hurley Youth Wins Tufts Scholarship

Rober A. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Nash of 5 Orchard street, Hurley, has been awarded a four-year scholarship at Tufts University, Medford, Mass., it was announced today.

Offered annually on a competitive basis to entering freshman, the scholarships range from $150 to $2,000 and this year include the first General Motors scholarship to be awarded at Tufts. A total of 61 entering freshman have been offered scholarships, it was said.

Mr. Nash, a graduate of Kingston High School, will enter the college of liberal arts in the fall.

Council Urges Probe of Charges About State Parks

Troy, June 27 (AP)—The Mohawk-Hudson Federation of Conservation Councils has urged that "an impartial committee" investigate charges of irregularities in central New York State parks.

The conservation group yesterday called for action on complaints filed by Edward Hanna of Utica, a member of the Central New York State Park Commission.

The state park council last Wednesday termed Hanna's statements "irresponsible" and "incoherent" and asked Gov. Harriman to fire Hanna from the unsalaried commission post.

LORELL E. COOK of Troy, president of the Mohawk-Hudson Federation, said in a statement that the charges were of "such serious nature that we feel the public is entitled to know the true facts."

He urged that "the charges be judiciously investigated by an impartial committee, so that proper action can be taken in the interest of the public.

The Federation represents conservation groups in about seven northeastern counties.

Hanna also has requested what he termed an "impartial" investigation.

HARRIMAN SAID Thursday that the senate had consented to his appointment of Hanna and that he could not fire the commissioner without senate consent. The governor said he did not intend to call the senate into special session to consider the controversy. He noted that Hanna's term on the commission would expire next Jan. 31.

Hanna had complained, among other things, that a golf professional employed by the state was permitted to operate an equipment shop and to give lessons for hire on state property. Parks officials replied that the practice was common.

Financial Status Appears Strengthened for Business

Washington, June 27 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today business investment and borrowing accelerated rapidly in the first half of this year.

At the same time, the reserve board reported in its monthly bulletin that checking accounts of people and businesses are fatter than ever.

The reserve board said "the over all financial position of business . . . appears to have continued to strengthen in 1955."

During the first half of this year business borrowing — an index of general business activity —increased about one billion dollars, the reserve board reported.

Usually, the first half of any year sees a decline in business borrowing because of large seasonal repayments of loans.

LAST YEAR business loans contracted sharply in the first six months, reflecting both the seasonal trend and the general economic slump. During that 1954 period business loans declined by over 1¼ billion dollars.

Discussing improved business conditions this year, the board said:

"Corporate profits are estimated to have been at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 40 billion dollars in the first quarter of 1955, compared with 34½ billions a year earlier.

"Profits of large manufacturing companies were 40 per cent above those of the first three months of last year. Earnings of the larger railroads were substantially above the low levels of a year earlier."

IT ADDED that business developments suggested "aggregate corporate profits have continued to rise in the second quarter."

In its annual survey of ownership of demand deposits — checking accounts—the reserve board said these increased at commercial banks by an average of 4.6 per cent in the 12 months ended Jan. 31, 1955.

All major checking account owners, except farmers, participated in the growth of demand deposits, the board added. It said the largest rise on both dollar and percentage counts was in personal accounts which increased during the 12 months by $2,600,000,000 (B), or 9 per cent. Total business demand deposits rose 3 per cent, about twice the increase of the preceding year, but about the same as in the year which ended Jan. 31, 1953.

CHECKING accounts of farmers and incorporated farming enterprises declined by 2 per cent.

The reserve board gave the following percentage changes for demand deposits during the year which ended Jan. 31, 1955, in the 12 federal reserve districts:

Boston 6.1, New York 4, Philadelphia 5.3, Cleveland 1.1, Richmond 5, Atlanta 4.6, Chicago 3.3, St. Louis 1.7, Minneapolis 4.1, Kansas City 3.8, Dallas 6.4 and San Francisco 9.9.

The reserve board said "the rapidly expanding" economy of the far west explained the marked increase in checking deposits in the San Francisco district — more than twice the national average rise.

Transit Strike Moves Into Second Week

Los Angeles, June 27 (AP)—The Los Angeles transit lines strike, affecting about a million riders, moved into its second week and police planned today to combat ever-increasing traffic problems in the downtown area.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcom called company and AFL union representatives into session with only slight hope of progress. He said he would welcome "any ideas to get the show back on the road."

The transit lines' offer of a 12-cent hourly raise within two years was defeated by union vote last Friday. Some 2,300 bus and streetcar operators are involved in the dispute. They want a 20-cent boost from the previous $1.91 per hour.

Their union is the AFL-Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America.

General Chase Retires

Taipei, Formosa, June 27 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William C. Chase leaves for home and retirement tomorrow after serving as chief of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) on Formosa since its activation four years ago. President and Mme. Chiang Kai-shek honored him tonight at a dinner climaxing a series of farewell parties. Newspaper editorials praised Chase for his part in building up the strength of the Nationalist armed forces. His successor is Maj. Gen. George W. Smythe.

Lombard Heads New York VFW

Saratoga Springs, June 27 (AP)—Joseph J. Lombard of New York city has been elected New York state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Other officers elected Saturday at the concluding session of the 36th annual state convention were Daniel S. Brady of Watertown, senior vice commander; Joseph T. Gurno of Inwood, Junior vice commander; Gabriel G. Hollander of New York city, quartermaster; Leonard Friedlander of Hudson, judge advocate; Dr. John Cathie of Alexander, surgeon; and the Rev. John L. Martin of Red Hook, chaplain.

No Collection, No People

Louisville, Ky., June 27 (AP)—Sam Gafford has a church and steeple but no people. The one-armed maintenance man built Pentecostal powerhouse himself although he isn't a preacher and has no congregation. Gafford, who mortgaged his home to pay for the $8,000 structure, started the project more than two years ago because he wanted a church free of the influence of money. "I've been in churches where they took as many as four and five collections," he explained. And, his wife added, "it got so all they wanted you to do was bring your pocketbook."

There are more than 7,000 miles of tunnels and drifts underlying the area of Butte, Mont.

Bone Fragment Mends Youth's Leg

Chicago, June 27 (AP) — A dirty 3-inch piece of bone found 100 feet from an accident scene may enable Harold Walat, 19, to recover completely from a severe leg injury in a motorcycle-truck collision.

A policeman found the bone and it was taken to a hospital along with Walat. Doctors identified it as a fragment of the youth's left tibia, cleaned it, and replaced it in Walat's leg.

Today, five days after the accident, doctors said Walat's leg is mending well. Had not the bone fragment been found, they said, the leg might have been shortened or Walat would have faced on expensive bone graft.

Veterans Dental Care Now Under Permanent Law

Dental outpatient care for veterans, previously provided on a year to year basis under Congressional appropriations, now will be provided under permanent legislation signed by the president yesterday.

F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street, Kingston, said the new law continues all present conditions for outpatient dental care except one.

THE LONE CHANGE in the new law removes the time limitation previously required of two groups of wartime or Korean veterans applying for treatment: (1) those whose service-connected noncompensable dental conditions or disabilities resulted from combat wounds or service injuries, and (2) former prisoners of war with service-connected non-compensable dental conditions or disabilities.

In the past these two groups of veterans had to apply for treatment within one year after the discharge or separation from active service or by December 31, 1954, whichever was later. Under the new law, they may apply at any time. Unchanged by the new law as eligible for outpatient dental care are the following groups of wartime veterans:

1. Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service-connected and compensable in degree—that is, serious enough to rate 10 per cent or more VA compensations — no time limit for applying and no limitation on the number of treatments furnished for these conditions or disabilities.

2. Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service connected, but not to a compensable degree, which are shown to have been in existence at time of discharge or release from active service. These veterans must apply to VA for outpatient dental care within one year after discharge or release from active service. They may receive treatment only on a onetime completion basis, unless the treatment is found by VA to be unacceptable within the limitations of good professional standards.

3. Those having nonservice connected dental conditions or disabilities which are found by VA to be directly related to and aggravation a service connected condition or disability—no time limit for applying and no limitation on number of dental treatments furnished.

4. Veterans of the Spanish-American War, including the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine Insurrection—no time limit for applying and no limitation on number of dental treatments furnished.

5. Disabled veterans of World War 2 and of the Korean conflict period who are training under the vocational rehabilitation acts (Public Law 16 and 894) who need dental treatment in order to prevent interruption of their training. Peacetime veterans, to be eligible for outpatient dental care, must meet the applicable requirements for the foregoing groups and, in addition must have been discharged for a disability incurred in line of duty in active service or are receiving VA compensation for a service connected disability. If further information is desired you may contact W. William Sheehan, Officer in Charge, Veterans Administration 286 Fair street, Kingston.

Two Barns Burn Near Vernon Downs

Vernon, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Two one-story frame barns at a livestock exchange near the Vernon Downs harness track were wrecked by fire yesterday but no horses were lost.

Grooms led one horse from a burning building and six others from two adjoining barns that did not catch fire. One groom was overcome by smoke but recovered.

The exchange is owned by C. H. Burton. He estimated damage at $8,000.

Fire Chief Ralph A. Wingard said the fire may have been started by children.

Mundt Sees No Issues Created By Democrats

Washington, June 27 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today Democrats in Congress are supporting so much of the Eisenhower program that "they may lack issues for next year's elections."

Mundt said he has enjoyed "this very congenial session, and I'm not critical of majority leader Johnson (D-Tex). He's my friend and has done a good job." Mundt added in an interview:

"But the Democrats have not created any major issues nor solidified any opposition groups to aid their presidential candidate next time.

"Their presidential candidate will have to brew his own campaign issues."

Mole Removal Operation

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK. In the Matter of GRACE N. SCHREIBER, d/b/a KINGSTON HOUSE OF FLOWERS, Bankrupt. Bankruptcy #91010

On reading and filing the petition of GUIDO J. NAPOLETANO, the Trustee herein, verified June 7, 1955, and on all the proceedings heretofore had herein from which it appears that Grace N. Schreiber, d/b/a Kingston House of Flowers, was at the time of the filing of the petition for adjudication herein the owner of certain personal property consisting of a cash register, counters, typewriter, adding machine, stands, show case, chairs, vases and various small items used by the bankrupt in connection with her business as retail florist as more specifically set forth in the inventory annexed to the said petition, and that one, Julia Nelson, has offered to purchase all the right, title and interest of the bankrupt from the Trustee herein for the sum of $200, it is ORDERED that all persons interested as creditors of Grace N. Schreiber, d/b/a Kingston House of Flowers, Bankrupt show cause before the Honorable Normington Schofield, Referee in Bankruptcy, at his office, 475 Main Street, Beacon, N. Y. on the 28th day of June, 1955 at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, why the offer of Julia Nelson to pay the Trustee herein the sum of $200 for all the right, title and interest of the said bankrupt in and to the said articles of personal property, hereinbefore enumerated and more specifically described in said inventory, should not be accepted, or the offer of any person appearing at said time and place and making a higher offer should not be accepted.

Dated: June 9, 1955.

May Ban Private Cars

New York, June 27 (AP)—Chief City Magistrate John Murtagh says traffic-choked sections of New York city may eventually be banned to private automobiles. In a radio broadcast (WNYC, Campus Press Conference) yesterday Murtagh said many restrictions have already been placed on private cars in the midtown area and the "trend" could lead to eliminating them entirely.

Bone Fragment Mends Youth's Leg

Chicago, June 27 (AP) — A dirty 3-inch piece of bone found 100 feet from an accident scene may enable Harold Walat, 19, to recover completely from a severe leg injury in a motorcycle-truck collision.

A policeman found the bone and it was taken to a hospital along with Walat. Doctors identified it as a fragment of the youth's left tibia, cleaned it, and replaced it in Walat's leg.

Today, five days after the accident, doctors said Walat's leg is mending well. Had not the bone fragment been found, they said, the leg might have been shortened or Walat would have faced on expensive bone graft.

Veterans Dental Care Now Under Permanent Law

Dental outpatient care for veterans, previously provided on a year to year basis under Congressional appropriations, now will be provided under permanent legislation signed by the president yesterday.

F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration contact office, 286 Fair street, Kingston, said the new law continues all present conditions for outpatient dental care except one.

THE LONE CHANGE in the new law removes the time limitation previously required of two groups of wartime or Korean veterans applying for treatment: (1) those whose service-connected noncompensable dental conditions or disabilities resulted from combat wounds or service injuries, and (2) former prisoners of war with service-connected non-compensable dental conditions or disabilities.

In the past these two groups of veterans had to apply for treatment within one year after the discharge or separation from active service or by December 31, 1954, whichever was later. Under the new law, they may apply at any time. Unchanged by the new law as eligible for outpatient dental care are the following groups of wartime veterans:

1. Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service-connected and compensable in degree—that is, serious enough to rate 10 per cent or more VA compensations — no time limit for applying and no limitation on the number of treatments furnished for these conditions or disabilities.

2. Those whose dental conditions or disabilities are service connected, but not to a compensable degree, which are shown to have been in existence at time of discharge or release from active service. These veterans must apply to VA for outpatient dental care within one year after discharge or release from active service. They may receive treatment only on a onetime completion basis, unless the treatment is found by VA to be unacceptable within the limitations of good professional standards.

3. Those having nonservice connected dental conditions or disabilities which are found by VA to be directly related to and aggravation a service connected condition or disability—no time limit for applying and no limitation on number of dental treatments furnished.

4. Veterans of the Spanish-American War, including the Boxer Rebellion and the Philippine Insurrection—no time limit for applying and no limitation on number of dental treatments furnished.

5. Disabled veterans of World War 2 and of the Korean conflict period who are training under the vocational rehabilitation acts (Public Law 16 and 894) who need dental treatment in order to prevent interruption of their training. Peacetime veterans, to be eligible for outpatient dental care, must meet the applicable requirements for the foregoing groups and, in addition must have been discharged for a disability incurred in line of duty in active service or are receiving VA compensation for a service connected disability. If further information is desired you may contact W. William Sheehan, Officer in Charge, Veterans Administration 286 Fair street, Kingston.

Two Barns Burn Near Vernon Downs

Vernon, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Two one-story frame barns at a livestock exchange near the Vernon Downs harness track were wrecked by fire yesterday but no horses were lost.

Grooms led one horse from a burning building and six others from two adjoining barns that did not catch fire. One groom was overcome by smoke but recovered.

The exchange is owned by C. H. Burton. He estimated damage at $8,000.

Fire Chief Ralph A. Wingard said the fire may have been started by children.

Mundt Sees No Issues Created By Democrats

Washington, June 27 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today Democrats in Congress are supporting so much of the Eisenhower program that "they may lack issues for next year's elections."

Mundt said he has enjoyed "this very congenial session, and I'm not critical of majority leader Johnson (D-Tex). He's my friend and has done a good job." Mundt added in an interview:

"But the Democrats have not created any major issues nor solidified any opposition groups to aid their presidential candidate next time.

Mole Removal Operation

May Ban Private Cars

New York, June 27 (AP)—Chief City Magistrate John Murtagh says traffic-choked sections of New York city may eventually be banned to private automobiles. In a radio broadcast (WNYC, Campus Press Conference) yesterday Murtagh said many restrictions have already been placed on private cars in the midtown area and the "trend" could lead to eliminating them entirely.

Lutherans Cited For Deeper Peace

San Francisco, June 27 (AP)—There is a deeper peace than that the members of United Nations strive for, a diplomat from Lebanon told 7,000 delegates at the closing session of the Young People's Luther League Convention yesterday.

"Only as a man knows that there is a devil and that he was defeated on the Cross can he know the peace of God, which is a deeper peace than that for which we strive at the United Nations," said Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanon's U. N. representative.

"The peace of man is only an image of the peace of God and therefore in serving the world, let us be sure that we do not lose ourselves in it."

Malik was an unscheduled visitor at the Young People's 16th biennial convention, attended by Luther Leaguers from all over tthe United States, Canada, and other countries.

Build a FIREPLACE That Warms All the Room

THE HEATILATOR FIREPLACE actually saves and circulates the extra heat that ordinary fireplaces waste up the chimney. It is a hollow steel form around which the masonry is easily laid. Cool air is drawn from floor level, heated and returned to every corner of the room.

The Heatilator Fireplace is a correctly designed steel form around which any style fireplace can be built with greater ease and accuracy. By eliminating usual construction faults, this scientific unit prevents smoking. Surveys show that over half the old-type fireplaces smoke. Build around the Heatilator and be sure of success. Stop in and see the Heatilator, or phone for big folder and prices.

Lutherans Cited For Deeper Peace

San Francisco, June 27 (AP)—There is a deeper peace than that the members of United Nations strive for, a diplomat from Lebanon told 7,000 delegates at the closing session of the Young People's Luther League Convention yesterday.

"Only as a man knows that there is a devil and that he was defeated on the Cross can he know the peace of God, which is a deeper peace than that for which we strive at the United Nations," said Dr. Charles Malik, Lebanon's U. N. representative.

"The peace of man is only an image of the peace of God and therefore in serving the world, let us be sure that we do not lose ourselves in it."

Malik was an unscheduled visitor at the Young People's 16th biennial convention, attended by Luther Leaguers from all over tthe United States, Canada, and other countries.

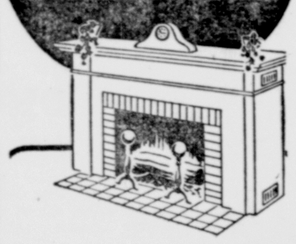
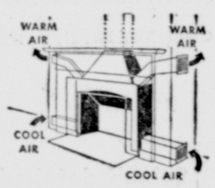
Build a FIREPLACE That Warms All the Room



THE HEATILATOR FIREPLACE actually saves and circulates the extra heat that ordinary fireplaces waste up the chimney. It is a hollow steel form around which the masonry is easily laid. Cool air is drawn from floor level, heated and returned to every corner of the room.



The Heatilator Fireplace is a correctly designed steel form around which any style fireplace can be built with greater ease and accuracy. By eliminating usual construction faults, this scientific unit prevents smoking. Surveys show that over half the old-type fireplaces smoke. Build around the Heatilator and be sure of success. Stop in and see the Heatilator, or phone for big folder and prices.
